Franklin middle school musical set Monday

roamed the streets of Manhattan Island searching for a means of support. It is for this reason New York City was selected as the setting for this production.

"While conditions surrounding the abandonment of our turn of the century castaways may not be indicative of modern society, the problem of homelessness is still very much with us. Hopefully the emotions and conditions depicted in this musical will promote a higher level of sensitivity to this appalling problem."

The choral musical involves students participating in the Eighth, Seventh and Sixth grade chorus under the direction of Marcia M. Knutila.

The cast in "The Castaways" include the following: Bridgette Stock as Ms. Davis, Aaron Lendobeja as Bob, Yvonne Asp as Cathy, Naomi Olson as Courtney, Reid Breitenfeldt as Greg, Jessica Bell, Teddy Perfecto as Butch, Marisa Holmstrom as Dottie, Bailey Nordin as Felix, Todd Christenson as Tiles, Karen Christensen as Kate, Josh Olson as Monk, Taryn Pream as Peg, Katie Christensen as Willie, Leif Spears as Schultz, Adam Quesnell as O'Toole, Garrett Novak as O'Reilly, Becky Wegner as Mama Rosa Vitale, Josh Jensen as Mr. Vitale, Anders Brown as Mr. Grimsby, Bethany Nelson as Ms. Barnaby, and Jarrod Peterson as Slippery Sam Slattery. Scene I extras include: Jill Panek, Bryan Bolstad, Amanda Bitzegaio, Rachel Mathison, Kristin Naplin, Katie Jorde, Kim Almquist, Luke Erickson, and Chenni Jasper. Scene IV extras include: Heidi Paulson, Jenni Jasper, Amanda Bitzegaio, Rachel Mathison, Jill Panek, Kristin Naplin, Kim Almquist, Deidre Dally, Paul Leisler, Bryan Bolstad, Katie Jorde, Luke Erickson, Brian Loe, Scott Rainbeck, and Dayna Holland.

Fishermen took advantage of one of this spring's few relatively warm and sunny evenings Thursday to try their luck on the Thief River above the Eighth Street bridge. In addition to the boaters, a number of people were fishing from the popular spots along the bank above and below the bridge. A couple of days without rain also allowed many area farmers to get into their fields to prepare seedbeds or begin grain planting.

Yes, we have no bananas.
. . .but we do have many other unusual plants for your garden.
The Marine Heliotrope is a native of Peru. Its huge dark blue flower heads emit a fragrance that brings to mind freshly baked cherry pie.
Purple Wave Petunia, an All-American Selection developed in Japan, spreads along the ground to a width of as much as four feet, and blooms all along the stems.
Victorian Pansy produces eye-catching old fashioned ruffled blooms. The Black Crystals pansy actually produces deep black blooms.
A spectacular addition to the old-fashioned garden is Nemesia which hold their multi-colored blossoms in clusters on top of sturdy stems, and are great for bouquets.
Ground Cherries produce tiny yellow tomatos in lantern-shaped husks. When the husk turns brown and papery and falls on the ground, the fruit is ripe and sweet as candy.
Top Yield Watermelon, another introduction from Japan, produces large sweet melons even in our short growing season.
Some new varieties of tomatoes are Northern Exposure, Super Bush, and Sausalito. We also have the old favorites like Better Boy, Early Girl, Sweet 100 and many others.
Bergeson's carries all of the old favorite flower and vegetable varieties as well. Because we grow our plants in pure peat in cool greenhouses with plenty of space, our plants are stout, stocky, and dark green. Bring a diagram or a picture, and we will help you design your beds.
Stop by for old-fashioned egg coffee and homemade donuts Monday through Saturday all during May. Plan to spend a few hours looking around.

RED LAKE BAND
RED LAKE DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

AGENCY: Red Lake Department of Natural Resources, Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians

ACTION: Notice of Intent and Public Scoping Meeting

SUMMARY: This notice advises the public that the Red Lake Department of Natural Resources, with the cooperation of the Roads department of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and Pennington County Minnesota, intends to gather information necessary for preparing an Environmental Assessment Document for the River Road Phase III Realignment Project located on the Red Lake Reservation and in Pennington County, Minnesota. A description of the proposed project, location, and environmental consideration to be addressed in the EA are provided below (see supplemental information). In addition to this notice, a public meeting regarding the project and the preparation of the EA will be held.

This notice is to be published in accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) regulations found in 40 CFR, 1501.7. The purpose of the notice is to obtain suggestions and other information from other agencies and the public on the scope of issues to be addressed in the EA. Comments and participation in this scoping process are encouraged.

DATES: Comments should be received by June 2, 1995. A public meeting will be held at the Hickory Town Hall, Hickory Township, Pennington County, Minnesota on May 30, 1995 at 10:00 AM.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be addressed to Chuck Meyer, Wetland Specialist, Red Lake Department of Natural Resources, PO Box 279, Red Lake, Minnesota 56671.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Chuck Meyer, Wetland Specialist, Red Lake Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 279, Red Lake, Minnesota 56671, telephone (218) 679-3950, Fax (218) 679-2830.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION: The River Road Phase III Realignment Project involves the upgrade of approximately 1.1 miles of the existing alignment of BIA Route 10 (otherwise known as River Road) along with construction of approximately three miles of new alignment on the Red Lake Reservation and in Pennington County. The purpose of this project is to improve traffic flow and promote public safety on the River Road. The realignment is designed to bypass a series of sharp turns in the existing River Road alignment, and to provide a direct tie in to Pennington County Road 56 resulting in safer and more direct ingress and egress of the western border of the Red Lake Reservation.

Quality Core Dense Shell

Make bales which resist moisture while soft interior promotes curing.

- Fixed chamber design creates a bale with a soft interior which promotes curing. Dense shell-like exterior helps bale resist moisture and keep its shape longer.
- Compaction within the fixed chamber creates a dense shell around the high quality interior.
- Big, open throat design lets you start bales easily without plugging.
- Wide, endless belts handle material carefully. More nutrient-rich material makes it to the bale.
- Three models available:

Model	Bale
4844	4' x 4'
4845	4' x 5'
4865	6' x 5'

- Carry over models with special prices on hand.

[illegible] Curt [illegible] five [illegible] machinist.

[illegible] Mayo [illegible] the [illegible] which is Welltek [illegible].

[illegible] this unit is Mike [illegible]. Mike originally from [illegible] was attending [illegible] State University when he started [illegible] lessons. After [illegible] BSU, he decided to attend technical college in Thief River Falls for aviation mechanics. He worked for 10 years at Arctic [illegible] in research and development and as a project engineer and later worked for four years in [illegible] manufacturer.

In 19[illegible], Mike began working in Grygla at Max Corporation. When he started there eleven years ago, the company was small, so Mike did a little of everything. After the company grew, Mike became the vice president of manufacturing and engineering where he was in charge of developing new products. After much persuasion on Terry's part, Mike left Max Corporation and became a partner in Welltek.

Looking toward the future

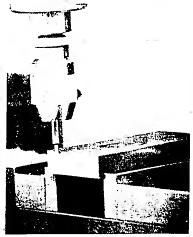
Right now Welltek is basically a machine shop for Polaris, manufacturing fixtures and tools for the plant in Roseau. They are so busy that they really don't have time to solicit other business. In fact, they are so busy that they need to build a new shop. They are looking to build in an area of Grygla that has been designated for industry. Before they can start building, the city still has some improvements to make on the roads in Grygla's industrial area. The company hopes to have their new plant by January 1, 1996.

Once they have more space, they will also need people to work in it. Wells says that they would like to hire five more skilled machinists by next year. Work is not slowing down for the company, and it is not expected to slow.

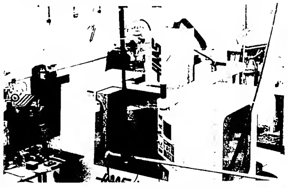
One new piece of equipment that is already speeding things up for Welltek is the Computerized Numerical Control (CNC). This high-tech machine allows the machinist to design and produce tools at two to ten times the current rate using standard equipment.

Welltek currently receives Polaris blueprints and descriptions of what they need built. However, once the new building is finished and they have more machinists, Terry hopes to work on a product line of their own and acquire more customers.

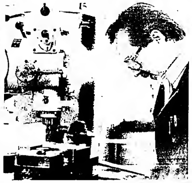
OUR ADVERTISERS SAVE YOU MONEY!



The partners at Welltek stressed the fact that they don't make snowmobile parts, they make the fixtures that hold the parts in place during assembly and the tools that aid in their assembly.



Business is booming at Welltek Engineering Inc. of rural Grygla. The large HAAS is the newest addition to the Welltek shop. It is a Computerized Numerical Control machining center, which can cut production time in half. The company also hopes to construct a new building and hire five more workers by next year.



Welltek partner Mike McKeever went to school for aviation engineering and says he "learned machining along the way."

Jeremy Nordby joins U.S. Army

Jeremy R. Nordby, son of Roy and Joy Nordby of Grygla, has joined the United States Army under the Delayed Enlistment program. The Delayed Enlistment program gives young men or women the opportunity to delay enlistment into the Army for up to one year so they can finish their studies before reporting to basic military training.

Nordby, a 1991 graduate of Grygla high school, will report to Ft. Leonard E. Wood, Waynesville, MO, in August 1995 to begin military basic training.

He is qualified to receive $2,000 in an enlistment bonus.

First responders

Wannaska — Volunteers from the Wannaska area recently formed a first group. The head of the EMS unit at the Roseau Area Hospital is training the members of Wannaska First Responder.

First responders are not EMT's, but they can administer first aid and get vital information from the patients and assess their present status. Wannaska is 15 miles from the hospital, so first responders are important because they are near-by and can administer initial first aid before the ambulance arrives.

Annual Laura's Run

Hallock — The Kittson Unit of American Cancer Society has announced that the 14th annual Laura's Run will be held June 17. The 10K race will start at 7 a.m. and the 2 mile walk/run at 8 a.m.

The event is dedicated to the memory of Laura Nordling who died from cancer at the age of 19. Proceeds are used in the search to find a cure for cancer.

Pinwheels in memory or in honor of loved ones will be displayed on a float at the race.

Detention center

Red Lake Falls — The proposed new $1.2 million juvenile detention center in Crookston shouldn't cost Red Lake county much money, according to Tri-County Community Corrections which serves Red Lake, Polk and Norman counties. Much of the money would be generated from the extra beds.

The current center has a lack of beds and had to turn away three to five youths every week last year. The additional beds would allow more juveniles to stay at the center. Tri-County makes about $100,000 a year per diem from housing youths and believes more beds would produce more money.

The Multi-County Housing Authority and the Minnesota Department of Corrections will also work with Tri-County on the project.

A trip to the Cities for the students

Grygla — The sixth grade class at Grygla took a trip to the Twin Cities and following their return home, wrote about it in the newspaper.

The students visited the Science Museum and saw a movie in the Omni Theater. While in St. Paul, the students also visited the World Trade Center, and the State Capitol where they visited with Representative Tunheim.

Other stops along the way included the governor's reception room, Fort Snelling and the airport.

Sheep Days June 9 and 10

Greenbush — Greenbush's 57th annual Sheep Days will be held June 9 and 10 at the Sheep Palace.

The two-day event will include a fitting, showing and judging workshop, a judging contest, a breeder show, a shearing contest, a cookoff, and a buffet dinner.

People are "shear" to "flock" to the event.

Farmland prices in NW Minnesota a mixed bag

University of Minnesota's Extension Service recently reported a 20 per cent drop in the average price of an acre of farmland in northwest Minnesota. While that figure is accurate, there's much more to the story.

"Like any region of Minnesota, the quality and value of agricultural land in the northwest area is very diverse," says Steve Taff of the university's department of agricultural applied economics. "The fact that the average price dropped for the whole region is simply the result of a mathematical equation. Individual land sale experiences can be very different."

Further analysis of the data on which Taff's statewide study is based has uncovered several explanations for the region-wide decrease.

Using soil type maps to distinguish between more valuable farmland in the Red River Valley and less-valuable acreage outside the Valley, Taff placed the northwest region's agricultural land transactions into two categories: those involving land in the Valley and those involving land outside the Valley. The result, to quote economist jargon, was a bipolar distribution.

"In other words," Taff says, "there were a lot of transactions grouped at the low end of the price per-acre scale and a smaller group of transactions at the high end. Consequently, the overall average was dragged down by the larger number of transactions at lower prices." The lower price group was from the non-Valley area.

In 1993, there were 37 transactions involving 5,072 acres of farmland in the Valley. On average, these parcels were sold at $91 per acre. In 1994 there were 50 transactions involving 6,910 acres of farmland in the Valley. On average, these parcels were sold at $788 per acre.

Land sale transactions outside the Red River Valley shaped up this way: 1993 saw 42 transactions involving 5,539 acres selling at an average price of $358 per acre. 1994 saw 103 transactions involving 18,635 acres selling at $351 per acre.

Taff says the small declines in average sale prices in these two sub-regions are overshadowed by the three-fold increase in total acreage sold outside the Valley.

"The decline in farmland prices in the Valley," Taff says, "shows up only when 1994 is compared to 1993. If you look at a graph of average land prices in the Valley over the past decade, you see a consistent trend of slow improve-

Crossroads receives grant

Crossroads Displaced Homemaker Program in Thief River Falls received $19,500 from the Otto Bremer Foundation during its last foundation meeting. In Minnesota, 22 non-profit organizations received $281,825 from the foundation.

"We're pleased to hear that Crossroads has been awarded a grant from the Otto Bremer Foundation to serve Low Income Women in Transition. With this award, we can extend our program to serve women who wouldn't otherwise qualify for our program under the eligibility guidelines for a displaced homemaker as defined by the Minnesota Department of Economic Security," said Sue Dupree, director of Crossroads in Thief River Falls.

"We expect to serve a cross section of low income families such as single parents on public assistance, single pregnant women, never married parents living single, middle age single women, married women whose spouse is unemployed but not disabled, and rural farm women who need to supplement the farm income. This grant allows us to serve 20 clients and their families each year for three years. Bremer clients can partake of all the same services that we offer to Displaced Homemakers who are in transition and are working toward economic independence," said Dupree.

Dupree added, "With the help of the Otto Bremer Foundation, the staff here at Crossroads can make an impact in the lives of low income women and their children by helping them become economically self-sufficient."

DEDICATED TO THOSE WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES IN ALL WARS. BY MEMBERS OF THE VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS POST 2793 THIEF RIVER FALLS MINNESOTA
NOVEMBER 11, 1989

Memorial Day services Monday, May 29 at 11 a.m. will be held at Greenwood Cemetery in Thief River Falls. The former Friendship Gardens at the tourist park along Oakland Park Road has been dismantled and the memorial monument pictured above has been moved from the Friendship Gardens area to Greenwood Cemetery. Monday's service will be held at this monument site, weather permitting. In the event of rain, services will be moved to the American Legion club rooms. A lunch will be served at the club rooms following the service. Guest speaker for the services, co-sponsored by Post 117 of the American legion and Post 2793 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be Gordon Ekberg of Herman.

State to begin construction on projects in area

Several road improvement projects in the area will be soon underway. Minnesota department of transportation has released a map of construction projects in the area.

Minnesota department of transportation is asking motorists to use caution and be patient as there will be delays or detours. "While these projects may, in the short-term, inconvenience motorists, bicyclists and pedestrians, once completed, the projects provide long-term benefits to citizens and communities," said James N. Denn, commissioner. "Mn/DOT needs your involvement. Please slow down, be aware and use caution as you travel through work zones."

Six of the 75 projects identified by the Minnesota department of transportation will be in this region. Projects include: construction on Highway 75 between Warren and Stephen; construction on Highway 59 from Newfolden to Karlstad; construction on Highway 32 from Thief River Falls to Middle River; construction on Highway 32 from Red Lake Falls to St. Hilaire; construction on Highway 75 north of Kennedy; and construction on highway 2 from Crookston to one mile east of Highway 9.

To help travelers plan their journeys this year, Mn/DOT is offering the Spring/Summer 1995 Get Around Guide. The guide provides maps and information about projects statewide that may result in detours or delays. The brochure also lists phone numbers that travelers may call to get more information about specific projects.

The guide is available free at Travel Information Centers, Mn/DOT district offices and many Chamber of Commerce offices throughout the state. Travelers may also obtain copies by calling the Transportation Information Center at (612) 296-3000 or (800) 657-3774.

County given loan funds to curb pollution

Pennington is one of 45 counties in Minnesota which will be able to make low-interest loans to farmers and rural landowners for projects that prevent or mitigate nonpoint source pollution through a new program administered by the Minnesota Department of Agriculture.

Fifty counties made requests for more than $31 million in water quality improvement projects under the loan program to make state revolving fund dollars available for nonpoint source pollution projects. Only $10 million is available for 1995 allocation, so a committee reviewed and ranked applications.

The loan allocations will enable counties and soil and water conservation districts, through private local lenders, to make loans to individual farmers for conservation practices. Interest rates on these loans will not exceed three per cent. Eligible practices include animal waste management equipment and structures, erosion control practices, abandoned well sealing, conservation tillage equipment, septic systems and other agriculture best management practices that prevent or mitigate nonpoint source pollution.

Other counties in northwest Minnesota receiving loan funds are Clearwater, Kittson and Polk.

Applications will be accepted this fall for the $10 million available for fiscal 1996. Commissioner of Agriculture Elton Redalen encouraged counties which did not receive allocations in 1995 to reapply for the 1996 allocation.

"Aladdin" to be produced at Roseau on June 2 - 3

The cast of Roseau's original musical production of "Aladdin and His Magic Lamp" invites the public to their performances at the Roseau Community School Auditorium, Friday, June 2 at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday June 3 at 2 p.m.

Under the sponsorship of the Roseau Area Arts Association, Prairie Fire Children's Theatre (PFCT) of Barrett will be working with about 70 area youth every day during the week to produce this magical journey through the mystical orient.

Written by playwright Daniel Nordquist, the production is based on the classic tale from "The Arabian Nights." Now in their forth year at Roseau, PFCT produced "Robin Hood" in '92, "Cinderella" in '93 and "Peter Pan" in '94.

Two professional actors, Kristin Bennett and Nordquist will take the roles of the Genie of the Lamp and the Evil African Magician, the villain of the piece. The roles of Aladdin, the Mother Harmonica, the Princess Serena, the Sultan, the Vizier, the Ginie of the Ring, Zanda the Tiger, the Giant Gemstones, the Vagabonds, the Maidens of the Palace, and the Slaves of the Lamp and ring will all be played by local young people.

Through his accidental discovery of the power of the magic lamp, the poor Aladdin is suddenly transformed into the richest person in the world and marries the Sultan's daughter Serena.

Now possessing everything the material world has to offer, Aladdin falls victim to the evils of money and power. He continues to demand more and more of the Genie of the Lamp and becomes all consumed by greed. Aladdin eventually realizes his mistake and regains his humility, but too late. The remainder of the play follows Aladdin attempts to ward off evil of the African Magician and, more importantly, to regain the respect of his family and friends.

This production would not be possible without partial funding from the Northwest Regional Arts Commission through funding from the Minnesota State Arts Board and the Minnesota State Legislature.

Prices are $5 for adults, $1 for students. Pre-school will be admitted free if accompanied by and seated with an adult.

Woodcrafters plan special meet June 7

Because of the Memorial Day holiday on Monday, May 29, the regular meeting of Northland Woodcrafters has been postponed to Wednesday, June 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Occupational Development Center on highway 32 south.

Members and others interested in attending are asked to please note the change in meeting date and time.

Guest speaker for the special meeting June 7 will be Pete Mai, owner of Willow Creek Furniture of Birchdale and president of Wood Products Manufacturer's Network. Mai will be in Thief River Falls for a five-day WPMN show at the curling club building on the fairgrounds and will talk about his business and the Network.

Anyone interested in making items from wood is invited to attend the meeting. Any club members interested in exhibiting at the furniture show may contact Pete Mai at 218-634-1893.

Fund-raising scam targets veterans' aid

Residents of Brainerd and other northern Minnesota communities are being warned by the Minnesota Department of Veterans Affairs about a fund-raising scam being conducted in that area.

According to Jeff Olson, deputy commissioner, people are contacted by phone, asked to help veterans by making a cash donation, then advised to have a check for that amount ready to give to a delivery service representative who will appear at their homes with a packet of information about the "cause."

Olson said neither the department nor any of the veterans organizations around the state has any knowledge of any authorized solicitation in the interest of veterans.

Anyone in Pennington county contacted may call John Ellison, veterans service officer, at 681-3550 or the Minnesota Department of Veterans Affairs at 612-296-2562.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Here are some recipes to try this long weekend.

RHUBARB CUSTARD TART

Topping
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup packed brown sugar
1/4 cup quick cooking oats
1/4 cup margarine or butter

Filling

3/4 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons apricot preserves
1 egg yolk
3 cups sliced rhubarb

Place crust in tart pan. Place cookie sheet on center rack in oven and heat oven to 375 degrees.

Make topping by combining flour, brown sugar and oats, mixing well. Cut in margarine until mixture is crumbly. Set aside.

For filling, combine sugar and flour. Add cream, preserves and egg yolk, mixing well. Stir in rhubarb.

Pour filling into prepared crust and sprinkle topping over.

Place on cookie sheet in oven and bake for 40-50 minutes, until filling bubbles around edges and topping is deep golden brown.

Let stand 30 minutes before serving.

SPICED ICED TEA

1/2 to 1 cup sugar
1 to 2 teaspoons whole cloves
8 tea bags
1 quart boiling water
10 cups cold water
2 cups orange juice
1/4 cup lemon juice

In nonmetal container, combine sugar, cloves and tea bags. Pour boiling water over mixture, cover and let stand about 10 minutes.

Remove cloves and tea bags and cool.

Stir in remaining ingredients and serve over ice. (Recipe makes 16 one-cup servings.)

MELON TRAY WITH LIME DIP

Fruit

1 small cantaloupe, seeded
1 small honeydew melon, seeded
1 small crenshaw melon, seeded
1/4 whole watermelon, seeded

Dip

2 (3 ounce) packages cream cheese, softened
1/4 cup powdered sugar
1/4 cup frozen limeade concentrate, thawed
1 (16 ounce) container vanilla yogurt

Cut melons into thin slices, removing rind. Cut slices in half and arrange on very large serving platter, leaving an opening in the center.

In small bowl, combine cream cheese, powdered sugar and limeade. Beat until well blended. Add yogurt and blend until smooth. Pour into pretty bowl and place in center of serving platter. (Recipe serves 18-20.)

Try this micro meal if it is too rainy to grill outside:

MEXICAN STYLE CHICKEN

2 1/2 to 3 1/2 pound broiler fryer chicken, cut up
1 (28 ounce) can whole tomatoes, undrained
1 medium onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, chopped fine
1 cup boiling water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 to 2 teaspoons chili powder
1/8 teaspoon pepper
Dash of ground red pepper
2 teaspoon chicken bouillon granules
1 cup uncooked regular long grain rice
1 (8 ounce) can whole kernel corn, drained
1 (8 ounce) can kidney beans, drained

Arrange chicken, skin side up and thickest parts to outside, in 3 quart microwavable casserole. Cover tightly and micro on high for 15 minutes, rotating casserole after 10 minutes. Drain.

Break up tomatoes and mix remaining ingredients except corn and beans. Stir into chicken. Micro on high for 25-30 minutes, stirring every 8 minutes, until thickest parts of chicken are done and rice is tender.

Stir in corn and beans and micro, covered tightly, 4-6 minutes, until corn and beans are hot.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

For many of us, Memorial Day weekend marks the official start of summer. And summer means outdoor activities with family and friends—family get togethers, picnics and three day weekends out of town.

I would like to encourage everyone to use good judgement when you're out with friends over the Memorial Day weekend. If you plan to have beer or other alcoholic beverages at a picnic, barbecue or sporting event, use moderation and be sure to choose a designated driver.

Our country has made great strides against drunk driving. From 1982 to 1993, for example, drunk driving fatalities have declined 33 per cent. The designated driver has played a key role in this progress.

Let's all work to make this summer a safe and enjoyable one by remembering our individual responsibilities and most important of all, watching out for each other.

Sincerely,
Shawn Newland, president
Northwest Beverage, Inc.
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

On Friday, May 5th, at 2:45 p.m., I came upon six or eight cars stopped on Eighth Street by Erl's Grocery, watching a dog that was seriously injured after it was hit by a car. It obviously had severe head and eye injuries. The dog was running around in circles, bumping into other cars in the process. I stopped my vehicle and proceeded to walk the dog off the street to wait until the police arrived. No one else had tried to help the dog!

I do not know who hit the dog. But I don't understand why the driver didn't stop. I don't think it is a crime to hit a dog with a car, nor does your insurance go up. Apparently, whoever hit the dog was in some other trouble. Why else wouldn't you stop if you knew you wouldn't get into trouble?

Dogs are "man's best friend." Surely that dog would not have left his owner (whomever that may be) in the same situation. That dog was hurt, scared and in need of help. (I was informed later that the dog did lose its eye.)

In closing, I would like to thank Janel Engelstad for notifying the authorities. At least one other person was willing to help "man's best friend."

Sincerely,
Erin Kolden

Northland Community College Foundation fund drive underway

Northland Community College Foundation is seeking donors to reach its goal of $750,000 in a scholarship fund from which investment interest can be earned and extended to students attending Northland Community and Technical College.

One-third of the goal has been met with an anonymous gift, according to Gordon A. Peterson, president of the foundation. Faculty at the college has donated a considerable amount and the foundation board members have been challenged to donate $1,500 or more. Some have met that challenge.

The foundation's scholarship committee is seeking to offer 35 two-year scholarships to students in the top 10 per cent of their high school graduating class. As the scholarship fund grows, the scholarships would also be extended to students who maintain at least a B average in their first year at Northland.

Anyone interested in becoming a part of the scholarship fund donor group may contact Northland Community College at 1101 Highway One East, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 or call 681-2181 or 1-800-628-9918.

DARE Essay Contest Winners Show Talent And Originality

Elementary students in Thief River Falls who participate in the DARE drug education program were recently encouraged to compete in an essay contest. Three winners in the public school fifth grade and one at St. Bernard's Catholic school were selected to receive medals for their efforts.

We are pleased to present the winning entries as a contribution to our editorial section today.

D.A.R.E.
by Chelsea Haviland

Hi. I am Chelsea Haviland. I think the D.A.R.E. program should be taught to everyone. It doesn't just talk about staying drug-free, it also talks about having high self-esteem. High self-esteem, and staying drug-free, are very important topics. Everyone should learn about each of them.

The D.A.R.E. program is a lot of fun. You learn how to work with people you haven't worked with on many occasions, and basically everyone shows a positive attitude in that. Also you can learn to speak up and have an opinion.

The D.A.R.E. program is a fun way to learn. You get to be an actor in a way. You learn many things such as saying no in walking away, cold shoulder, saying "No and giving a reason or excuse, avoid the situation, strength in numbers, broken record and changing the subject. You also learn the four main pressures such as heavy pressure, friendly pressure, indirect pressure and teasing pressure.

I know it is important to stay drug-free and stay away from violence. I will always do that, and I know I will stay away from drugs and violence forever.

DARE REPORT
by Ashleigh Anderson

This is what I think about DARE. Well, first I should tell you my name is Ashleigh Anderson and I am a DARE student. In DARE we learned about consequences, peer pressure, stress, a lot of ways to say no, and how to solve disagreements, just to name a few. Also in DARE we learned what's right and what's wrong.

The DARE book was pretty cool, too. It had some good stories about kids and pictures on every corner of the page. The neatest thing was that at the end of the story we had to answer questions about it with our group.

Another thing is that the DARE program is a good idea, and it will probably help kids understand drugs. Remember this: You can say you're going to be drug free, but do you really mean it?

TAKING A STAND
by Amande Bottem

I think that D.A.R.E. is a real good program because it is teaching kids not to do drugs. If we didn't have D.A.R.E. this world would be filled with drugs. Now I know that if I do drugs I won't be cool!

Some of the things I have learned about D.A.R.E. is how to relieve stress, like positive self talk, learning how to relax, being physically active and talking to someone about it.

I have also learned how to make a positive decision:

(1) What is the risk?
(2) What are the possible choices?
(3) What are the possible consequences?
(4) What are the possible results?
(5) Do I need to talk to someone before I decide?

If you get stuck in a position that someone asks you to do drugs, there are three good ways to say no:

(1) Just saying "no;"
(2) Walking away;
(3) Strength in numbers.

I think it is very important to stay drug free because if you want to be in sports you have to be drug free. I also think it is good to avoid violence, because if more people avoid violence less people will be in gangs and doing drugs. So help be drug free and quit smoking and doing drugs.

A LACK OF WILL
by Trevor Swanson

In D.A.R.E. you were taught
Not to use pot.
You only thought you wouldn't get caught.

But with the drug you bought you got busted as you ought.
You wrestled and fought and you deserve what you got.

Because you took that pill
You may find you're very ill.
Because of your lack of will
You may be found very still.

If you do drugs
You may see bugs.
You will act crazed
Because you are dazed.

If you use booze,
With that choice you lose.
Booze makes you snooze
And you will pay your dues.

Because you drank
You went over the bank;
You and your car sank
Just like a heavy tank.

You may want "weed."
You may want "speed."
You find yourself in need
Because of one man's greed.

Those who climb
Because of crime
Demand every dime.
They are truly slime.

Your friends will cry.
You family stands by.
They may even sigh
And hope you don't die.

You thought you were cool,
But you were only a fool.
You didn't listen at school.
Drinking is against the rule.

The D.A.R.E. officer shared
Because he cared.
Say no to booze and drugs;
You'll be alive for kisses and hugs.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Warroad Theatre stages "Flowers for Algernon"

Warroad Summer Theatre will present "Flowers for Algernon" June 9-11 and 14-18 with curtain time at 8 p.m. for all performances except the closing day matinee at 2 p.m. Tickets and information are available by calling 386-3435.

All performances take place in the Warroad high school mini-theater.

"Flowers for Algernon" evolves around a mentally handicapped man named Charlie who has been chosen to be the subject of a study on humans. The same study has been previously tested on a laboratory mouse named Algernon, on whose fate Charlie's life rides.

The story is termed "poignant, funny and yet, tragic."

Cast in the play are the following, several of whom have multiple roles:

At Plummer We don't intend wait

Students from Pershing high school in Plummer set up a display recently in the rotunda of the State Capitol in St. Paul. The SADD chapter won the state seat belt challenge competition last year and members were at the Capitol promoting seat belt use. Shown with Rep. Tim Finseth of Angus and Instructor Mark Lee (right) are students Eric Welter, David Fox, Laurel Hegge, Kyle Delage, Chad Plante and Ross Arit.

Plummer school wins award

For the second consecutive year, Plummer school students are being awarded for finishing first in the statewide Seat Belt Challenge contest sponsored by the Minnesota Department of Public Safety, and the Minnesota Passenger Protection Program. The students will be acknowledged as the state winners during the school's year-end award ceremony on Friday, May 26, at 10 a.m.

"We're proud of the efforts of the Plummer team," said Mark Lee, advisor to the Challenge winners. "They should feel good about educating and encouraging their community to protect itself from injury and death by promoting seat belt use."

Twenty-seven schools statewide signed-on in March to compete in the statewide event to promote seat-belt use through awareness activities, earning points for each activity. Plummer earned 100,570 points in the contest which ran from March 1 to May 10. All participants were given a safety-themed t-shirt for their work. The winning schools receive cash prizes and Plummer will receive tickets to Valley fair Amusement Park in Shakopee and be presented a check for $150 to help pay for transportation to the park.

Second place went to Jordan high school (70,170 points) and third place honors went to Melrose high school with 48,010 points. This year's challenge is also sponsored by Mitsubishi Motor Sales of America and TravelersGroup Insurance.

Blood drive at Arctco successful

Ninety-four people volunteered to donate and 64 were able to give blood at the blood drive conducted May 18 at Arctco, Inc., in Thief River Falls.

The drive was organized by Pam Cwikla of Arctco, Inc. and Marie Finney of Digi-Key Corporation. Employees from both companies were allowed time off to donate blood.

According to Bev Willits, community relations representative at United Blood Services, assistance to unload and load the mobile equipment for the blood drive was provided by Marlin Mathinson, Conrad Gorowski and Allan Belange. Space for the drive was arranged through Chris Twomey, president and CEO at Arctco, Inc.

Donations of blood help meet the needs of many patients in the 46 area hospitals served by United Blood Services.

Sen. Stumpf, Rep. Finseth join caucus

Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls and Rep. Tim Finseth of Angus have joined more than 100 other legislators to form the Bipartisan Workers' Compensation Caucus in the Minnesota Legislature.

"The caucus has agreed on a set of principles necessary to achieve meaningful reform of Minnesota's compensation system," notes Robert Bergan, executive vice president of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, "and the Thief River Falls Chamber fully supports their efforts."

The bipartisan caucus' proposal addresses the business community's major concerns for reform, including providing relief for smaller businesses, strong incentives to return to work and benefit improvements for severely injured workers.

Smaller companies with good safety records will have the opportunity to self-insure. If they are in the assigned risk plan, they will be eligible for significant discounts. Permanent total disability status will be restricted to injured workers meeting specific criteria with respect to extent of injury and age. The maximum benefit for injured workers unable to return to work is increased.

"Another year cannot go by without real reform of the workers' compensation system," Bergan said. "The bipartisan caucus has developed a very significant reform package. We are counting on the caucus members and the legislature in general to pass the caucus' amendment and send it to the governor's desk."

Bergan said that two bills moving in the legislature would not achieve significant reform. "The work of the Bipartisan Workers' Compensation Caucus to amend these two bills over the next few days is critical to passage of a meaningful bill," Bergan added.

CRP participants reminded of need to control weeds

Participants in the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) are reminded of the need to control noxious weeds in compliance with the state's weed laws, according to a notice sent by Norman Boucher, county agricultural inspector, and Phil Bergland, executive director of the Pennington county CFSA (formerly ASCS) office.

CRP fields have been established for several years and have acceptable stands, the notice states, but there are some fields that still have problems with weed control, especially perennial broadleaves such as Canada thistle. Mowing or clipping will prevent seed production but is generally not effective in eliminating a perennial weed problem.

Most CRP fields have been seeded to mixtures of grasses and legumes, but many of the fields have only the grass component remaining. Use of herbicides to control broadleaf weeds in fields with only grass cover is acceptable and should not damage the stand. If legumes make up a large percentage of the existing stand, spot treatment of perennial weed patches is recommended.

Information on recommended herbicides is available from the Natural Resources Conservation Office (formerly SCS) or the county extension office.

Boucher said that the weather conditions of the past few years have been extremely favorable for the growth and spread of certain noxious weeds.

"We cannot stress enough the importance of taking appropriate measures to ensure your CRP acreage does not become infested with noxious weeds," Boucher said. "If you foresee a problem in this area and need assistance with proper weed control measures, contact the local NRCS office.

"If you exercise proper weed control measures to eradicate noxious weeds, it will eliminate the need for our offices to take further administrative action which could result in a substantial financial loss to you."

Bergland also noted that the sign-up period to request and early-out of CRP contracts will close June 2 and that late-filed applications will not be accepted.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

JOAN LUBITZ
OPTICIAN

SQUINTING

People who squint a lot probably need glasses. This is often a sign of nearsightedness. Nearsighted people who don't have glasses will squint to sharpen their focus when looking at something far away. Though it may solve the problem temporarily, it can also cause eyestrain and headaches—and it is not particularly attractive.

Some adolescents tend to squint when they're growing up. By the time they are 20 or 21, many of them will realize that their nearsightedness is a problem that needs help.

In some cases, the nearsightedness will have improved by then, in others it may have gotten progressively worse. For most people, however, the degree of nearsightedness will have reached a plateau by the time they're fully grown.

The problem may be in one eye or both. Only an eye examination can determine that. Corrective lenses can be prescribed so that squinters no longer have to strain their eyes to see clearly.

MPCA takes more responsibility for contaminated sites

Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) has been handed full responsibility to deal with all but a few contaminated state sites that were formerly under the Federal Superfund program, some of which may now be handed under the state's voluntary program of investigation and cleanup.

Recently, Environmental Protection Agency Administrator Carol Browner announced that Minnesota will now be responsible for an estimated 320 sites that are part of a list of 24,000 federal Comprehensive

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew - saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that got damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates at your job at no obligation to you.

Prowlers pull off another upset

■ Softball team joins top North Sub-Section 8AA seeds

Surprising post-season success followed Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke through Day 2 of the 1995 North Sub-Section 8AA high school softball tournament Wednesday as the sixth-seeded Prowlers, after losing to No. 2-seeded Moorhead 17-4, bounced back to upset No. 4-seeded Bemidji 14-13 in an eight-inning contest at Alexandria.

The Prowlers, who stunned No. 3-seeded Fergus Falls 8-4 Monday to reach the double-elimination portion of the tournament, joined top-seeded Alexandria and No. 2 Moorhead in the tournament's Friday finals in Alexandria.

Moorhead turned a 4-4 game into a 10-run rule win over the Prowlers by scoring six runs in the third inning and seven more in the fourth as the Spuds combined 14 hits with seven walks and four errors.

"Moorhead has a very good team," pointed out Prowlers coach John Andersen. "We played even with them for three innings, then we started to boot the ball."

But the Prowlers extended their season by out-scoring the Lumberjacks in a loser-out extra-inning match-up.

Down 6-1 at the start, the Prowlers earned a 13-13 tie with a seventh inning run, and won it in the eighth when freshman Sam Hjelle led off with a triple and scored on a single by junior Traci Rendulich.

Senior pitcher Sarah Huschle gave up 15 hits, but walked only five and struck out five. Rendulich led an 18-hit attack for the winners with a 4-for-5 game at the plate that included a home run.

Defense also played a key role in the win, noted Andersen, who watched junior catcher Rachael Stusynski throw out Bemidji runners at second and third base.

"It was a good team effort," said Anderson. "After we got those two runs in the third inning things started to click. The kids became more patient at the plate and waited for the good pitches to hit."

The split put the Prowlers at 5-10 for the year. Defending champion Alexandria came into the tournament at 13-5, but dropped into the loser's bracket Wednesday with a 7-2 loss to Moorhead.

Winner of the North Sub-Section 8AA tournament will play host to the South Sub-Section 8AA champion in state tournament-qualifying 8AA finals. St. Cloud Tech, Rocori and Brainerd reached Friday's final day of South Sub-Section 8AA play in St. Cloud.

Thief River Falls Archery Club hosted a 28-target 3-D animal round tournament May 20-21. Among those involved in the event were, left to right, Dale Narlock, Brandon Narlock and Darrel Janisch.

Archery Club hosts shoot

Thief River Falls Archery Club-sponsored 28-target 3-D animal round tournament drew 176 participants May 20-21.

The full-size targets were set up in the woods adjacent to the banks of the Red Lake River, a challenging course that was mastered by Todd Sevrisses of Winnipeg, who recorded the only perfect score of the tournament.

Club officials extended thanks to the archers, spectators and volunteers who helped make the event an enjoyable venture. Next scheduled club-sponsored outing will be the 14-target Dakota Round July 1 – part of Thief River Falls' Great American Festival.

For information concerning the Archery Club and the upcoming tournament, contact Darrel Janisch at 681-2106.

High school tennis...

Prowlers lose in No. Sub-Section 8AA tournament

Monday, Thief River Falls lost a 7-0 decision to Bemidji in opening round North Sub-Section 8AA boys high school tennis tournament team play. Wednesday, the 1995 season officially came to an end for the Prowlers as four Thief River Falls entries – Keith Anderson and Tom Fogarty in singles, along with Andy Furuseth-Brock Walseth and Tom Stumpf-Dusty Eddleman in doubles – were eliminated in the individual portion of the tournament at Alexandria.

Anderson, the No. 3 seed in singles, drew a first round bye, then lost in the quarterfinals to Jason Williams of Moorhead. Top four finishers advanced to Section 8AA play. "Keith had a tough match," reported Forney. "After a slow start he really raised his level of play."

Fogarty was eliminated in first round play. "Tom was the only eighth grader in the tournament," pointed out Forney. "He had the opportunity to see what he has to do to compete at that level."

Furuseth, a junior, and Walseth, a sophomore, lost a first round match, while Stumpf and Eddleman, seniors paired in doubles for the first time, reached the quarterfinals with a first round win in doubles.

"Andy and Brock had a tough draw," acknowledged Forney. "Tom and Dusty played really well."

NCC baseball ends with a dramatic win

Northland Community College ended its 1995 baseball season in dramatic fashion Saturday (May 20) when Josh Stromlund and Nathan Knutson homered in the bottom of ninth inning to give the Pioneers a come-from-behind 14-12 win over Itasca in the second half of a Northern Division doubleheader.

Short outfield fences and a strong wind turned hard-hitting Itasca into a home run machine. The Vikings hit 11 of them on the day, including eight in a 12-4 first-game win.

The second-game setback was just the second in 24 MCCC starts for the Northern Division champion Vikings.

Tied 9-9 at the end of the regulation seven innings, Game 2 took a couple of turns in the ninth as the Vikings scored in the top of the frame, only to see Stromlund tie it again on a lead-off homer in the bottom of the inning. A single by Joe Alexander and a fielder's choice set up a 2-run, game-winning homer by Knutson.

While the Itasca hitters cleared the fences and bases with head-shaking regularity, the final-inning shots by Stromlund and Knutson, sophomores from Roseau and Thief River Falls, respectively, were the only home runs of the day for Northland.

Freshman pitcher Jamie Jack kept the Pioneers in the game early, and sophomore Mike Steen worked nearly four innings of one-run ball to earn the win.

"I thought Jamie Jack pitched really well, and Mike Steen shut the door late in the game," noted Northland coach Terry Wiseth. "Our sophomores – guys like Steen, Stromlund and Knutson – came through for us."

Northland finished the year 13-14 overall and 11-13 in the Northern Division.

"It (the extra-inning win) was a good way to finish," acknowledged Wiseth. "We were playing a very good baseball team."

Women's Softball

Best Western Inn Ridgerunners and the Swingers are the only unbeaten teams in the Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League after just two weeks of play.

Wednesday, the Ridgerunners collected a 7-0 forfeit win over Sather Law Office/Legion and beat Baker's Acres 14-3 as Paula Fanfulik, Patti Peterson, Diane Klemetson, Shannon Olson, and Cheryl Johnson all picked up two hits.

A 5-for-5 game by Carisa Novacek and a 4-for-5 effort with a home run by Lynde Pemberton carried the Swingers past Pizza Hut 22-14. Laurie Humness and Lana Pittman were both 3-for-3 as the Swingers completed a season-opening doubleheader sweep with a 23-2 victory over Digi-Key.

Terri Stengrim homered and joined Colleene Rook and Suzy Kaiser in the two-hit category as the Musherettes defeated Pizza Hut 15-8. Lisa Nelson and Jodi Harder both had three hits, while Sheila Hanson and Dee Thompson both homered in two-hit efforts as the Musherettes added a 15-2 win over Best Western Inn.

Baker's Acres shut out Best Western Inn 19-0 as Lisa Spiering went 4-for-4 with a home run, while Michele Fletcher (grand slam), Dorene Myers (bases-loaded triple) and Cheryl Engelstad all finished 3-for-4.

First round North Sub-Section 8AA baseball results...

Prowlers hold off Lumberjacks

Home runs by Eric Bjorgaard, Paul Gonsorowski and Rob Stock helped produce a 7-6 Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke win over host Bemidji Thursday in the opening round of the 1995 North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament.

The win put the No. 5-seeded Prowlers at 8-12 for the year and advanced them into the four-team, double-elimination portion of the tournament. The loss ended a 9-11-1 season for the No. 4-seeded Lumberjacks.

Bjorgaard and Gonsorowski jumped-started the Prowlers' offense with back-to-back home runs in the third inning, with Bjorgaard's three-run shot shattering a scoreless tie.

Bemidji answered with a four-run third of its own, but Stock hit a solo homer in the fourth, and Corey Jenkins came through with a key 2-run single in the fifth that provided the Prowlers with a 7-4 cushion.

Aaron Ehrenstrom pitched the first 5 2/3 innings for the win. Bjorgaard picked up a save, but not without some anxious moments in the bottom of the seventh.

Bjorgaard, who came in to get Ehrenstrom out of a two-out, bases-loaded jam in the sixth, was protecting a one-run lead when he began the seventh with two strike-outs. But he then hit a batter, issued a four-pitch walk and hit another batter to load the bases.

That brought Dale Russ, the Lumberjacks' No. 3 hitter, to the plate. Bjorgaard quickly went ahead on the count 0-2, but it didn't end until Russ popped up to third baseman Chane Keefe on a 3-2 pitch.

"We played well," said Prowlers coach Dean Woodman. "Aaron pitched great. Eric came in and got the save. Chris Vanyo had a nice one at shortstop and we had some class in the outfield."

Offensive contributions from Gonsorowski, Stock and Jenkins – not normally the Prowlers' main run producers – also played a key role in the outcome, pointed out Woodman.

"The big thing was, after we scored four, and they came back to get four in the third, we responded. We came right back and continued to hit the ball. We didn't quit."

It was the rubber game of the 1995 series for the two long-time rivals. The Lumberjacks won in a freeze, 11-0, on April 28, but the Prowlers took a 12-10 rematch on May 11.

No. 3-seeded Moorhead eliminated No. 6 Alexandria 3-1 in the other first round game Thursday. Top-seeded Fergus Falls and No. 2 Detroit Lakes received first round byes.

North Sub-Section 8AA Baseball

Large group of Prowlers reach 8AA track meet

A familiar 1-2 finish by Lisa Swanson and Becky Mooney in the girls 800 meters and school-record efforts in the boys competition by Steve Burslie and Ryan Swanson highlighted the Thief River Falls/Goodridge performances at the 1995 North Sub-Section 8AA high school track meet Thursday in Alexandria.

Qualifiers move on to the Section 8AA meet Saturday, June 3, at Moorhead State University.

Burslie ran a school-record 51.21 in the 400, breaking a 1972 mark held by Mike Fitzgerald, and Swanson established a new standard with a 6-4 high jump that took Jeff Oseid ('75) off the books. Both efforts produced second place finishes.

Swanson also set a school record with a 38-7 triple jump, but it was not a Section 8AA-qualifying distance.

"It was a very good day," reported Prowlers coach Tim Olson. "We had good weather and good times. The kids just blossomed. It might not be reflected in the team scores, but we're very pleased with the efforts."

Alexandria boys won team honors with 190 1/2 points, followed by Moorhead with 168, Detroit Lakes 86, Fergus Falls 68 1/2, Thief River Falls/Goodridge 63, and Bemidji 61.

The Alexandria girls also won with 147 points, followed by Moorhead with 143, Bemidji 135, Detroit Lakes 98 1/2, Thief River Falls/Goodridge 72, and Fergus Falls 34 1/2/

Roseau plans several events for Centennial

Several activities are planned for the Centennial Celebration in Roseau and Roseau county.

The centennial events began with a birthday party on January 8, and it will conclude on December 30 with a banquet and Grand Ball. At present, there are 40 plus activities planned for the city and county celebration.

Some of the highlights in the very near future include a seven day wagon train ride May 25-31, which will travel through the county, west to east, on a south route and return on a northern route; a traditional pow-wow June 3-4 at Warroad, the high school regional rodeo in Roseau June 3-4 and an air show at the Roseau airport on June 17; and the American Legion 9th District Convention will be held the same weekend.

The calendar is full of activities but top billing goes to activities held between July 13 to 21. During this time, the new community school will be dedicated, a centennial parade, street dance and musical extravaganza will be held, and the Roseau County Fair will be held.

Anyone in Roseau in 1995 will be able to witness a centennial activity somewhere within the confines of the North Star County.

The county is preparing itself for 8,000 to 10,000 people to return "home" to participate in the Centennial Celebration.

Country music jam session

Country Music lovers are urged to attend the monthly Country Music Jam Session 1 p.m. Sunday, June 4, at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston. Following the jam session, a potluck supper will begin at 5 p.m. All who play musical instruments are invited to participate. The afternoon will be spent hearing individuals and small groups. After supper a time of playing together in larger groups will be featured.

Those who enjoy listening are also invited to attend where every possible type of country and old time music is usually on the schedule of events.

There is no admission charge.

For more details contact Rodney Myhrum, country music chairperson, at (218) 435-6913 evenings.

Grandson of Solems gets Tosdal Award

Craig A. Solem of Grand Rapids, grandson of Alfred and Rebecca Solem of Thief River Falls and a senior at St. Olaf College in Northfield, has received the Tosdal Award for top-ranking senior boy from Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest scholastic honorary society.

Craig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Solem and a biology major at St. Olaf. He is one of six St. Olaf College students who received Phi Beta Kappa awards April 26 at the Delta of Minnesota chapter's spring banquet.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded in 1776 by students at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, VA. It supports excellence and integrity in the pursuit of the arts and sciences and encourages liberal education, scholarship and concern for the responsible uses of knowledge.

TRF volunteers win JC Penney Golden awrd

Four volunteer crisis advocates at Violence Intervention Project have received the JC Penney Golden Rule Award. Though each wishes to remain anonymous, staff at Violence Intervention Project, did not want their accomplishments to go unnoticed.

Crisis advocates provide services for victims of domestic violence and sexual assault, which in part explains their desire to remain anonymous. For VIP, they provide this service for the seven counties of northwest Minnesota, which includes the East Grand Forks area. Crisis advocates answer phone calls after daytime working hours, during weekends, and holidays.

What follows is an explanation of their contribution in the form of a nomination for the award.

Victims throughout this seven-county area may call the toll-free crisis line at any time during the day or night. Crisis advocates must quickly determine the needs of the victims they work with. Some victims may require emergency assistance such as contacting 911, accompanying a victim to the emergency room for medical services, or accompanying a victim to law enforcement, arranging safe shelter, or even trying to save the life of a suicidal person. Other services may include supportive listening, presenting options, referrals to other service providers, or transportation to a safe place.

The JC Penney Golden Rule award is presented to groups and individuals who have performed outstanding volunteer service in their local communities. The awards are named for James Cash Penney's first store, "The Golden Rule," established in 1902 in Kemmerer, WY., and for Mr. Penney's own dedication to service — first in business, then in decades of philanthropy and personal service to many causes.

A panel of judges independent of JC Penney selects the winners. All individual volunteers and organized groups of volunteers providing service to the community are encouraged to apply. Local winners automatically become eligible for the National Golden Rule Awards. Four national winners and four finalists in the categories of adult individual, group, youth and education are selected from community Golden Rule Award winners across the country. The national winner for adult, group and education will receive a $10,000 contribution to the organizations where they volunteer. One finalist in each of these three categories will receive a $5,000 contribution.

Violence Intervention Project in Thief River Falls explained the many duties of the volunteer crisis advocate. Each crisis advocate has applied for a volunteer position within Violence Intervention Project. They have completed an extensive background check, including a police record search and reference checks. They must complete a rigorous 60 hours of training prior to beginning their duties and must complete at least four hours of training quarterly thereafter. All crisis advocates have attended an optional two or three day conference on domestic violence or sexual assault during their years of service. Each crisis advocate regularly provides feedback on services and the needs of the victims they work with. All training, conferences, and meetings are performed during their free time.

When on call, each crisis advocate must exercise independent judgement on a variety of volatile situations, including an occasional suicidal victim. The crisis advocates have a well-developed sense of teamwork and rely heavily on one another to provide insight or alternatives when a difficult situation arises. Each is willing to take over the crisis line when another must travel to another county or accompany a victim to safety, hospital, or law enforcement.

Advocates have an impact on the quality of life in the community.

The rate of domestic violence and sexual assault grows each year in this country, state and community. Violence Intervention Project has over 2,000 contacts with victims each year. In Minnesota, 63,000 reported domestic assaults occur annually. Over 75 women and children were murdered by partners in the past three years as a direct result of domestic violence. Statistics have shown that 1 in 3 women and 1 in 7 men have been sexually assaulted in their lifetime. Many of these survivors have contact with the crisis advocates. Through help and support, many survivors have gained the courage and strength to begin the healing process and become confident, productive members of the community.

Each of the four crisis advocates have publicly spoken about their own personal stories of pain and abuse in hopes of providing help and encouragement to others who also may have experienced violence in their lives. Speaking out in a small rural community takes a great deal of courage because it carries risk and possible harsh judgment, but each of these women have felt that helping others has outweighed the personal costs.

Each crisis advocate dedicates a great deal of their personal lives to help others. This means being available during the middle of the night, Christmas Eve, or during a snowstorm. Not many people would take the unpredictability and stress of being a crisis advocate. Imagine having to interrupt a family meal, or being awakened from a sound sleep, and having to drive during the night to meet a victim in a hospital emergency room, sometimes as far as 60 miles away. All of our crisis advocates have families and jobs and have been willing to adjust their personal time to help others.

Each of the four crisis advocates have been victims of some form of violence in their lives. Hearing the stories of others' pain brings back painful memories and sometimes fear. Each has had the courage and strength to change their lives and to later help others who came from a similar situation.

Turenne and Baumann attend ABE conference

Lyn Turenne, adult basic education (ABE) instructor, and educational assistant Roberta Baumann attended the combined spring regional conference of the Northwest and Northeast regions recently at the Sawmill Inn in Grand Rapids.

Keynote speaker was Rep. Irv Anderson, Speaker of the Minnesota House of Representatives. Concurrent sessions were held on a number of topics to assist instructors in meeting needs of all students.

Adult basic education assisted over 36,000 adults in pursuit of their educational and vocational goals during 1994. They received tutoring in English as a second language, reading and writing skills, GED preparation and testing and refresher courses to upgrade skills to enter the work force or higher education.

Dawn Numedahl graduates from MSU-Bozeman

Dawn Numedahl of Thief River Falls, was among the 1,967 students who received degrees during commencement May 13 at Montana State University at Bozeman. Numedahl received a bachelor of arts degree.

RED LAKE BAND OF CHIPPEWA INDIANS
RED LAKE DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

AGENCY: Red Lake Department of Natural Resources, Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians

ACTION: Notice of Intent and Public Scoping Meeting

SUMMARY: This notice advises the public that the Red Lake Department of Natural Resources, with the cooperation of the Roads department of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and Pennington County, Minnesota, intends to gather information necessary for preparing an Environmental Assessment Document for the River Road Phase III Realignment Project located on the Red Lake Reservation and in Pennington County, Minnesota. A description of the proposed project, location, and environmental consideration to be addressed in the EA are provided below (see supplemental information). In addition to this notice, a public meeting regarding the project and the preparation of the EA will be held.

This notice is to be published in accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) regulations found in 40 CFR, 1501.7. The purpose of the notice is to obtain suggestions and other information from other agencies and the public on the scope of issues to be addressed in the EA. Comments and participation in this scoping process are encouraged.

DATES: Comments should be received by June 2, 1995. A public meeting will be held at the Hickory Town Hall, Hickory Township, Pennington County, Minnesota on May 30, 1995 at 10:00 AM.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be addressed to Chuck Meyer, Wetland Specialist, Red Lake Department of Natural Resources, PO Box 279, Red Lake, Minnesota 56671.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Chuck Meyer, Wetland Specialist, Red Lake Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 270, Red Lake, Minnesota 56671, telephone (218) 679-3959, Fax (218) 679-2830

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION: The River Road Phase III Realignment Project involves the upgrade of approximately 1.1 miles of the existing alignment of BIA Route 19 (otherwise known as River Road) along with construction of approximately three miles of new alignment on the Red Lake Reservation and in Pennington County. The purpose of this project is to improve traffic flow and promote public safety on the River Road. The realignment is designed to bypass a series of sharp turns in the existing River Road alignment, and to provide a direct tie-in to Pennington County Road 56, resulting in safer and more direct ingress and egress at the western border of the Red Lake Reservation.

The lineworker maintains and constructs high voltage and secondary electric distribution systems. Heavy lifting and other physical work associated with line work is required. The position requires one year of training in electric line work at a vocational training center and three or more years experience at the apprentice level or an equivalent combination of education, training or work experience which provides sufficient evidence for the successful performance of the position. A valid State of Minnesota driver's license or equal is required.

Applications will be accepted until 4:00 P.M., June 16, 1995. A complete job description and applications are available at the office of Minnesota Job Service, P.O. Box 679, 318 N. Knight Ave., Thief River Falls, MN 56701. The City of Thief River Falls is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

A WORD FROM YOUR AUCTION COMPANY ABOUT THIS SALE:
Mr and Mrs. Grey have retired from farming, sold their farm and have purchased a home in Oklahoma. The tractors and much of the machinery have been shedded, and Kenneth maintained a strict maintenance program on them. This is the type of equipment you need, to put you in the profit end of the farm and ranch picture ... COME AND GET IT!

Crossroads receives Otto Bremer grant

The Otto Bremer Foundation is a private charitable foundation established in 1944 by Otto Bremer. Its giving is concentrated on programs dealing with rural poverty and those broadening understanding around issues of racism. Although its commitment to the countryside and rural communities dominates the foundation's grantmaking, support is also given to programs that address the issue of poverty in the city of St. Paul. In general, the foundation supports programs in the area of community affairs, human services, health, and higher education.

The foundation approved a grant of $19,500 over three years for the Low Income Women in Transition Program, operated by Crossroads Displaced Homemaker Program in Thief River Falls.

Crossroads serves displaced homemakers: individuals in transition who have spent at least two years in the home providing household services and who have lost their financial support due to death, divorce, separation, or disability of their spouse. These individuals now need to find employment or training in order to provide economically for themselves and their dependents.

The program offers workshops on topics such as: assertive communication, stress management, decision making/goal setting, risk taking/problem solving, resume preparation, personal growth, time management, job search techniques, career planning, and money management.

The services are available to persons living in Kittson, Polk, Marshall, Roseau, Pennington, Red Lake, and Norman counties.

For more information about Crossroads or the Displaced Homemaker program write to: 403 North LaBree, Thief River Falls, MN 56701; or call (218) 681-8158 or 1-800-450-8158.

Farmland prices in northwest are a real mixed bag

ment." He says 1993 appears to be an irregularity in the pattern. "The 1994 average Valley price is actually about where it should be."

Taff says the average land prices, while sometimes misleading, are useful to county assessors who must establish property tax assessments without actually appraising each parcel. The average price figures are also used as a starting point in cash rent and sale price negotiations.

Challenger classes wrap up on June 2

Challenger students are wrapping up their first year of classes at the new elementary and preschool in Thief River Falls.

The last day of classes for kindergarten students will be Thursday, June 1. Classes for first to fifth grades will dismiss for summer vacation at 1 p.m., Friday, June 2.

Better service for health care

Greenbush — The Greenbush Community Nursing Home and the Roseau Area Hospital have consolidated as of Thursday, June 1. The two have been working in partnership since 1987.

The Greenbush Nursing Home was too small to exist by itself in this rapidly changing world of health care. The merger will lead to better care for people in both organizations.

Staff restructuring will begin in October of 1995 and will also involve the Roseau County Home Health Care and Sheltering Oaks Manor.

Warroad — Air LA announced last week that it will not provide air service from St. Paul to Warroad.

LA Air has been negotiating to buy out Capitol Air which was to provide the flights to Warroad.

Company spokesperson Bill Wolf said that the company many consider providing seasonal service to Warroad, but currently the timing is not right.

Neverland performance

Stephen — This weekend 50 children will perform Peter Pan. The script was written by Prairie Fire children's theatre's Daniel Nordquist. Co-directors, Patrick Helean and Krista Clements are the only professionals in the play; all the other actors are children from the Stephen area.

The play is funded by the Northwest Regional Development Center.

ITV Scholarships available from NCTC

Grygla — Scholarships will be available to aduts intrested in taking college classes at Grygla high school next fall.

Freshman English and principals of economics will be taught through interactive television. The classes will be broadcast from Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls.

The scholarships are offered as an incentive for getting people interested in ITV and expanding education. The district hopes to also offer classes from BSU and UMC in the future.

Grand jury hearing set for June 13

Roseau — June 13 has been set as the day for a grand jury hearing focusing on accusations of violations of the state's Fair Campaign Practices Act during the attempt to move the Roseau county seat. Roseau county attorney Michelle Moren chose Polk county attorney Wayne Swanson to be the special prosecutor in this case.

On May 2, Moren received a letter containing accusations of fairness violations from the Taxpayers Choice Volunteer Committee. Jerry Rice, attorney for the Roseau group, said that the Warroad group engaged in "excessive conduct" and feel the best thing for everyone is to just get over their hard feelings.

'95 Wetlands bill defeated

Landowners Rights group calls maneuver "deceitful"

Calling the defeat of the 1995 wetlands bill by a procedural floor motion a "deceitful move," Leonard Furuseth of Thief River Falls accused metropolitan legislators of being "unconcerned about the real problems of citizens living in other parts of the state."

Furuseth is chairman of the Minnesota Landowners Rights Association, a recently formed organization to fight for changes in wetland law and other governmental infringement on individual and property rights.

He said that Minnesota's wetland law adopted in 1991 is the most restrictive in the nation and this is the only state in the union requiring landowners to replace—in many cases on a two for one basis—wetlands in another location if they impact a wetland on their property.

"People who invested in property in northwestern Minnesota while others across the state were draining wetlands for development now stand to lose their land value to this law which is overly aggressive and punitive," he said. He was especially critical of the way the wetland bill was "derailed" by what he called "powerful legislative and administrative forces."

Furuseth said Gov. Arne Carlson, Rep. Willard Munger of Duluth and Department of Natural Resources Commissioner Rod Sando "acted together to mislead the public by saying they wanted relief for the people most harshly affected by the 1991 law when that was the farthest thing from the truth."

Rep. Munger is the author of the 1991 bill which placed the most recent and restrictive regulations on wetland use.

"The people who showed the most respect for wetlands are bearing the terrible brunt of somebody else's sin," Furuseth said. "Nobody wants to drain or fill wetlands with year-around standing water. But lawmakers have created a nightmare by allowing land that does not hold water more than a few days per year—if at all—to be designated a wetland.

"This devastates land value and severely restricts an owner's rights for such common purposes as building patios, driveways, garages or even laying sod on a yard."

He expressed encouragement at a recent Wisconsin appeals court decision that ruled a landowner whose property is rezoned to protect wetlands as natural habitat is entitled to payment for potential loss of income.

"This rezoning reduced the owner's property value from $200,000 to $4,000," Furuseth said, "and the appeals court sent the case back to the district court to determine the amount of compensation.

"We must have a relaxation of the law, and we ask that when the government feels it needs a piece of private property to serve a public good, the individual should be compensated in accordance with what the land was worth before it was designated a wetland."

Sanctioned personal watercraft race to be held in TRF July 1-2

Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce together with the Thief River Falls 4th of July Committee is pleased to announce the addition of a sanctioned personal watercraft race to the the second annual "An American Festival" July 1 and 2, in Thief River Falls.

Motorsports Racing Plus International Jet Sports Boating Association (IJSBA) sanctioned watercraft race will be held both July 1 and 2 on the Red Lake River in Thief River Falls. The action begins each day at 11 a.m. and can be viewed from Red Robe Park located on Eighth Street.

According to Motorsports Racing Plus (MRP), personal watercraft racing has increased in popularity in the past few years. Because of this, MRP and all six manufacturers, including Arctco and Polaris, are looking for communities that could provide a controlled area and a safe place for racers to show their skills without intruding upon skiers, fishing boats and the environment.

Race participants will compete in several different divisions all the way up to 900ccs. Events will include a Lemans type course and oval racing. MRP expects 300 racers and pit crews plus 5,000 to 8,000 spectators.

Coverage of the event by Midwest Sports Channel (MSC) shall bring excitement and prominent exposure to Thief River Falls.

No admission will be charged to spectators. Concessions and a beer garden will be available to spectators during the two-day event.

Guatemalan family is starting over in Crookston

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

Last week Julio Figueroa did something that he never imagined he would do or would have to do. He received his GED. That in itself may not seem very unusual, but considering he spoke almost no English three years ago, it is quite an accomplishment.

Julio was born and raised in Guatemala where he lead a successful life. He was an accountant, worked in real estate, and was studying to be a lawyer before his whole world was turned upside down.

Living Dangerously

Julio and his family were very politically involved with social justice issues in Guatemala working to improve conditions for the poor in their country. The harassment started for Julio when he worked for a bank and was threatened because he was trying to get better wages for the union. Later, in 1978, Julio, two of his cousins and his brother were working for the Guatemalan National Post Office when they spoke out against a nationally imposed rate hike on bus fares. As a result of their outspokenness, they were blacklisted.

For many years his family endured persecution. Julio was once kidnapped and interrogated, and a kidnapping attempt was made on his sister who was also a union leader. One of Julio's brothers mysteriously disappeared, and one of his cousins was killed. In Guatemala, he explains, you disappear or are killed and nobody finds out much about it. After receiving many threats, much harassment and having their car broken into, Julio and his wife, Janet, took their two small children and went into hiding.

When he lived in Guatemala, Julio belonged to an ecumenical group called Full Gospel Business International Fellowship. Someone in the group had connections to the United States and to Crookston and made arrangements for Julio's family to escape the country unharmed. The Figueroas did not choose their destination. In fact, they did not know where they were going until they got their airplane tickets to Miami. Exactly who got the tickets and contacted Crookston, still remains a mystery. If anyone found out, the benefactor would probably be killed.

Julio was now the head of a construction company and Janet sold skin care products to about 1,000 clients, but they had to give up their careers and home to save their lives and the lives of their young children. They could not say goodbye to anyone, not even Julio's grown children from his first marriage, for fear the news would leak to those wishing to harm the family.

Arriving in the U.S.

Leaving Guatemala was risky. Julio was never sure if his mysterious benefactor was a friend or foe. He was afraid the whole thing might be a setup. It was not a setup, and Julio, Janet and their children Alicia, 8, and Bruno, 1, arrived in the United States in the fall of 1991.

After arriving in the U.S., the Figueroas came to Crookston and stayed at Care and Share Center, a facility which includes a homeless shelter, soup kitchen, thrift store, and learning center for those in need. Center director, Sister Justina met the family at the door and provided them with food and a place to live. Only 15 days after landing in Miami, Janet and Julio's twin sons, Renato and Luis were born in Grand Forks, ND. For 15 months, the growing family of six stayed at Care and Share.

Julio and Janet spoke very little English, but they knew if they were going to succeed in this country, they would have to break the language barrier and get an education.

"A new world opened up for me... a totally new life," said Julio.

With the help of a Spanish/English dictionary and Sister Regina Hansmann, Julio began to learn English and study for his GED.

Breaking the Language Barrier

Julio is very intelligent. Sister Regina testifies that he studied very hard for his GED tests, always challenging himself to learn more. It was only about six months from the day he began studying for his GED to the day he passed his final test. Sister Regina said it usually takes a year to earn the GED. Although Julio speaks English very well, he feels he must master the language if he is to get a better job and improve his economic standing. Now that he has a GED, he would like to go to

When Julio is not working at the hospital, he can usually be found at the learning center at Care and Share. He likes to read magazines and newspapers and continues to learn even though he has earned his GED and is not enrolled in any formal classes.

Held on drug charges

Crookston — Jose Padilla, 35, and Israel Contieras, 31, are being held on drug related charges including one count of conspiracy and two counts of fifth degree controlled substance crime.

According to the complaint, a confidential informant told the police that he was recently introduced to Padilla, who wanted help selling approximately five pounds of marijuana. Warrants were executed on May 22 at two locations in Crookston. Among the items seized were small amounts of marijuana, a semi-automatic pistol, a weight scale, baggies and traces of other controlled substances.

Sharing school staff

Ada — The school boards of Ada and Borup will consider resolutions to approve sharing administrative staff during the 1995-96 school year and calling for a vote on consolidation of the two districts.

They have already come to a tentative agreement on the scenario for consolidation starting the 1996-97 year. Under the agreement, all fifth and sixth grade students would attend Borup school and students in grades kindergarten through fourth will attend Ada Elementary building.

Crushing news

Red Lake Falls — After being audit by state revenue auditor Wayne Skalicky, Red Lake county is being charged $9,924.42 for crushing its own gravel.

"Gravel crushing is a fabrication of labor and is subject to six and one half per cent Minnesota sales tax," explained Skalicky.

County leaders and Senator Stumpf agree that the law makes no sense.

A motion to pay the bill only if the county brings the issues to the Association of Counties and talks to Senator Stumpf about it.

college, but, he knows of no scholarships for refugees. That doesn't stop Julio from learning. He recently purchased a home computer and is studying several library books on computers. When he is not at home or working at the hospital where he is an orderly, he is studying at the Care and Share Center, sometimes until 3 a.m. He also loves to read, naming Omni, National Geographic and U.S. News as some of his favorites magazines.

'If the college is not going to educate me, then I will educate myself,' he told Sr. Regina.

His wife Janet has been busy with three babies at home, but now that the twins are three and Bruno is four years old, she has begun earning her GED. She recently passed her math test and two weeks ago, passed her social studies with flying colors. She also started selling cosmetic products again. She was one of Guatemala's top saleswomen for Oriflame (a Swedish line of facial and skin care products) and now is finding some success in Crookston.

Sister Regina describes Julio as a perfectionist. That's one of the reasons he is so successful, he's always pushing himself. When he first arrived in Crookston, he started to write his case for the Department of Immigration and Naturalization, he was determined to make it just right. He did not trust anyone else to write it, knowing that one misunderstanding could result in their deportation. Using his dictionary as a translator and drawing upon his legal background, he wrote his story in 30 pages. Sister Regina showed him how to use the computer and with only a little help from her, he condensed the story to 10 pages. It took him eight months from start to finish. His case is still waiting to be heard, and he was told it takes an average of eight to 10 years to become a U.S. citizen.

A New Life In Crookston

Julio loves to sing and it was always his dream to sing at Mass in Guatemala, but he never had the chance. In Crookston, Julio has sung for Mass in the Cathedral of Immaculate Conception, University of Minnesota in Crookston and other community functions. Singing runs in the family. Janet sings in Spanish to the children and Alicia loves to sing as well. He hopes his children will sing at Mass when they are older.

All four children are very bright. Alicia likes to read books for the annual Multiple Sclerosis read-a-thon, and Bruno was translating for his mother and day care provider when he was two years old. Now Janet herself translates for other Latin Americans in the community.

Julio and Janet want to learn fluent English, to be educated, and eventually, to give something back to the community. They say they don't want a hand out, they want a hand up. They want to set a good example for their children and help improve the sometimes negative view of Latin Americans in this country.

"We are trying here," said Julio. "I will be a proud taxpayer...that's what makes democracy work."

He feels the U. S. gives more money back to the people than many countries and that Americans need to learn to appreciate their freedom and democracy.

Julio and Janet work hard to make their apartment a home. They live in a low-income housing complex, but they are proud of the decorating they have done. It is simple and inexpensive, but it adds a personal touch and makes it a cheerful environment for them and their children.

"To be poor is inside people, it's not a matter of money. I do not consider myself to be poor," said Julio.

"We really do appreciate the help we've received from Sister Justina Sister Regina and the Catholic Church, without them we wouldn't be here. We hope someday to give help back to our community. We recognize that we are now in debt," said Julio.

Jenet is currently studying for the science portion of her GED test. Here Julio and Sister Regine explein devalepement end evelutien. The number of students et the learning center veries. The day this picture wes teken, mest of the students were et work, so Sister Regina could spend extre time with Jenet. The leerning center et Care end Shere is the only one in the eree with flexible hours to fit eround student's work schedules.

Heving fled persecution in their homelend, Julio and Janet Figueroe came to Crookston in the fell of 1991. For 15 months, they lived at the Care and Shere center with their four children. .

"We gain too," said Sister Regina. "I'm a member of their family."

Julio is also grateful to Carol Greggerson with Northwest ECSU in Crookston for help with obtaining his GED.

Although Julio and his family left behind a lot, family, friends, good jobs, and a home full of nice things, they have gained something more important — a deeper faith in God.

Said Julio, "(It's) only when you're in a tough situation that your faith grows."

Here's What Two INDUSTRY GIANTS In Northwestern Minnesota, ARCTCO And POLARIS, Say About Graduates Of The Welding Program At Northwest Technical College In Thief River Falls...

My name is Rick Stenseth, and I am the Director of Manufacturing at ARCTCO, INC. in Thief River Falls. ARCTCO, as you may know, manufactures recreational vehicles such as snowmobiles. In this capacity I have become very familiar with the welding program of Northwest Technical College - Thief River Falls.

If you are serious about a career in welding, I wouldn't hesitate to recommend this program to you. I know that graduates who are serious about their training, can be counted on to do the job. They will come to us with the skills necessary to go to work. I interview a lot of people, and I can tell right away if someone is serious about themselves and their work. We also have a practical test we give applicants, and if you don't have the proper training, it will quickly show.

The instructor of this program does a great job. I have developed a good working relationship with him over the years, and I know the program is headed in the right direction.

I am sometimes asked what the future of welding is as far as a career. At ARCTCO we do mostly wire-feed welding, and it is true that robots are being used more and more in this type of application. It's important to remember, however, that doesn't mean the demise of the welder. First of all, I have found that you can teach a welder how to program and work with robots, but it is harder to teach a programmer how to weld! By further developing the skills you've learned at NTC -Thief River Falls, you will find that there are jobs in a variety of industries.

I hope this letter gives you some help in deciding on your future plans. I feel that anyone who is serious about the future needs to get some type of training, and I know that the program at Thief River Falls is a good one.

Rick Stenseth
ARCTCO, INC.

If you are considering welding as a career may I suggest Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls. Our industry is certainly in need of qualified and well trained welders!

Right now the job opportunities in this field are excellent and, in our area, look to get even better. Wages are very competitive, and new technology means working conditions are getting cleaner and safer. For example, our new air flow system is considered state of the art in our industry.

We, at POLARIS have found that graduates of the welding program at Northwest Technical College receive a very good "real life" education. Graduates we have hired come with a good basic set of skills–it certainly cuts down on the training time for us! It's almost like a "turn-key" operation–where very little training from us is needed NTC graduates adapt faster to the workplace and don't seem to be intimidated by the equipment.

The instructors at Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls are top notch. They can talk our language and know what's going on in the "real world". They serve as an excellent gap between education and industry and are good ambassadors for their program.

If you are serious about a career in welding, I encourage you to begin your career by enrolling in the welding program at Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls. Qualified graduates can look forward to a rewarding career in a field that is growing in Northwest Minnesota.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Today's recipes are delicious drinks for hot weather sipping.

COCOMOKO FLOAT

1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup cold coffee or 1/2 teaspoon instant coffee dissolved in
1/4 cup boiling water
3 tablespoons chocolate syrup
2 teaspoons sugar (optional)
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Crushed ice
Whipped cream

In blender, combine milk, coffee, chocolate syrup, sugar and vanilla. Cover and blend.

Fill glass 1/4 full of ice. Add chocolate mixture. Top with whipped cream.

ICED CHOCOLATE FOR A BUNCH

4 cups cold milk
1 1/2 cups chocolate syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups cold whipping cream
Whipped cream

In large pitcher or bowl, stir together milk, syrup and vanilla. Set aside.

In large mixer bowl, beat 2 cups whipping cream until slightly thickened. Add chocolate mixture and beat with beater or whisk until slightly foamy. Fill glasses 1/2 full with ice and then add chocolate mixture. Top with whipped cream, if desired.

Combine orange juice and chocolate for a refreshing treat:

ORANGE CHOCOLATE FLOAT

1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons chocolate syrup
1 tablespoon sugar
Crushed ice
Whipped cream
Orange slice

In blender, combine orange juice, chocolate syrup and sugar. Cover and blend.

Pour over ice in glass and top with whipped cream. Garnish with orange slice.

RASPBERRY MINT REFRESHER

Raspberry Ice Cubes
1 cup fresh raspberries
2 ice cube trays
Water
Raspberry Mint Refresher
1 cup fresh mint leaves
2 cups boiling water
2 cup cold water
2 (10 ounce) packages frozen raspberries in syrup, thawed
1 (12 ounce) can frozen pink lemonade concentrate, thawed
2 cups (16 ounces) sparkling water, chilled

Place one raspberry in each section of ice cube trays, fill with water and freeze 3-4 hours.

In 3-quart nonmetal container combine mint and boiling water. Let stand 5 minutes, then strain and remove leaves.

Add cold water, raspberries and syrup and lemonade concentrate. Stir to blend.

Refrigerate at least 3 hours or overnight.

To serve, place raspberry mint refresher in serving container. Add ice cubes and sparkling water, stirring gently. Serve immediately. (Makes 12 half-cup servings.)

Work on streets in TRF expected to begin next week

As summer arrives, so does the street construction season. Residents and visitors to Thief River Falls will probably experience delays and detours in the downtown business district as the final wearing course of bituminous is put on the streets improved last year.

Thief River Falls engineering and technical services department doesn't know when exactly Northern Paving will begin putting the final one and one-half inches of bituminous (called the wearing course) on LaBree, Horace and Second streets in downtown Thief River Falls. Work is expected to begin on Wednesday and Thursday.

Engineering Services Director Ron Lindberg said he expects the project to be completed in two phases so that the whole downtown business district is not closed off to traffic at the same time.

Residents and visitors to Thief River Falls will therefore experience delays and detours. Details of the project will be printed in The Times as they become available.

Christianson Industrial Development of Bemidji has been awarded the 1995 Street and Utility improvement project. Lindberg said they will begin this year's project by replacing a water main at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. This year's list of projects also include improvements to a curved alignment from East First to Sherwood, and on Sherwood from First to Highway 59, and on Steven's Drive from Sherwood east to Nelson Drive.

Sewer and Water main improvements will be conducted on Nelson Drive, Fern Road, South Baken Street, near Evergreen Implement, and at a couple of other locations.

Knife Lake Construction was awarded the sidewalk improvement project for 1995. Lindberg said they have about two weeks left of construction. They will be mostly on the northeast side of the community, but will also remove a sidewalk on South Duluth, replace a sidewalk on Riverside, south of Highway 32, and a short section on Sixth Street.

Motorists are asked to be patient during this construction season, and use caution.

Old Mill Park Open House

Open House Day at Old Mill State Park west of Newfolden will be conducted Sunday, June 4, when entry to the park will be allowed free of charge and free coffee, cookies and lemonade will be provided by the Newfolden Lions Club while supplies last.

Park management encourages anyone interested to come to the park that day and enjoy the afternoon of activities. For more information call the park office at 218-437-8174.

State parks open house scheduled to be held Sunday

Annual Minnesota state parks open house will be held from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday, June 4.

Each year the Department of Natural Resources invited the public to visit Minnesota's state parks for free on the first Sunday in June.

In addition to enjoying some of nature's most beautiful natural resources, visitors can take part in events that many parks schedule in connection with the open house.

At Old Mill State Park, for example, old-fashioned lemonade, cookies and coffee will be served by the Newfolden Lions Club. While at the park, visitors can see the historic mill, which is put back in service each year during Labor Day weekend Grinding Days.

No Changes To Wetland Law This Session

Despite a lot of time and effort and what seemed to be early popular support, Minnesota's legislative session ended last week without change being made in Minnesota's Wetland Conservation Act. This was a depressing blow to supporters of change, including area legislators and the newly-formed Minnesota Landowners Rights Association.

Leonard Furuseth of Thief River Falls, president of the Minnesota Landowners Rights Association, and Dave Zavoral of Grygla, who spent a good deal of time lobbying for realistic change in the law, received a liberal education in how undemocratic the democratic process of government can be.

Furuseth and Zavoral said the bill died "because of a deceitful procedural floor motion by metropolitan senators. It seems metro legislators are unconcerned about real problems of people from other parts of the state."

According to Zavoral and Furuseth, Gov. Arne Carlson had told legislators he would veto Thief River Falls Senator LeRoy Stumpf's bill to relax wetland restrictions but would sign into law Duluth Representative Willard Munger's bill to put more restrictions on the wetland law already in place.

"Gov. Carlson worked closely with DNR Commissioner Red Sando to help stop any and all compromises to Rep. Munger's bill," Furuseth said. "Gov Carlson sent a strong message to all landowners, too. Minnesota can't afford to compensate landowners to preserve their land for wetlands but expects landowners to do so at their own expense.

"You are going to have to continue to pay taxes on the property you own, pay ditching taxes but don't drain, and don't improve upon the land to increase equity because you can't," he said.

Zavoral noted that many landowners are surprised to find out that the property they have invested in over the years and intended to use as a retirement supplement may now be worthless because of the Minnesota Wetland Conservation Act of 1991.

"In 1985 Minnesota passed a Protected Waters Act to protect types 3, 4 and 5 wetlands which are true wetlands that are covered with six inches or more of water for most of the year," he said. "In 1991 Minnesota passed the Wetland Conservation Act which goes beyond reason to protect types 1, 2 and 6 wetlands which involve land that is dry 97 per cent of the year."

Furuseth was critical of the number of DNR employees lobbying legislators during the session. He also said compliance costs for state and local officials to implement the wetland rules and regulations are "astronomical."

"Twenty per cent of road tax dollars are now being spent on mitigating wetlands in road rights-of-way and not on the decaying road systems and bridges," Furuseth said. "The Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR) was granted this year $24 million to implement the Wetland Conservation Act. Private land that is devalued from wetland regulations also means a loss of revenue for property taxes for school systems and social services."

Furuseth and Zavoral said that a study done by five northwestern Minnesota counties two years ago indicted that wetlands did not recharge groundwater here. Because of underlying heavy clay soils, water had to evaporate or move laterally to dissipate. On sand ridges or sand hills the water from rain and snow did recharge groundwater, but wetlands did not have to exist of them to do so.

"BWSR relies heavily on the Anderson and Craig report for scientific data on wetlands," Zavoral added. "This data is in an unpublished term paper by two kids in college trying to get a good grade. The term paper is entitled 'How to Grow Cattails as a Renewable Energy Crop.'"

Frustration on the part of active promoters of wetland law change is understandable. With a probable majority of legislators understanding some of the problems and willing to vote for reasonable change, it was too bad that they couldn't have been given that opportunity.

Obviously a set-back in the legislature doesn't mean the issue is dead in Minnesota. We look for some additional groundwork to be done during the summer and fall and for advocates of change to be back in 1996 with an even stronger case and greater support. Change is warranted and necessary and will come eventually because it is right and proper.

Legitimate wetlands are important and deserving of public protection, but it is unfair and unrealistic to expect individual property owners to bear that burden. The public's good is the public's responsibility, and that includes paying the freight.

Thoughts For The Discouraged Farmer

One of our readers supplied us with this poem by James Whitcomb Riley that came from "Thoughts for the Discouraged Farmer." It seems as though it could have been written for this area and this time of year. We enjoyed reading it; we hope you will, too:

by James Whitcomb Riley

They's been a heap o' rain,
but the sun's out to-day,
And the clouds of the wet spell is all cleared away.
And the woods is all the greener,
and the grass is greener still;
It may rain again to-morry, but I don't think it will.

Some says the crop is ruined, and the corn is drownded out,
And propha-sy the wheat will be a failure without doubt;
But the kind Providence that has never failed us yet
Will be on hand one't more at the 'leventh hour, I bet!

Does the medder-lark complanc, as he swims high and dry
Through the waves of the wind and the blue of the sky?
Does the quail set up an whissel in a disappointed way,
Er hang his head in silunce, and sorrow all the day?

Is the chipmuck's health a'failin';
does he walk er does he run?
Don't the buzzards ooze around up thare just like they've allus done?
Is they anything the matter with the rooster's lungs er voice?
Ort a mortal be complainin'
when dumb animals rejoice?

Then let us, one and all, be contented with our lot;
The June is here this morning, and the sun is shining hot.
Oh! let us fill our harts up with the glory of the day,
And banish ev'ry doubt and care and sorrow fur away!

Whatever be our station,
with Providence fer guide,
Sich fine circumstances ort to make us satisfied;
Fer the world is full of roses,
and the roses full of dew,
And the dew is full of heavenly love that drips fer me and you.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Safety Camp registration now closed

Registrations for Safety Camp in Thief River Falls are no longer being accepted. The number of slots available for the camp have been filled. A total of 102 children have registered for the camp, which will be held June 6 and 7 at Franklin Middle school and other locations in the community.

Northland's first 3-on-3 basketball tournament is set

Plans are in place for the first Northland Summer Shootout 3-on-3 basketball tournament in Thief River Falls Saturday, July 15.

Games will be played in the Northland Community College and Lincoln High School gyms from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

There will be boys and girls divisions in three age groups – Junior High (grades 7-9 in the fall of 1995), Senior High (grades 10-12 in the fall of 1995), and Open (ages 16-over).

The Junior High games will be played to 11 points (win by 2), or 20 minutes (win by 1). Senior High and Open games will be played to 15 points (win by 2) or 25 minutes (win by 1).

Entry fee is $75 per team if registered by June 15 and $90 per team after that date. Registration deadline is June 20. An additional $5 fee will be charged for each player change or roster addition after the final entry deadline.

For additional information, or registration material, contact Rick Nikunen or Rick Nelson at Northland Community College by calling 218-681-2181.

Hockey camp opens Sunday at Old Arena

Third annual Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association Summer Hockey Camp will begin Sunday at the Old Arena.

Directed by Lincoln High School head hockey coach Pat Cullen, the three one-week sessions will feature an appearance by Tim Bergland, a former Prowler and University of Minnesota hockey captain who has played with the Washington Capitols and Tampa Bay Lightning of the NHL and is currently a member of the Chicago Wolves of the International Hockey League.

Sunday, June 4 Camp Schedule

■ Power skating sessions for Mites (3:45-4:45 p.m.), Squirts (5-6 p.m.) and Pee-Wees (5:15-7:15 p.m.), drills for Bantams (7:30-8:30 p.m.), and scrimmages for Bantams (3:45-5:45 p.m.)

Detroit Lakes wins baseball match-up 8-5...

Lakers end Prowlers' season

Balls and strikes bumped Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke out of the 1995 North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament Tuesday in an 8-5 loss to Detroit Lakes.

Prowler pitchers issued nine walks and Prowler batters struck out 12 times in the loser-out match-up of the double-elimination format at Matson Field in Moorhead.

"We hit the ball well – when we made contact – and we fielded well," pointed out Prowlers coach Dean Woodman. "But the walks just killed us."

It wasn't anything new for the Prowlers, who issued 10 walks in a 15-6 loss at the hands of Fergus Falls the previous afternoon.

North Sub-Section 8AA Baseball

■ Tuesday, May 27 - Detroit Lakes 6, Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 5 (Prowlers eliminated); Moorhead 6, Fergus Falls 2; Fergus Falls 16, Detroit Lakes 15 (Lakers eliminated)

■ Friday, June 2 - (finals) Moorhead vs. Fergus Falls, 4:30 p.m., Matson Field. If Fergus Falls wins, a second game would follow

"You couldn't ask anything more out of the kids," said Woodman. "They played hard. We just had a tough time throwing strikes."

Three home runs helped stake the Prowlers to a 4-1 lead as Rob Stock and Eric Bjorgaard hit solo shots in the second inning and Chane Keefe came up with a two-run drive in the third.

But the bottom of the third started with four consecutive walks, setting the stage for a six-run, game-winning Detroit Lakes at-bat. The Lakers squeezed three hits between six walks for those half-dozen runs.

The No. 5-seeded Prowlers ended the year at 8-14 while the No. 2-seeded Lakers advanced with a 16-5 record.

Anderson tennis MVP

Keith Anderson was named the most valuable player on the 1995 Thief River Falls boys high school tennis team and was selected as the Prowlers' 1996 team captain, it was announced by head coach Jay Furney.

Tom Stumpf was selected the hardest worker and Andy Furuseth was named most improved.

Athletic letters went seniors Dusty Eidelman, Matthew Johnson and Stumpf; Anderson and Furuseth from the junior class; sophomores Matt Gustafson, Jeremy Treithne and Brock Walseth; freshman Kyle Anderson; and eighth grader Tom Fogarty.

Furney, who resigned as the Prowlers' tennis coach following the end of the 1994 season, resumed the coaching duties late this spring.

Pair of Pioneers are all-division, all-state

Josh Stromlund and Mark St. Marie of Northland received dual honors this week when they were named to both the Minnesota Community College Conference All-Northern Division and MCCC All-State baseball teams.

Stromlund, a sophomore shortstop from Roseau, hit .403 this spring while leading the Pioneers with 15 RBI. He was earlier named to the NJCAA All-Region 13 team.

St. Marie, a freshman second baseman from Red Lake Falls, led Northland with a head-turning .525 batting average.

Northland's Mike Steen, a sophomore pitcher from Lancaster, was an All-Northern Division honorable mention pick. He was 6-4 this year with a 1.97 earned-run average.

MCCC All-Northern Division

Thief River Falls boys...

Golf letter winners listed

Three seniors, five juniors, three sophomores, and two freshmen were letter winners on the 1995 Thief River Falls boys high school golf team, it was reported by Prowlers coach Dick Tyler.

The lettermen included seniors Tim Barry, Jared Lee and Bryan Romple; juniors Chris Bjerken, Chad Hanson, James Hurst, Peter Johnson, and Josh Melby; sophomores Brian Barry, Jason Carlson and Chad Nordhagen; along with freshmen Matt Bitzegaio and Adam Nordin.

The Prowlers' season ended with a tenth place finish in the 13-team Section 8AA meet, where a 76 by Nordin was just a shot away from putting him into a state tournament-qualifying playoff.

"We were hoping to be lower, score-wise, than where we were," admitted Thief River Falls coach Dick Tyler. "Adam Nordin had a nice score and our No. 2 and No. 3 scores were okay. But our No. 4 had to be better."

However, Tyler said he was more than happy with the Prowlers' progress this spring. "You could really see a changed attitude in the kids," he explained. "They really started to believe in their golfing ability. They became more confident in themselves and had a real positive attitude."

TRF Lake Agassiz games set June 11

Thief River Falls Lake Agassiz Invitational men's slow pitch softball tournament will be played Sunday, June 11.

Entry fee for the 16-team event is $80, plus one Blue Dot softball.

Prowlers who were presented with special awards following the recent completion of the 1995 high school softball season were, left to right, Cami Sorenson, Coaches Award; Jackie Flynn, Spirit Award; Sarah Huschle, most valuable player; Racheal Stusynski, most improved player; and Jaime Femrite, Battleship Award.

Sarah Huschle is softball MVP

Most valuable player award went to Sarah Huschle Tuesday as the Thief River Falls/Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke cooperative high school softball team put the finishes touches on its 1995 season.

Rachael Stusynski was selected as the Prowlers' most improved player; Cami Sorenson received the Coaches Award; Jackie Flynn was presented with the Spirit Award; and Jaime Femrite was given the Battleship Award.

Prowlers coach John Anderson handed out athletic letters to seniors Suvi Himanen, Sally Hagen and Huschle; juniors Nicole Burns, Lisa Hovet, Traci Rendulich, Amy Peterson, Stusynski, Flynn, Femrite, and Sorenson; sophomore Amanda Hruby; freshman Sam Hjelle; and student managers Missy Hams and Kelsey Steiger.

The Prowlers went 5-11 this year, but finished with a strong North Sub-Section 8AA tournament showing when they knocked off Fergus Falls 8-4 and Bemidji 14-13 while losing to the top two seeds - Alexandria 12-2 and Moorhead 17-4 – in the double-elimination format.

"We played pretty good ball the last half of the year," said Anderson. "Beating Fergus Falls and Bemidji, and playing Moorhead and Alexandria tough, really gave us a shot of confidence. It showed we can be competitive against those kinds of programs."

With Huschle as the line senior in the starting line-up this spring, Anderson is looking for the late-season success and the returning experience to boost the Prowlers' softball fortunes in 1996.

Golf letters presented to TRF girls

Athletic letters went to nine members of the 1995 Thief River Falls girls high school golf team, it was announced by head coach Charlie Cornell.

The letters went to seniors Kelly Liden and Keri Schommer; juniors Becky Mattson, Kate Nordin, Anne Padilla, Shari Evenson, Lisa Ostby and Bobbi Dahlstrom, along with eighth grader Lindsay Drury.

Thief River Falls ended the year with an 11th place finish in the 12-team Section 8AA tournament.

"We had higher expectations," acknowledged Cornell. "The weather didn't help," he said, pointing to a cold, wet spring that hampered the Prowlers' early-season development.

Women's Softball

Barb Weiss went 3-for-4 and Mary Huot was 2-for-3 as B&E beat the Musherettes 12-9 Wednesday in Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League play. Dee Thompson was 4-for-4 and Sheila Hanson went 2-for-4 with a home run for the Musherettes.

B&E added a 14-0 win over Best Western Inn as Julie Buse and Deb Cota went 3-for-4 while Judy Skala and Huot both went 2-for-3.

The Musherettes bounced back with a 9-4 decision over Pizza Hut as Thompson hit a grand slam home run while joining Susie Kaiser and Lisa Nelson in the 2-hit category.

A bases-loaded double in the bottom of the seventh by Lori Kilen lifted the Swingers past Baker's Acres 13-12. Kerri Walton homered for the winners, who added a 17-7 victory over Digi-Key as Walton homered again and Carisa Novacek went 3-for-3.

Dawn Knott was 4-for-4 and Kathy Huschle drove in four runs as Sather Law Office/Legion handled Best Western Inn 13-13.

A 19-0 Pizza Hut win over Digi-Key featured a 3-for-4 game by Brenda Kaspick and Karen Wick, who also homered.

Marshall County Historical Society board held monthly meeting May 25

Marshall County Historical Society held its monthly board meeting on Thursday, May 25, at the museum office. Fifteen members were in attendance to discuss the sentence to serve program work on the depot platform, and work on the Alma church which will start soon with residing and repainting. Elmer Sabol is providing assistance on the depot platform also.

The board received a report on the upcoming program for the museum. The program includes a flag burning ceremony 2 p.m. June 11. A sing-a-long, and history of the flag will be held. The board learned that a special program will be held by area youth during the Marshall County Fair.

The next meeting of the board will be June 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the museum office.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT
Thrifty White Drug encourages its employees to get involved in their community. Last year Thrifty White employees delivered or served over 25,000 meals to those in need, and contributions and payroll for community projects exceeded 10% of net corporate income. Thrifty White employees also presented talks to over 4,000 people on health related topics.
In order to help meet some of the needs of the Thief River Falls area, Thrifty White will be donating checks of $250 to the following community groups and causes:
Save The Depot: A city-run organization created to save the Soo Line Railroad Depot Station, a downtown landmark. Through private and public donations, money is being raised to purchase the Depot Heritage Center. The Heritage Center is a non-profit organization that is set up to help residents of the community. It serves meals five days a week, has a blood pressure clinic on Thursday mornings and sponsors workshops for Senior Citizens among other programs. Food Shelf: A non-profit organization designed to assist low income families. All items are received through donations from the private and public sectors of the communities they serve. Hospice: The Hospice organization of Thief River Falls is set up to assure terminally ill patients and their families that others care. It helps our families during the difficult days ahead and as the family sets out to rebuild its life.

Woman saves child

Stephen — Quick thinking and chance saved a four-year old child from a car fire on Tuesday, May 30.

It was by chance that Sue Anderson saw the flames coming up over the steering wheel of a Dodge Caravan. It was quick and clear thinking that allowed Anderson to get the child out of the car and then holler to a neighbor to call 9-1-1.

The Stephen fire department arrived shortly after and extinguished the fire. The cause of the fire is still being investigated.

Horse and buggy Day

Oklee — Saturday, June 10 is Oklee's first Horse and Buggy Day, rain or shine.

The event will include a city rummage sale, a bake sale, games and races, an apple pie contest and of course, a parade of horses and buggies.

—The Oklee Herald

A lot of garbage

Middle River — The city council is trying to write and adopt a city ordinance which addresses the problem of junk automobile and other trash.

They are asking citizens to attend a meeting on June 29 and discuss ideas on the matter. Ordinances from other cities in Marshall county will be available for review.

Cafe under new management

Lake Bronson — The cafe in Lake Bronson is open again and under new management. The new owners of Paul and Jeri's are Paul Brosdahl of Warroad and Jerilyn Pietsch of Roosevelt.

Paul and Jeri are absentee owners, but they have hired Kristi Wahlbeck, who has been waitressing at the cafe for three and one half years, as the manager.

Honoring MIAs and POWs with a stamp dedication

Badger — The day after Memorial Day, Badger Postmaster Karen Krantz had a stamp dedication for the new stamps which honor POWs and MIAs. County veterans service officer Buddy Magnusson and Job Service's veterans representative Dan Chase also participated.

Many men from the region were missing during various wars and some were prisoners of war during WWII. Stamps are a tribute to all MIAs and POWs who served America.

Theft charge filed on former chief deputy recorder

Red Lake Falls — Former chief deputy recorder for Red Lake County, Kathy Nord, has been charged on one count of theft.

According to county attorney Dan Geller, Nord admitted to one theft of $65, but after examining the county books, the state auditor found several cases of missing funds, totaling $309. The court is alleging Nord was involved with the other thefts.

46th Northwest Dairy Day here Tuesday

Young dairy farm family members from throughout northwestern Minnesota will bring their cattle to Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 13, for the 46th annual Northwest Dairy Day. The dairy cattle show will take place at the Pennington county fairgrounds, beginning with a showmanship demonstration at 9:30 a.m.

In conjunction with Northwest Dairy Day, the Region I ADA Princess contest will be conducted. The 14 candidates for this honor will participate in judging and public events Monday, June 12, at the Best Western Inn and Tuesday morning.

Coronation is scheduled for 1 p.m. at the fairgrounds (this will be moved to the Best Western in case of rain) and the public is encouraged to attend this as well as other Dairy Day events. The princess contest is held in Thief River Falls or another community in Region I on alternating years.

Special guests during the princess activities will be Julie Sauber of Lakeville, Princess Kay of the Milky Way, and Heather Benbo of Winger, Region I ADA Dairy Princess, who will crown her successor. Winner of the Region I title competes for state Princess Kay honors this fall at the Minnesota State Fair.

Candidates include Natalie Foltz, Sheri Lage and Andrea Tntland, Becker county; Laura Hess, Marshall county; Kathy Hedlund, Cass county; Tricia Sakrismo, Norman county; Sara Haglund and Nicole Konickson, Red Lake county; Joni Benson and Carrie Berg, Wadena county; SueAnn Hemp, Roseau county; Jessica Olson, Theresa Benbo and Mandy Benbo, Polk county.

Reflective of a decline in dairy farms in northwestern Minnesota, number of cattle entered in the dairy show has fallen off from previous years. This year 56 entries have been received in the dairy cattle show, but somewhat remarkably, five of the major dairy breeds—including Holstein, Guernsey, Jersey, Ayrshire and Brown Swiss—are represented in the entries.

Opening event of the day—and also one which the public is encouraged to attend—is a pancake breakfast to be served from 7 to 10:30 a.m. in the curling club building by the Pennington county chapter of the Minnesota American Dairy Association.

Cost will be $2 for a breakfast of pancakes, sausages, butter, syrup, ice cream, milk and coffee. Ingrid Hanson, Pennington County Junior Dairy Princess, will assist with the serving.

Northern Paving of Crookston has almost finished the last phase of the downtown street improvement project, which began a year ago. The final one and one-half inch of bituminous, called the wearing course, is being put on the streets. The crew worked in phases to prevent a situation in which all of the streets would be closed at the same time.

All Nations Cultural Festival program full

A wide variety of cultures will be represented at the third annual All Nations Cultural Festival to be presented July 8 and 9 at Island Park in St. Hilaire. Entertainment will be provided for people of all ages.

Main stage performers representing cultures from throughout the world will entertain virtually non-stop from 11 a.m. until well into the evening hours.

Among those scheduled to appear are L'Ensemble Folklorique de la Rivere-Rouge, a French Canadian group; The Caribbean Connection; The Irish Tavern Singers; Heart of Croatia Tamburitzans; Harmony Swings band from Orebro, Sweden; Fialka Ukrainian Dance Ensemble; and the Fresh Tracks Drum Group and Ojibwe Dancers from the Red Lake Indian Reservation.

Large circus-type tents are being provided to ensure the program is held rain or shine, according to the festival promoters. Last year the event tripled in size from the first year and a larger program this year is expected to result in increased attendance.

Additional entertainment off the concert stage will be provided by the Coon & Crockett Muzzle-loaders of Grand Forks and Fur Traders from Bemidji, who will set up an 1840s encampment; the Red Lake Reservation Native American encampment; pony and llama rides for the children; petting zoo; and

Karlstad has entry in Miss TRF program

(Editor's Note: Personal feature stories on candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title will be carried in the Northern Watch and The Times for the next three weeks. The official Miss America program will be held Saturday, July 1, in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

Performing on stage will be nothing new for Christine Anderson of Karlstad when she participates in the Miss Thief River Falls program. She has been involved in music programs and vocal and talent competitions for a number of years.

Twenty-year-old Chrissy is the daughter of Ronald and LaVonne Anderson of Karlstad and will be a junior this fall at Bethel College in St. Paul where she is majoring in nursing. A 1993 graduate of Heritage Christian School at Karlstad, she is five feet seven inches tall, has blonde hair and blue eyes. Her talent number for the Miss TRF program will be a vocal solo, "Let There Be Praise" by Sandi Patti.

Music has been a major part of her life as she has taken eight years of piano lessons, played clarinet in the school band for five years and sung in the choir as well as competing in solo and ensemble contests on the state and national levels for five years. As a freshman at the University of North Dakota before transferring to Bethel for her sophomore year she was a member of the Allegro women's choir.

For three years at the Heritage school she was a member of the Heritage Quartet, a women's group which sang at churches and for commencement and baccalaureate services in the northern Minnesota area.

For two successive years she won first place in the state Accelerated Christian Education (ACE) vocal competition and one year placed ninth in the international contest. She has competed through ACE competition nationally in Texas, Arizona and Indiana.

Christine Anderson

Twice Chrissy has placed second in the amateur talent contest at the Marshall County Fair in Warren. Several years ago she won the on-stage personality award at a Karlstad Miss Teen competition.

She ranked first in her class academically, received the Presidential Academic Fitness Award, was a consistent honor roll achiever and was awarded a college scholarship by the Karlstad Civic and Commerce Association.

At UND she was selected as a

Turkey industry continues to grow in Minnesota

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

The turkey is a bird that doesn't often get a lot of respect. Well that is starting to change. This month turkey is being recognized as a delicious alternative to other meats because June is Turkey Lovers' Month.

Northern Pride

Where better to celebrate the turkey than here in northern Minnesota where Northern Pride cooperative plant is now in its seventh year of production? The Thief River Falls plant is a cooperative of 30 growers from northwest Minnesota and eastern North Dakota.

Turkey consumption in the United States has risen since the late 1980's. In 1988 the average amount of turkey consumed by an American was 14 pounds; since 1992 that figure has held steady at 18 pounds and is expected to rise as more and more people are turning to turkey as a tasty source of protein. This year, Northern Pride will process 1.8 million birds, that's 34 million pounds of turkey, 10 per cent more than last year.

Northern Pride packages whole turkeys under 30 different labels, including specially packaged "gift

Northern Pride generally packs four turkeys to a box for shipping, but they also individually pack gift turkeys for companies. These turkeys are being packaged as holiday gifts for UPS employees

Those eight-week old turkeys at the Umber farm are called free-range, sun porch or semi-confinement turkeys because they are allowed to come and go from the barn. Some free range turkeys have no barn at all; they live in a fenced-in field. About 30 per cent of the birds processed by Northern Pride are free-range.

Miniature golf

Warroad — Two people in Warroad have just opened a miniature golf course in Warroad. Putt 4 Par is located right by the outdoor pool. This location was picked because of its proximity to the city park and campground. The owners' want to cater to the tourists there.

The park was open for Memorial Day and is open seven days a week from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Passed inspection

Warren — Marshall county's jail passed inspection on May 18. Inspector LaRoy L. Wiebold found the facility 100 per cent in compliance mandatory items and non-mandatory items. He commended the Marshall county board for supporting the sheriff and staff and said that their were no inmate complaints.

The jail has been placed on a biennial inspection status as a result of its excellent condition.

Contast winner

East Grand Forks — A forth grade student from East Grand Forks won a national poster contest to raise awareness of the U.S. Savings bonds program.

Ethan Custer traveled to Washington to accept his prize at the Treasury Department Cash Room. He and his family met U.S. Treasurer Mary Ellen Winthrow and toured the city.

For the next year, Ethan's poster will be displayed at the entrance of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and copies of the poster will be displayed in post offices and airports around the country.

"Anne of Green Gables" in Warroad

Warroad Summer Theatre will present the stage musical "Anne of Green Gables," based on the best-selling book by L. M. Montgomery.

The play tells the story of Anne Shirley (Beth Adams), who is adopted by Marilla Cuthbert (Darlene Smith) and her brother Matthew (Bob Turner).

Anne warms the hearts of those around her, including, her best friend, Diana Berry (Jenny Biesel) and Gilbert Blythe (Casey Guy). Other characters from the village of Avonlea include Rachel Lynde (Anne Cole), Josie Pye (Tember Melby), Moody Spurgeon (Caleb Heppner), Florence Remsen (Julie Jones), Minnie Stearn (Barb Larson), Mrs. Spencer (Jill Anderson), Mrs. Berry (Annie Daedlow), Mrs. Allan (Jackie Kliner) and Ira Mills (Corky Lang).

This family-oriented play is directed by San Diego native, Corky Lang, with California native, David Wilhelmi, as the technical director.

The play runs June 23-25 and June 27-July 2. For ticket information, call the WST box office at (218)386-3435 from 1 to 5 p.m. daily.

Music Festival held June 18 at Old Mill

A music festival will be held at Old Mill State Park on June 18. The event is sponsored by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Old Mill State Park, and KSNR radio.

Events and activities include: 11 a.m. children's activity — Observe tiny water organisms that inhabit shallow ponds of the region. These tiny forms of life provide food for many larger animals like baby fish.

From 1:30 to 5 p.m. the music festival will be held. Many varieties will be performed by artists. The North Country String band, members of the Red River Valley Fiddler's Association and several other local artists will be in attendance.

At 3 p.m. a tour of the Old Mill site will be held. Learn about the operation of the old flour mill and the pioneer family who ran it long ago.

For more information or to volunteer to perform, call the Park at (218) 437-8174, or write: Old Mill State Park, Route 1, Box 43, Argyle, MN 56713.

Swim team still accepting registrations

It's not too late to sign up for the Thief River Falls Summer Swim Team. The program is open to swimmers of all ages. Instruction will be given in the four competitive swim strokes, starts and turns. Fitness swimmers may work with the coach to improve conditioning.

Swim practices are Monday through Friday from 7 to 8:30 a.m., and Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Swim meets will be held during the summer.

Registration can be accomplished by attending any of the swim practices at the times listed.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaFoursiere

Here are some easy meals to make feeding the family on those hot days a pleasure.

WILTED SPINACH AND CHICKEN SALAD

2 boneless, skinless chicken breast halves (1/2 pound)
4 slices bacon
1 tablespoon sesame seed
1/4 cup vinegar
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 pound fresh spinach, washed well
1/2 small red onion, thinly sliced

Cut chicken into 1-inch pieces. Set aside.

Cook bacon in Dutch oven over medium heat until crisp. Drain bacon and crumble, reserving fat in Dutch oven. Stir in chicken and sesame seed and cook 6-7 minutes over medium heat, stirring frequently, until chicken is white.

Mix vinegar, sugar, cornstarch, salt and pepper. Stir into chicken mixture. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly, and cook 1 minute.

Remove from heat and add spinach and onion. Toss 2-3 minutes, until spinach is wilted. Sprinkle with bacon and serve immediately.

TEX-MEX SCRAMBLED EGGS WITH TORTILLAS

6 corn tortillas (6 inches in diameter)
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 bunch green onions (with tops), chopped
6 beaten eggs
1 cup cubed Mexican-style process cheese with jalapeno chilies (4 ounces)

Cut each tortilla into 12 wedges. Heat oil in skillet until just hot. Cook wedges in oil over medium high heat, stirring frequently, until crisp.

Reduce heat and add onions. Cook and stir over medium heat for 1 minute.

Pour eggs over above mixture and as eggs begin to set at bottom and side, lift cooked portions with spatula so that uncooked portions can flow to bottom. Do not stir.

Top with cheese and continue cooking 1-2 minutes until cheese is melted and eggs are thickened throughout but still moist.

Serve with chopped tomato and cilantro, if desired.

EASY ITALIAN DINNER

1 pound ground beef
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1 (9 ounce) package frozen Italian green beans
1 package Hamburger Helper mix for zesty Italian macaroni meal
3 3/4 cups hot water
1/2 cup small curd creamed cottage cheese
1 cup shredded mozzarella cheese
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook beef and garlic in skillet, stirring occasionally (do not burn garlic). Drain.

Rinse beans in cold water to separate and then stir beans, Hamburger Helper and sauce mix and hot water into meat mixture.

Heat to boiling, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat, cover and simmer about 20 minutes, stirring occasionally, until beans are tender and macaroni is cooked.

Remove from heat and stir in cottage cheese. Sprinkle mozzarella and Parmesan on top, cover and let stand 5 minutes until cheese is melted.

Open house for 60th anniversary

The children of Alfred and Rebecca Solem are hosting an open house in honor of the Solem's 60th wedding anniversary. The event will take place Sunday, June 11 at the 2nd floor of CNC Unit at Northwest Medical Center from 2-4 p.m.

Andy Sharman Furusath of Thief River Falls was taken by ambulance to the hospital with injuries to his head, back, knee and ribs. He was treated and released. At about 4:45 p.m. June 6, police received a report of an accident at Fourth and Knight. According to police records, Wayne Allan Davis of Bemidji was driving a 1990 Ford pickup east on Fourth Street when he went through a yield sign and hit the Furusath vehicle, which was traveling south on Knight. Furusath's vehicle, hit a light pole after the collision. Damage to the Davis vehicle was estimated at $3,000. The Furusath vehicle was considered a total loss. Davis received a citation for failure to yield.

Region One meeting scheduled on Medical transportation needs

Regional Coordinating Boards one and three, representing counties in northwestern and central Minnesota, announced a public meeting on medical transportation issues from 1 to 5 p.m. Wednesday, June 21, at the Akeley Senior Center in Akeley.

The meeting will focus on medical transportation issues and the potential for coordination of services. The Minnesota Departments of Health, Human Services, and Transportation, first responders, and local volunteer drivers are among those who will present information during the meeting. Public comment is greatly encouraged and will be taken during the meeting.

To allow the greatest participation possible, the board asks that public comment be limited to three minutes for each presenter. Written comments may be submitted instead of or in addition to an oral presentation.

The Regional Coordinating boards, consisting of consumer, provider, employer, labor, health plan, public health and government representatives, were established by the 1992 MinnesotaCare Act and have been meeting since January 1993, working to identify issues they believe are top concerns about health care reform in the region. The boards will continue to meet in several communities throughout the region in the coming months and encourage public attendance and participation.

Region one includes the following counties: Becker, Beltrami, Clay, Clearwater, Hubbard, Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall, Normon, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, Roseau, and Wilkin. Region three counties include Benton, Coss, Chisogo, Crow Wing, Douglas, Grant, Isanti, Mille Lacs, Morrison, Ottertail, Pope, Sherburne, Stearns, Stevens, Todd, Troverse, Wadena, and Wright.

"The Tree— A Trunk Of Treasures"

Pennington Soil and Water Conservation District recently announced the winners in three age groups of its conservation essay contest. The contest stimulates young people to research conservation questions and put their knowledge and opinion in writing. Subject this year was "The Tree—A Trunk of Treasures."

In today's editorials we are going to share the first and second place winners in the elementary division. The winners are both 11-year-old fifth graders at Challenger Elementary and Preschool. Their observations are worthwhile for all of us to consider.

THE TREE—A TRUNK OF TREASURES

by JoAnna Swantek

Trees are wonderful! They give us something. Something magnificent and glorious. Life! Life is very important. Trees help us live in a lot of ways. That is what I'm going to talk about.

I remember when I was in kindergarten. We were given trees to plant. My two brothers and I each got flowering crab trees. Tom, my oldest brother, is 19 now. His tree is 15 years old. The tree is strong and tall. My other brother, Eddie, planted his tree 10 years ago. They are a pair on our boulevard. My tree is six years old. It is growing in front of our house in the country. Some day it will be a shade tree like the others. If everyone planted a tree, it would help the environment.

I always thought farmers cut down trees for land and to clear their property. They do sometimes. I also thought the trees in the front of their fields were the only part of the forest left until I found out they were used for a wind break. The trees help the farmers. Hurrah for the trees! They stop the wind from blowing the soil away from the field so the crops can grow. When the crops are grown the farmers bring the food to stores and they package and refrigerate the food so we can eat. This is not the end of my tree story. It has just begun!

You know those beautiful nature hikes that people go on? What would they be like without trees? The forest is the home for animals. We can enjoy the beauty of the forest along with the animals when we go camping, fishing and hiking.

I also know another way trees are helpful. You know that hard day at work? You come home and you're tired and you need to relax. Well if you have two trees and a hammock, you can lay down and swing between the shade of the two trees. Now that's what I would call "relaxing!"

Trees also give us food. In the morning when you eat those delicious pancakes smothered in maple syrup, there is a special tree that makes that syrup. It is called a maple tree. A lot of maple trees are needed to make maple syrup. The tree needs to be at least 10 inches in diameter if it is going to be tapped for the syrup, otherwise it will die. People might think that putting a hole in a tree and taking sap out will hurt the tree, but it won't. For example, when someone donates blood, the blood that is taken out is eventually replaced in their body. It is the same with the maple tree.

Trees give us oxygen. Trees, through photosynthesis, a process in which trees make food, take carbon dioxide that is in the atmosphere and store the carbon in their wood. They release the oxygen so we can breathe and live. Because carbon dioxide increases the warming of the earth, the trees are doing a service for us by decreasing the carbon dioxide in the air and keeping our planet cool.

When people want to relax outside in the summer, they often don't know what the sun can do to their unprotected skin while they rest and read a book. To prevent sunburn, I suggest lounging under a tree to stay cool.

The title of this essay is right! Trees are definitely a trunk of treasures because they help us to breathe, give us shade, supply us with food and lumber and help us to enjoy the outdoors. Let's plant a tree every year to help the earth to stay healthy and beautiful, grow and prosper.

THE TREE—A TRUNK OF TREASURES

by Kay Steiger

The tree is the most amazing plant by far. Some can grow taller than a 30-story building. They are also the oldest known living thing. There are some that live for thousands of years.

The tree is not like any other plant. They shade houses and streets for years. It is more for personal satisfaction that people plant trees. If you are the get-rich-quick type, trees are not something you would invest in. A tree lets you know it will be around for generations to come. Many people go out into the woods to think, to relax, and to appreciate nature. Mother Nature has been kind to us to give us trees. We would not survive without trees.

We use trees for many things. Furniture, books, paper, air, fruit, cardboard, there is even sawdust in telephone cords! We need trees for many things. Many people are connected with trees in many ways. There are lumberjacks, overseers for logging camps, managers, furniture retailers, national park rangers and many others. Many houses are built out of wood, too.

The largest living thing is the General Sherman Tree. It is over 275 feet tall and 37 feet across the trunk. It is estimated to date back to 200 B.C.

Almost every animal depends on trees. Chipmunks, squirrels and other small rodents depend on trees. The white-tailed deer and moose depend on the bark of trees during the winter. Many rain forest animals also depend on trees as their homes, food and shade.

Without trees, this planet would be unliveable. Trees help clean our air, soil and water, plus give us shade from the sun's heat.

Have you ever thought about if trees could talk? Oh, what stories they would tell! A tree sees and hears everything, but they choose to remain silent.

There are hundreds of kinds of trees. Apples trees, Ash trees, American Beech, Flowering Dogwood, American Elm, American Chestnut, Live Oak, Red Maple, Weeping Willow, Balsam Fir, Sugar Pine, Black Spruce and Red Juniper are just some of the many trees around the world.

We must work to conserve our trees. For if we lose them, we have lost our planet.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund makes grant to Thief River Falls library for growth

Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund has made an additional $900 grant to the Thief River Falls public library for further growth of the Northwest Minnesota Nonprofit and Business Collection for Libraries.

Housed at libraries in Thief River Falls, Bemidji, Crookston and Warroad, the collection was started with money from the Initiative Fund and includes an extensive selection of reference and circulating materials on grants, fund raising, business and nonprofit management, finance, investment and employee job skills. The materials are available in a variety of books, periodicals, video tapes, audio cassettes and CD-ROM.

While each library has a unique assortment of materials from which to choose (except for reference titles there is very little duplication among the locations), all circulating materials are available to all library users through inter-library loan. To facilitate this process, the libraries have prepared a joint bibliography containing a complete list of all titles on hand at all sites.

More than 500 separate items are presently catalogued in the joint bibliography. Anyone wishing to obtain a copy may contact Diane Backer at the Initiative Fund office (1-800-659-7859) or stop by one of the four libraries.

Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund is a charitable foundation committed to improving the quality of life for residents of northwest Minnesota, focusing on the principal goals of increasing economic growth and business development and increasing the capacity of individuals and organizations to shape the region's future.

Senior Federation to discuss program

General assembly of the Northwest Region, Minnesota Senior Federation, will concentrate on the Senior Partner Care Program when it meets Friday, June 16, at the Heritage Community Center in Thief River Falls.

Senior Partner Care is the Minnesota Senior Federation's health care access program for modest income seniors—those not poor enough to qualify for medical assistance but who do not have enough resources to pay for supplemental insurance to cover the gaps left by Medicare.

Physicians and hospitals participating in the program agree to accept Medicare as payment in full thereby waiving all deductibles and copayments, while other providers give significant discounts to seniors meeting the income guidelines for the program.

Senior Partner Care is not an insurance program so there are no charges nor premiums. For more information attend the assembly or call the regional office at 681-4507.

Jitterbugging in Skime on Saturday

The June Jitterbugging in Skime is scheduled for Saturday, June 10 in the field just south of the Skime Store in southwest Riene township, seven and one quarter miles south of the Hayes Park road on Roseau county road # 9.

Activities include a fun run, volleyball, baseball, horse shoes, karaoke and a rifle raffle. The Roseau Eagles will serve a pig roast at 6 p.m., and a country dance will start at 9 p.m.

Tickets are $8 in advance and $10 at the gate. For more information contact Joan Brateng at 218-425-7273.

About 40 Girls Scouts will participate in Girl Scout Day Camp set for June 19-23

Thief River Falls Girl Scout Camp will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily from June 19-23.

Camp Moe will again be the setting for a week filled with activities for about 40 Girl Scouts who have completed grades one through five. The girls will participate in activities, craft time, a snack and cook their lunch over an open fire everyday and will earn a day camp patch. Junior Girl Scouts who choose to participate will have the opportunity to stay overnight in tents on Wednesday evening.

Bus transportation to and from the camp will be available on a daily basis. The bus schedule is as follows:

Morning pick up	Time
Lincoln High School	9:00 a.m
Franklin Middle School	9:10 a.m
Challenger Elementary	9:20 a.m
Arrives at Camp Moe	9:30 a.m

Afternoon drop off	Time
Leaves Camp Moe	2:30 p.m
Challenger Elementary	2:40 p.m
Franklin Middle School	2:50 p.m
Lincoln High School	3:00 p.m

Camp directors will assume all girls will be riding the bus at the end of the day, unless they have been notified. If anyone has any questions or would like to help, they may call either of the camp co-directors, Pat Heschke at 681-4396 or Robyn Pream at 681-5395.

Roseau Legion to host district convention

American Legion Kaleb E. Lindquest Post and Unit 24 will host the 9th District Convention June 16-17 at Roseau. The meetings will be held at the high school and post home.

Guests for the event will include the Department commander, Bill Barbknecht of Underwood, and Department president, Bev Otterness of North Branch.

The post meetings will be chaired by the District commander, Ed Albertson of Moorhead, and the auxiliary meetings by District president, Hilma Streich of East Grand Forks.

Deadline is set for Roseau area art show

Nine artists have already signed on to participate in Art in the Park on the Farm, a Roseau Area Arts Association event planned Sunday, July 16 from 12 to 5 p.m. at Pioneer Farm and Village, two and one half miles west of Roseau on Highway 11. In order to include all names of artists in the brochure for the event registrations are needed by June 15. No commission on art sales will be expected by the arts association this year; artists will pay only a small registration fee.

New exhibitors should submit three samples (works or photos thereof) to be juried on June 5. Previous exhibitors need not be juried unless they intend to show work in a media and/or style entirely different from past shows.

For information or application forms write to P.O. Box 135, Roseau, MN 56751.

Air show to be a part of Roseau county centennial

As part of the centennial celebration of Roseau city and county, the Roseau Flying Club is hosting a centennial air show Saturday, June 17, at the Roseau municipal airport.

A fly-in, drive-in breakfast will be served from 8 a.m. to noon, aircraft will be on display and model airplane show and airplane rides will go on all day.

At 1 p.m. the air show itself will start with pilots Al Warren, Kent Pietsch and John Mohr presenting such acts as ribbon cutting, comedy routines, Stearman and helicopter aerobatics, climaxing with a plane to helicopter transfer.

Admission to the air show is $6 for adults, $3.50 for students 6-12, or $20 per family with children under age six admitted free. Pancake breakfast cost is $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for those 12 and younger.

Concessions will be available all day. Persons attending are advised to bring lawn chairs and sunglasses.

Jill Duray awarded UM scholarship

Jill Duray, daughter of Gerald and Judy Duray of Thief River Falls and a 1995 graduate of Lincoln high school, has been awarded the Iron Range Merit Scholarship at the Twin Cities campus of the University of Minnesota.

The scholarship honors incoming students who have demonstrated exceptional academic performance and leadership. Jill plans to major in international business as a freshman at the university this fall.

Community Action board meeting

The Northwest Community Action, Inc. Board of Directors will hold their regular Board Meeting on June 15, 1995 at 7 p.m. in the Badger office. This meeting is open to the public.

46th Northwest Dairy Day Tuesday

Dairy entries open at 7:30 a.m. and showmen from throughout the region will begin arriving about that time to wash and groom their animals for the show ring. At 9:30 a.m. a showmanship demonstration by Roy Larson of Gatzke, senior showmanship champion at the 1994 show, will be presented with comments by dairy show judges Tom Foss of Avon and Scott Duroff of Little Falls.

Junior and senior showmanship contests will begin immediately following the demonstration, followed by the various cattle classes. Once again this year Holsteins will comprise the majority of the entries.

In keeping with a long-established tradition at Dairy Day, the showman of the grand champion grade animal of the show will receive a purebred calf of the breed of his or her choice at the next year's Dairy Day. Kelly Fulton of Warren, who won the grade championship last year, will receive her purebred calf at the show Tuesday.

Showman of the grand champion purebred of the show will receive an expense-paid trip to the World Dairy Expo in Madison, WI, next October.

Other awards presented will be the overall show champion, best uddered cow, Hamre Individual Herd award (best three animals shown by a single exhibitor), Klem Gjestad County Herd Award (best five animals from a single county), junior show champion, 10 year and 11-year participation awards and the Stuart McLeod Award for exceptional Dairy Day participation.

Awards program is scheduled for 12 noon with the princess coronation to follow. Livestock show supervisor is Howard Person, Pennington county extension educator and president of the Northwest Dairy Improvement Association, sponsor of Northwest Dairy Day along with area banks and creameries and Thief River Falls and other area business places.

representative for hall government and was an active member of Campus Crusade for Christ. At Bethel she was selected to serve on "Barnabas," a branch of Campus Ministries. While in high school she was very active in the Karlstad Baptist youth group.

In addition to her parents, her family includes a sister, Caroline, 21, who will be a senior at UND next fall and lives in Grand Forks, ND; sister Kelsie, 15 and brother Samuel, 6, both at home.

Chrissy is also no stranger to work. For five summers she was employed by Fish Construction of Halma constructing steel grain bins. She has been a secretary at UND, a switchboard operator at Bethel and for two and a half years has been a nursing assistant at Karlstad Memorial Nursing home, where she is employed this summer.

Her hobbies include singing, reading novels, intramural basketball and volleyball, swimming and spending time with friends and family. In high school she also played soccer and in college has played intramural softball.

Chrissy plans to specialize in either emergency care or surgery after receiving her nursing degree.

"From my experience working as a nursing assistant in a local nursing home, I have become aware of the various needs of the elderly," she said. "I am concerned that these needs be met in a secure environment and in a loving and caring manner."

TRF man in custody in Marshall Co.

Ralph Isaak, 45, of rural Thief River Falls has been arrested and is in custody in Marshall county.

According to a spokesperson with the sheriff's department, Isaak was arrested after report of an incident June 7. He appeared in court Thursday, June 8, and faces a felony count of pattern of harassing contact, a felony count of kidnapping, a felony count of terroristic threats, and one count of gross misdemeanor violation of a protection order. According to the spokesperson, the charges stem from a series of events involving one victim, not just the incident on June 7. Bond was set at $25,000.

These turkeys belong to John and Glorie Umber, Northern Pride grower-owners who raise four batches of turkeys a year. The young poults must be checked each hour around the clock. Older turkeys need their bedding changed and their water troughs cleaned every two to three days. The barns are thoroughly scrubbed and disinfected before a new batch of turkeys arrive. On the average a turkey farmer raises 50,000 turkeys per year.

Sheriff's dept. arrests Newfolden woman on charges of theft

Susan Marie Peterson of Newfolden was arrested Thursday, June 8, by the Pennington county sheriff's department on charges of felony theft. Peterson is a former employee of KTRF/KSNR and was recently elected to the school board in Newfolden, School District 441.

Peterson, 34, faces three counts of felony theft as a result of alleged internal thefts from KTRF/KSNR, which is owned and operated by Border States Broadcasting. Peterson was a bookkeeper at the station. It is alleged that during at least three six month periods she used a credit card to purchase goods and deposited money in her credit card account with money from the station. A sheriff's department spokesperson said that the sheriff's department does not know what was purchased with the money, but it has not been returned.

On June 8 at 1:11 p.m. the sheriff's department executed a search warrant at Peterson's residence and confiscated several documents. The sheriff's department is continuing its investigation into the alleged theft.

The total amount listed in the complaint is estimated at $30,708.37. It is alleged in the complaint that the money was taken between the following dates: April 1, 1994 to September 1, 1994; September 2, 1994 to February 1, 1995; and February 2, 1995 to May 31, 1995. The three felony charges listed in the complaint are for a serious felony of over $2,500 and under $35,000. Peterson was expected to appear in a Ninth District courtroom Friday. On Friday morning, she was being held at the Pennington county law enforcement center.

Zion Lutheran church in Viking to observe its 90th anniversary

Zion Lutheran Church in Viking will observe the 90th anniversary of the congregation June 17 and 18, beginning with an anniversary banquet Saturday at 6:30 p.m. in the Viking elementary school.

Banquet program will include greetings from several former pastors who have indicated they will be in attendance and music by the high school youth of the church. Tickets to the banquet can be purchased from Lynnae Halvorson.

A festive anniversary worship and communion service Sunday morning will include greetings by former pastors and the sermon given by Rev. Arthur Rimmereid, bishop of the Northwest Minnesota Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA).

A fellowship potluck dinner will be served at noon in the church basement and an informal program of music, greetings and sharing of anecdotes from the past will take place at 1:30 p.m. in the sanctuary. The program will be followed by serving of the anniversary cake.

Former pastors who have indicated they will be in attendance at all or part of the celebration include Rev. Michael Herschberger, Rev. Richard Ewing, rev. Robert Moberg, Rev. Ralph Hofrenning, Rev. Wesley Mathre and Rev. Arthur Grorud, as well as several interim pastors.

PKM Electric Cooperative annual meet

Annual meeting of PKM Electric Cooperative will be conducted Tuesday, June 13, at 6:30 p.m. in the Warren/Alvarado high school auditorium in Warren.

Three incumbents have been nominated for reelection to the board of directors. They are John W. Anderson of Hallock, Thomas C. Woinarowicz of Stephen and Ronald E. Reitmeier of Fisher. Nominations may also be made from the floor at the meeting.

A health fair from 4 to 6:30 p.m. will precede the meeting with testing for tetanus, blood pressure, cholesterol, audiometry and glaucoma.

In 1994 the cooperative had operating revenue of $5,544,839 and operating expenses totaling $5,000,605. Net margin was $512,527 and capital credits of $193,720 were retired.

Total assets of the cooperative are listed at $11,625,713 with current liabilities of $972,931 and long term debt of $5,309,259.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew - saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

AGE-RELATED MACULAR DEGENERATION
Age-related macular degeneration (ARMD) is the most common cause of visual impairment in people over age 50. Those afflicted could have trouble reading this material because the sentences may look fuzzy. Macular degeneration can lead to loss of central vision. Peripheral (side) vision is not affected and it does not cause blindness.
Your eye doctor can detect early warning signs during your eye exam. A simple grid, called an Amsler grid, sometimes is used. Lines in the central portion of the grid may appear wavy early in the course of macular degeneration. If the disease has progressed, areas of the grid may appear to be missing.
Most people with ARMD experience slowly progressive loss of central vision. If growth of blood vessels under the retina is detected early, laser treatment can halt vision loss by destroying the vessels. If blood vessels grow until they extend under the center of the macula, treatment no longer can help.

TRF VFW added to tournament

Crookston's Section 8A high school baseball tournament championship forced a change in the 1995 Thief River Falls Invitational American Legion baseball tournament being playing this weekend at Irv Wilson Field.

Originally scheduled to be part of the two-division, round-robin Thief River Falls tournament format, Crookston extended its high school season into the Class A state tournament beginning Tuesday in St. Cloud. The opening left in the Legion tournament here was filled by the Thief River Falls VFW 16-year-olds. Legion teams are geared for players up to 18-years-old.

Thief River Falls Legion, Cambridge, International Falls, and Roseau will compete in the AA Division of the tournament, while East Grand Forks, Greenbush-Middle River, Park Rapids, and Thief River Falls VFW form the A Division.

Thief River Golf Club is host to annual Pro-Am

Rick Reierson, Ron Pickett and Dennis Holthusen teamed up with club professional Dean North for a championship combination Thursday in the annual Thief River Golf Club Pro-Am.

Competing foursomes were led by 17 club pros from the Winnipeg area in the 18-hole event that is one of the highlights of the Thief River Falls golfing calendar.

The North-led group finished with a 189 and a one-shot victory margin over foursome led by Al Scott that also include Tom Kays, Janelle Schaefer and Tom Bendickson.

North and Jim Lawrence of the Thief River Golf Club shared first place in the pro portion of the competition with a 72.

Pro-Am Top Five

1. Pro Dean North, Rick Reierson, Ron Pickett, Dennis Holthusen – 189
2. Pro Al Scott, Tom Kays, Janelle Schaefer, Tom Bendickson – 190
3. Pro Scott Parker, Bruce Williams, Jim Barry, Dick Anderson – 197
4. Pro John Isaac, Phil Williams, Dean Anderson, Steve Nesvold – 199

Changes are listed for NCC elementary basketball program

Girls portion of the Northland Community College Summer Elementary School Basketball Camp has been canceled due to low registration figures.

However, the boys portion of the June 19-21 camp will go on as scheduled, and has been converted into a co-ed program to accommodate girls who were originally scheduled to attend camp and would like to re-enroll.

Designed for players who will be in grades 3-6 this fall, the camp will be offered from 1 to 4 p.m. in the college gym.

For additional information contact Mark Dannhoff at 218-681-2181.

Jim Berry chipped on to the green Thursday during the annual Pro-Am tournament at the Thief River Golf Club.

Thieves start season with a familiar roster

Thief River Falls Thieves amateur baseball team will open its second season Monday with a 7:30 p.m. nine-inning game at Warroad.

The 19-man squad features 13 players returning from a year ago, including Chris Nelson, who led the Thieves with a .437 batting average, Marc Haugen (.430), Corey Poole (.413), Mike Steen (.363), Carter Rogalla (.352), Barry Dowers (.345), Jason Svir (.333), Rick Ostby (.326), Nathan Knutson (.309), Mike Swanson (.291), Jeremy Olson (.285), Mike Rokke (.263), and Rick Looker (.216).

Dowers serves as player-coach. Steen, Knutson and Olson were teammates on the Northland Community College baseball team this spring; Rogalla plays at the University of North Dakota; and Swanson is a member of the North Dakota State University baseball team.

Steen, Nelson, Rokke, Olson, and Ostby all pitched for the Thieves last year.

Newcomers include Steve Burslie, who hit over .600 for the 1994 Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team; Eric Bjorgaard, who hit .407 with 8 home runs as a high school senior with the Prowlers this spring; Rick Rivera, Josh Donner and Joby Looker from the Northland Community College ball club; Jason Svir, a former Thief River Falls Legion and high school standout who played just two games with the Thieves last summer before being shelved by a back problem; and Andy Peterson, a product of the Thief River Falls Legion and high school baseball programs.

Left-handed pitcher Jared Lee and catcher Dave Stengrim are the Thieves' key personnel losses from a year ago.

The Thieves' home opener is scheduled Friday, June 23, vs. Warroad at Irv Wilson Field. Additional games will be added to the '95 Thieves schedule as soon as dates are finalized against Ada and Superior, WI. Playoffs are scheduled to start the last week of July.

Shelly Sjostrand

Pitcher/first baseman from Grand Rapids is a NCC softball recruit

Shelly Sjostrand of Grand Rapids has signed a letter of intent to play softball at Northland Community College next year.

Sjostrand was Grand Rapids' No. 1 pitcher, and also played first base while hitting a team-leading .467.

"We are very excited about having Shelly in our program," said Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "She is a tremendous athlete and should step in and pitch a lot of innings for us. She throws three pitches and has the competitiveness to do well for us."

Following the season-opening tournament, the Terry Wiseth-coached Thief River Falls Legion team will host Moorhead Wednesday and head to East Grand Forks Thursday for 5:30 p.m. doubleheaders.

The Jason Svir-coached Thief River Falls VFW squad will follow the tournament appearance with 5:30 p.m. doubleheaders Tuesday vs. the Grand Forks Reds and Thursday vs. Bemidji – both at Irv Wilson Field.

Women's Softball

Swingers are the only unbeaten team in the Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League following a Wednesday night doubleheader sweep over the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners 14-13 and Sather Law Office/Legion 8-6.

Diane Walton had 3 hits and Terri George legged out 2 triples in the Swingers' eight-inning win over the previously unbeaten Ridgerunners. A sixth inning single by Patti Peterson broke a 6-6 tie in the Swingers' second-game win. Peterson, Lynette Jackson and Lori Kilen had 2 hits each.

Best Western Inn Ridgerunners bounced back to double Digi-Key 20-10 as Michelle Erickson went 4-for-4, Sara Melby 3-for-3 and Kari Tangen 2-for-4.

Sheila Hanson was 4-for-4 with a triple and a double, Karen Schmitz was also 4-for-4 and Terri Stengrim had a home run and 2 RBI as the Musherettes handled Digi-Key 25-6. Schmitz came back with a 3-for-4 game and 2 RBI, Stengrim tripled and Dee Thompson had 2 hits in 4 at-bats as the Musherettes added a 9-3 win over Baker's Acres.

Baker's Acres beat B&E 12-4 earlier in the evening as Nancy Osbornson went 3-for-3 while Dorene Myers, Angie Hoglo and Karen Bakken were all 3-for-4. Myers and Bakken had triples and Hoglo doubled.

Kathy Huschle and Odetta Blomker were both 3-for-3 in a 13-10 Sather Law Office/Legion win over Pizza Hut/Amoco 24.

A 4-for-4 game by Mary Hunt, along with a 3-for-3 effort by Deb Cota and a 3-for-4 showing by Barb Wiess carried B&E past Pizza Hut/Amoco 24 by a 12-2 margin.

Red Lake Falls Softball

Both men's and women's games will be featured in the Red Lake Falls Invitational slow pitch softball tournament Sunday, June 18.

There is a 4-team, round-robin format in place for the women and an 8-year, double-elimination set-up for men.

Entry fee is $80 plus one softball for both portions of the tournament.

Tournament directors are Al Cota, telephone 218-253-2049; and Bob Philion, telephone 218-253-4372.

Warren Race Track

Due to conflicting dates with the Grand Forks Speedway, the Wissota Super Stock and Outlaw Sprint Car racing scheduled in Warren Sunday, June 18, has been postponed.

A new racing date will be announced later.

Dr. Klein attends NCEA exposition in Cincinnati, OH

Dr. Dixie Klein, principal at St. Bernard's school in Thief River Falls, recently attended the 92nd annual convention and exposition of the National Catholic Education Association (NCEA) in Cincinnati, OH.

Dr. Klein, who attended several sessions on development and early childhood education, said the convention was "both revitalizing and reaffirming." Some 10,000 Catholic education professionals in attendance were able to choose from more than 400 professional workshop sessions and visit about 690 booths.

With more than 200,000 members, NCEA is the largest private, professional education association in the world.

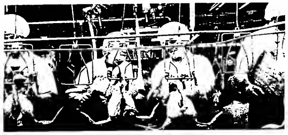
Older section of Knox Elementary school came down rather quickly. The difference is dramatic. As soon as the demolished remains of the older building are removed, the newer section will be demolished. Diamond 5 is handling the demolition.



Great care is taken in packaging the turkeys at Northern Pride where they take many precautions to make sure the plant and the birds are clean. The hard work pays off. The plant packages a higher percentage of Grade A turkeys than most plants. After the turkeys are cleaned and weighed, they are put in plastic bags and quickly cooled and frozen. In order to prevent freezer burn, a special machine pulls the remaining air out of the plastic bags and a shower of extremely hot water shrinks the plastic wrapping to fit each turkey.

Turkey industry continues to grow turkeys" to be used as corporate gifts at Christmas. Low grade turkeys are sold and shipped to other plants for further processing.

The plant has made improvements each year since they began operating. In 1994, they implemented a brine freeze which cools the birds quickly by spraying a cold salt water mixture over the bagged birds. The brine is minus 20 degrees Fahrenheit and rapidly cools the birds to about 30 degrees. The U.S.D.A. allows plants 72 hours to cool the birds, but turkeys at Northern Pride have an internal temperature of zero about 48 hours after arriving at the plant. The rapid cooling system helps prevent the spread of bacteria and creates a better product.

In 1995, the plant installed a new feather picking machine and made some changes to the processing line in an effort to streamline the process.

Raising turkeys

How do the turkeys go from being a little egg to someone's dinner? The freshly hatched chicks are less than a day old when they are shipped from hatcheries in central and southern Minnesota and Canada to turkey farms in northwestern Minnesota where they grow for any where from 13 to 19 weeks, depending on the type of turkey. The first few days are the most volatile for the poults. Their water supply and the temperature of the barn must be closely monitored, so the poults must be checked every hour. The poults are kept indoors until they are four weeks old.

The three basic types of turkeys are consumer hens, heavy hens and consumer toms. The consumer hen is the smallest, growing to a weight of 14 to 15 pounds in 13 to 14 weeks. By 18 to 19 weeks, the heavy hen weighs 21 to 23 pounds. In only 16 weeks, the consumer tom weighs 24 to 25 pounds. Approximately 40 pounds of feed is needed to raise one consumer hen and 70 pounds feeds one heavy hen or tom. Since so much feed is needed per bird, turkey farmers' profitability depends a lot on grain prices. In the months when farmers are not raising turkeys, they are watching the market and buying grain.

A recent trend among turkey consumers is the desire for free-range turkeys, meaning they are raised outdoors either with a shed for shelter or no shed at all. About 30 per cent of the turkeys produced by Northern Pride are free range turkeys.

The mature turkeys are hauled 12 to 300 miles to Northern Pride, and on an average day, the plant packages 15,000 consumer hens or 13,000 heavy hens or 12,000 toms per day.

The Industry

The turkey processing business is seasonal, generally operating from May to December when the prices are highest, but like any commodity, prices fluctuate. Weather is probably the biggest factor because it effects feed costs. In spite of the uncertainty involved in producing turkey, it has become a $6 billion a year industry, producing 5 billion pounds of turkey per year. This is good news for Minnesota which is one of the largest turkey producers in America, second only to North Carolina.

According to the National Turkey Federation, 35 per cent of the turkeys sold in the U.S. are sold during the last three months of the year and the most popular way to eat turkey is in a sandwich. However, the way we eat and think of turkey is changing.

"It's not just a Thanksgiving product anymore," said Jeff Stauffenecker, of Northern Pride. "It's a year-round product. (And it's) becoming more of a center-of-the-plate item."

He also said that what really guides the industry is the fact that turkey is a low-fat, low-caloric, low-sodium source of protein. It is also versatile and can be used in low-fat hotdogs or as a substitute for ground beef.

Plant manager Russ Christianson said, "Think turkey on the barbie! Grilled turkey makes a great summer dinner."

On that note, no story on Turkey Lovers' Month would be complete without at least one turkey recipe. So here it is: Southwestern Turkey Salad.

Spicy Southwestern Dressing:
1/4 cup and 2 tbsp of prepared salsa
2 tbsp no-fat sour cream
1 tbsp chopped fresh cilantro
In a small bowl, combine salsa, sour cream and cilantro; cover and refrigerate.

Salad:
Vegetable cooking spray
1 package (-1/4 ounces) reduced-sodium taco seasoning mix
1 pound turkey tenderloins, butter flied.
1 large head of romaine lettuce, cut in quarters lengthwise

Spray the charcoal grill rack with vegetable cooking spray. Preheat the grill for direct-heat cooking.

Sprinkle seasoning mix over each side of the tenderloins. Place the turkey on the grill rack; and grill it over hot coals for five minutes and turn. Place lettuce on grill and cook turkey and lettuce four to five minutes or until turkey is no longer pink in the center and lettuce is slightly wilted.

To serve, arrange one lettuce quarter on each of four plates. Slice tenderloins into thin strips and place over lettuce. Drizzle with dressing and enjoy.

Science project

Grygla — Brian Haugen, a junior at Grygla high school was selected to take part in a project with the National Science Foundation. He will be one of five students from Minnesota to take part in the Young Scholars Foundation Acid Rain Program.

20 students from around the country will spend five weeks at the University of Wisconsin, Superior studying the effects of acid rain. Brian says he is interested in the project because it involves two of his favorite subjects, chemistry and computers.

Russian invasion

Red Lake Falls — Two students and two instructors from Russia are spending time in northern Minnesota this summer. The students will spend six weeks in Red Lake Falls, while the instructors will spend three weeks. The students and teachers are in Minnesota through an exchange program in cooperation with Duluth and its sister city Petrozavodsk.

The program provides the Russian students and instructors with a chance to improve their English, and it provides everyone involved an opportunity to learn more about each others culture.

Later in the summer, members of U.S. host families will be traveling to Russia.

Church to celebrate 90th anniversary

Viking — The bishop of the Northwest Minnesota Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church will be a guest at the Zion Lutheran Church in Viking this weekend as the church celebrates its 90th anniversary.

The two-day anniversary observation will begin Saturday, June 17 with a banquet with several former pastors in attendance. The highlight of the celebration will be an anniversary service on Sunday with bishop Arthur Rimmereid as the guest preacher.

Let the music play

Baudette — The Lake of the Woods county museum recently acquired a new item. Maybe "new" isn't the best term to use. The player piano is, after all, over 70 years old. Allen Moe of Roseau restored the 1923 Nelson-Wiggin Orchestrion. The piano doesn't just sound like a piano; it also plays mandolin, xylophone, snare drum, bass drum, kettle drum, tambourine, crash cymbal and triangle.

Not a beauty pageant

Gonvick — The Gonvick Lions Club Rodeo will be the sight of the 1st annual Miss Gonvick Lions Rodeo competition. Young women from ages 18-24 who live within a 50 mile radius of Gonvick are invited to compete for the title.

Candidates will be judged on horsemanship, a written test, public speaking, and oral interview. The Miss Gonvick Lions Club Rodeo will be the official spokesperson for the rodeo and will travel around Minnesota promoting the sport of rodeo and horsemanship.

46th NW Dairy Day becomes "Efta Day"

Alex Efta wins show championship; Kasia Efta reserve champion purebred; Jed Efta champion Brown Swiss

Overall show champion at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday was this registered two-year-old shown by Alex Efta, 11, son of Lou and Mary Efta of rural Argyle. The cow won awards as champion purebred Holstein, breed champion Holstein, champion purebred over all breeds and best-uddered cow in addition to the overall show championship.

Forty-sixth annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 13, turned into "Efta Day" as members of the Lou and Mary Efta family of rural Argyle spent much of the day in the winners circle.

Eleven-year-old Alex Efta, in only his third year of showing at Northwest Dairy Day, walked away with the overall show championship, edging Kelly Fulton of rural Warren. Efta had the grand champion purebred of the show and grand champion Holstein while Fulton had the show's grand champion grade and reserve champion Holstein.

Thirteen-year-old Kasia Efta had the breed champion Ayrshire which also turned out to be the reserve champion purebred of the entire show. Kasia was also reserve champion in the junior showmanship division.

For a little icing on the family cake, 17-year-old Jed Efta had both the breed champion and reserve champion Brown Swiss and Efta cows contributed to a strong five-cow entry which handily won the Klem Gigstad county herd championship for Marshall county.

Crowned Region I ADA Dairy Princess was Natalie Foltz, 16, daughter of Roger and Jane Foltz of Callaway in Becker county. The Foltz family milks about 60 grade Holstein cows and Natalie shows dairy steers at the Becker County Fair in Detroit Lakes.

The 1995 graduate of Detroit Lakes high school is five feet, seven inches tall, has blond hair and blue eyes. She has a brother, Nathan, 14 and sisters Crystal, 12 and Kayla, 11. A sister Amanda, who was 15, died last year from a viral infection which affected her heart.

First runner-up in the princess contest was Kathy Hedlund of Cass county and second runner-up was Mandy Benbo of Polk county. Mandy, whose older sister Heather was the reigning Region I Princess, was also selected in a vote among the 14 candidates as Miss Congeniality.

The princess contest was held in Thief River Falls on Monday and Tuesday at the Best Western Inn. The contest site alternates from year to year between Thief River Falls and a community further south in the 16-county region.

Mya Gunderson in Miss TRF program

Mya Gunderson

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of feature stories about candidates in the Miss Thief River Falls program, an official Miss America preliminary event. The pageant will be conducted Saturday evening, July 1, in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin

Like many young people today who have an interest in music, Mya Gunderson is no stranger to performing in public. In fact, she thrives on the opportunity to sing in front of audiences and has done so from the high school gymnasium to the concert halls of Europe.

Twenty-year-old Mya is the daughter of Vernon and Peggy Gunderson of Newfolden and attended the Heritage Christian School at Karlstad where she graduated in 1993. She is five feet six and one-half inches tall, has brown hair and brown eyes. Her talent number at the Miss Thief River Falls program will be a vocal solo.

While in high school Mya was a contestant with groups from the school and as an individual soloist in Accelerated Christian Education competition. Singing with the high school choir, quartet, duets and as a soloist at state and international levels in Texas, Arizona and Indiana, she earned two fourth, three third

Area highway projects start

Construction is either underway or imminent on several area projects on state highways, according to the Minnesota Department of Transportation office at Bemidji.

According to area resident engineer Todd Broadwell in the Thief River Falls office, preparation for resurfacing of highway 32 from Thief River Falls to Middle River is underway. The work will consist of resurfacing the driving lanes, paving two feet of each shoulder and adding aggregate shouldering.

Broadwell said traffic will be maintained on the road during the entire construction project—estimated to take 40 working days—and a pilot car will lead traffic through the construction area. Mark Sand and Gravel Company of Fergus Falls is the contractor.

MnDOT project supervisor Bernie Stinson of the Thief River Falls office also noted that construction on highway 75 between Warren and Stephen in Marshall county will begin on or about June 24.

Stinson said the work will consist of culvert repairs, bituminous surface removal, pavement widening and a new bituminous surface. The current 10-foot driving lanes will be widened to 12-foot bituminous driving lanes and there will also be bituminous paving on two feet of shoulder area.

Work in Argyle on highways 75 will begin approximately July 10 and will involve replacing curb and gutter, sidewalk installation and a new bituminous surface. Traffic will be maintained during these highway 75 projects with the use of flaggers and pilot cars. Hardrives Inc. of Plymouth is the prime contractor.

Agri-Women prepare farm breakfast

Last year, volunteers helped serve breakfast to nearly 400 people at the annual Penn-Mar-Red Agri-Women Farmer's Share Breakfast. This year's breakfast will once again be held at the Ken and Connie Mehrkens's farm. This year, the group expects to feed more people than last year, so buy your tickets early at the Red Lake or Pennington county extension office.

Everybody eats; in fact, some of us consider eating one of our favorite things to do. But how often do any of us stop to think about the fact that Americans have some of the highest quality, least expensive food in the world! How many of us think about the work that goes into putting food to our table each day. Probably not many of us think about how our food gets to us, but the Minnesota Agri-Women want us to start. That's why, in the spirit of education and awareness, they host the annual Farmer's Share Breakfast.

On Wednesday, June 21, the Penn-Mar-Red Agri-Women are hosting the second annual Farmer's Share Breakfast. The cost of a ticket is 30 cents, representing the farmer's share of every dollar spent at the grocery store. The breakfast will be served from 7 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. at the Ken and Connie Mehrkens Farm, just south of Thief River Falls.

A little background

Minnesota Agri-Women is part of American Agri-Women which is a national coalition of women involved in farming and other agriculture related businesses. These women are involved in all aspects of agriculture from production to marketing. The Penn-Mar-Red branch decided to hold a breakfast to help make people aware of issues faced by the American farmer.

Last year, the breakfast was held at the Mehrkens farm where they served nearly 400 people. This year, ticket sales are high and the women are expecting over 400 people to attend. The site was chosen because of its location and size. The 10 acre farmstead has plenty of room for people and parking, and it's not far from town.

Table for 400, please

So just how does one go about serving breakfast for that many people? The chapter has a lot of leaders, said Connie Mehrkens. Everyone picked a different area on which to focus, then just went out and did what needed to be done.

"I really enjoyed working with this organization," said Connie, adding that they are not afraid to get things done.

Last year, the organization bought all the food and supplies for the breakfast, but this year, many local businesses donated to the event. The ham was donated by St. Hilaire Elevator, the eggs were from Fred

Youth charged with bomb threat

Fosston — A 16-year-old male from rural McIntosh is being charged with making a bomb threat. The Fosston police department filed a delinquency petition charging the young man with one count of felony terroristic threats and three counts of misdemeanor obscene or harassing telephone calls.

The Fosston high school received a bomb threat by telephone on February 3, 1995. During the bomb threat investigation, authorities found that obscene or harassing calls had been made to the Fosston school, a Fosston business and the Erskine school.

Asbestos problems

Hallock — Problems with asbestos are delaying the demolition of the old Farmer's Store in Hallock. Last month, the lowest bidder on the demolition project was J & D Enterprises, Duluth. Now the city has 60 days to hold the bid while waiting for the asbestos project to get started.

The basement, where most of the asbestos is located, is full of furniture which needs to be removed in order to provide the asbestos removers with workspace. Broken tiles and no power source in the building are also problems. The cost of removal is estimated at $20,000 to $25,000 dollars.

Wear a helmet

Greenbush — After his son survived a dirt bike crash, Eden Berg is an even more avid supporter of wearing motorcycle helmets.

Eden's son, Aric, and Tony Jenson were riding a dirt bike eastbound on County Road 104 when they failed to stop for a stop sign and proceeded across Highway 11. The boys hit the side of a boat and trailer being pulled by a truck.

Aric was listed in critical condition until last week. He suffered a compound fracture below the knee, a broken arm in two places, a broken wrist, a torn spleen and the removal of skin from his calves. He will be in the hospital for a few more weeks.

Tony, son of Chris and John Jenson of Greenbush has a broken leg and several bumps and bruises.

Happy Flag Day

Crookston — On Flag Day, Juan Ramirez flew his new United States flag, the flag of his new country.

On Tuesday, June 13, Ramirez, who became a U.S. citizen in May, received the flag in recognition of his citizenship. The flag was presented by Carmen Caputo, Americanism chairman for the VFW post 1902 Auxiliary. Juan has lived in Crookston for eight years and is employed by American Crystal Sugar Company.

"The Zuchinis!" to open library series

Kicking off the Thief River Falls public library's series of Thursday afternoon programs on June 22 at 3 p.m. will be the comedy, juggling and magic act "The Zuchinis." The program is free and open to all children and adults.

"The Zuchinis!" are a family of entertainers which has been performing feats of juggling and magic mixed with music and comedy since 1984. Greg Kaler always loved juggling, and when his young children Josh and Mandy showed an interest he incorporated them into the act.

The children are now teenagers and the family still loves to perform.

"We have only one aim," Kaler said, "and that is to make people smile and laugh... and maybe gasp a little as they watch the Six Flying Machetes trick or when Mandy and I pass the fire torches around Josh as he hammers out "Great Balls of Fire" on his electric guitar."

"Whether it's juggling flaming torches, ducking machetes or producing Ginger the Wonder Poodle and Ralph the Rabbit from thin air, The Zuchinis' are a very polished, entertaining act," notes librarian Heidi Hiks.

Audiences agree that The Zuchinis! are amazing. A Duluth librarian said, "They are absolutely wonderful! One minute they have you laughing, the next minute you're on the edge of your seat worrying about Mandy as she attempts the Houdini escape and the next you are singing along to great music. They are a MUST to see!"

"The Zuchinis!" will entertain with comedy, juggling, magic and music Thursday, June 22, at 3 p.m. in the Thief River Falls public library. It will be the first of a number of programs held on Thursdays through July 27. Children of all ages are invited to attend.

Auditions set in Plummer

Auditions for Prairie Fire Children's Theatre's original musical production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday, July 5, at the Plummer school.

Sixty local area young people are needed to play the roles of Snow White, the Prince, the Seven Dwarfs, the Mirror, the Ravens, the Spellbinders, the Forest Creatures and the Townspeople. Assistant directors are also needed. A professional actor and actress will play the roles of the Huntsman and the Evil Queen as well as direct the production.

Auditions are open to children age six and older. The audition session will last two hours and all participating are required to be in attendance from the beginning. No preparation is necessary for the audition. Rehearsal will follow auditions, so participants may wish to bring a sack lunch.

Subsequent rehearsals will be held from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday. Performances are scheduled for Saturday, July 8 at 7 p.m. and Sunday, July 9, at 2 p.m. in the Plummer school.

This Prairie Fire residency is being sponsored jointly by the community education department of the Plummer and Oklee schools and the Northwest Regional Development Commission's art council.

For more information contact the Plummer school at 465-4222 or the Oklee school at 796-5136.

New Bishop has TRF ties

Rev. Arlen Hermodson, elected last weekend as Bishop of the Northwest Minnesota Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, has connections to Thief River Falls.

His wife is the former Marilyn Waale, daughter of the late Anna Waale, and two of their daughters live here—Mrs. Mike (Beth) Coppock and daughter Rachael and Lynn Hermodson.

Bishop Hermodson was elected on the fifth ballot at the synod assembly in Moorhead. He succeeds Bishop Arthur Rimmereid, who is retiring.

Take time now to watch "Flowers..."

(Editor's note: This review was contributed by Bonnie Nordvall)

'Flowers for Algernon' is the first and current production of this Warroad Summer Theatre's 15th season.

'Flowers for Algernon' is a contemporary literary classic, the inspiration for the movie 'Charley' starring Cliff Robertson. This bittersweet psychological drama addresses the ever volatile topic of biomedical ethics. In the story, Charley Gordon portrayed by WST veteran, Paul Elliot, is a mentally handicapped man who is chosen to be the recipient of an operation which will allow him to become 'smart.' So far the effects have been positive for Algernon, the lab mouse, and the hospital staff is fairly optimistic for Charley.

Technical director, David Wilhelmi, has created a unique perspective from which the audience can enter the story. Some slightly disturbing visual effects are created to bring the audience into Charley's past. Eric Maltude, Brenda Park and Hans Heppner convincingly portray a medical team whose project has gotten bigger than them.

Elliot brings a strong sense of dignity and sensitivity to the character of Charley before and after the operation. He and Kris Slattery, playing the role of Alice, Charley's teacher, share an apparent empathy for the characters they are portraying. The scenes between them are particularly powerful.

A challenging part of this production is posed by the multi-casting of actors. Hans Heppner not only plays a lab assistant, but he and Jared Powell effectively play the course and obnoxious Jae and Frank. Debbie Olson is equally convincing as a perky waitress and as a medical research spokesperson. Wendy Fellows plays the delightfully "New York" bakery owner and then switches gears to play Charley's emotionally fragile mother. The dysfunctional Gorden family is led by Eric Malterud. Bethany Lisell plays the younger sister, Nora, in the flashback scenes and Sara Slattery plays Nora as an adult. Eerily appearing as the young Charley, Luke Lisell is the conscience of the story. Young Charley appears intermittently to haunt the new-and-improved adult Charley and to plead for his true identity.

Christina Myers and Nicole Badar play dual roles as does Patty Schmitz. Patty has appeared in many roles at WST, but few as entertaining as the nosy, Irish landlady, Mrs. Mooney.

A specific line struck me as poignant. Charley the genius asks Charley the child, "Is my light better than your dark?" Must we change everyone who doesn't look or act as we do? I believe that director, Andy Segal has instilled in this cast the conviction that all of humanity is worthy of respect and dignity in their own right, regardless of exterior differences.

I highly recommend this play. My sincere congratulations to an energetic, youthful cast, who have made "Flowers for Algernon" a thought provoking and vibrant season opener for Warroad Summer Theatre.

Curtain time for "Flowers..." is 8 p.m. with a closing day matinee at 2 p.m. It is being staged at the Warroad High School Mini-theatre. Call 218-386-3435 for tickets and information.

Marshall County Fair seeking talent for amateur program

Warren Community Hospital and Home Auxiliary will again sponsor the amateur talent contest to be held Sunday July 9, at 7 p.m. at the Marshall County Fair in Warren.

First prize of $200 and second prize of $100 will be offered for the contest with the first place winner eligible to represent Marshall county in Minnesota State Fair competition.

Entries will be accepted from the seven counties of Marshall, Polk, Pennington, Roseau, Kittson, Red Lake and Norman. Everyone is eligible except for previous first place winners in any county fair amateur talent contest or persons with any professional experience.

All registrations must be made by Sunday, July 2, with no entries accepted after that date. Each entry is restricted to a four-minute performance or one song.

Mailed entries should include the names, addresses and telephone numbers of contestants, title of the number to be presented, general description of the entry (vocal, instrumental, dance, etc.) and accompanist, if any. They may be sent to Joan Peterson, 661 N. Central or Diane Abrahamson, Route 2, Warren, MN 56762. Call Mrs. Peterson at 218-745-5460 or Mrs. Abrahamson at 218-745-4042.

JIM OLSON
OPTICIAN

ASTIGMATISM

One of the eye problems that causes blurred vision is astigmatism. This happens when the cornea, or "window of the eye", is out of shape. A normal cornea has a perfect curve, with the same degree of slope on all sides. Light rays that pass through the cornea come together at a single point on their way to the retina.

This simply isn't possible in the astigmatic eye. The rays of light don't come together at the same point. There are two separate images. This doesn't mean that people with astigmatism see double, but it does blur their vision.

There are three kinds of astigmatism, depending on the eye's point of focus. It's "nearsighted" if the focus takes place before the image gets to the retina, "farsighted" if the focus takes place after the image reaches the retina, or it can be a combination of the two. In all cases, fortunately, vision can be corrected with properly prescribed eyeglasses.

The Coming Age Of Environmental Optimism

Until the last couple of weeks when winter turned to summer and heat arrived in the North Country, it would have taken a pretty strong sales pitch to sell anyone in this neighborhood on the global warming theory. The local viewpoint would more likely have been that whatever might melt the polar ice caps would be welcome to pay a visit to northwestern Minnesota and thaw out the folks up here.

We have all heard about global warming, the idea that we humans through our developmental activities are damaging the earth's atmosphere sufficiently to bring about warming of the oceans, leading to melting in the polar regions and flooding of the coastal areas. It has been projected so often that it is often accepted as fact and we are expected to shame ourselves for driving to the lake or mowing our lawns.

In his new book entitled A Moment on Earth: The Coming Age of Environmental Optimism, Gregg Easterbrook discusses the global warming scenario. Easterbrook is a contributing editor to the Atlantic Monthly and Newsweek. He acknowledges changes which man may have helped to cause, but he also puts them in perspective.

For instance, the basic theory is that man-made gases—primarily carbon dioxide created by the burning of fossil fuels, especially in developed and industrial nations—are disrupting the delicate balance of nature. Measurements have shown that the carbon dioxide content of the atmosphere is 25 per cent higher today than it was 100 years ago. Such a statistic may be cause for alarm.

Then again, it may not. Easterbrook points out that carbon dioxide has always made up a tiny percentage of the atmosphere. A century ago that portion was 2909 parts per million. Today it is 350 parts per million.

"In absolute terms," Easterbrook writes, "human-caused emissions of carbon dioxide have only increased the amount of gas in the atmosphere by 0.006 percentage point. It's quite common to hear environmentalists express dismay over the 25 per cent statistic; rare to find them bringing up the 0.006 side of the equation."

According to Easterbrook, global warming is a natural phenomenon without which the world would be 60 degrees Fahrenheit colder.

"The standard estimate is that water vapor accounts for 99 per cent of natural global warming," he writes. "The remaining one per cent of the greenhouse effect stems from carbon dioxide and other gases, which are themselves mainly products of nature, not man. Natural processes, such as volcanic eruptions and the decay of plants, add around 200 billion tons of carbon dioxide to the air annually, while human activity, mainly power production, automobile use and the burning of forests, adds about seven billion tons."

In summary, carbon dioxide accounts for only one per cent of the greenhouse effect, and human-made carbon dioxide accounts for only four per cent of that one per cent a year.

"This works out to the human impact on the greenhouse effect being roughly 0.04 per cent of the total annual effect," Easterbrook writes. "That is, 99.96 per cent of global warming is caused by nature, 0.04 per cent is caused by people. The present rate of increase in human-caused greenhouse impact, meanwhile, works out to about 0.004 per cent per annum of the total effect."

All this is not to say that there need be no concern about environmental changes nor that man's contribution to change is either harmless or inconsequential. For that matter, in his book Easterbrook is careful not to claim that human activity has no decisive role in global warming. He, nor anyone else, knows that for certain. He merely points out what the statistics show and the danger in allowing our fears to exceed our actual scientific knowledge.

Certainly science should learn as much as possible about reports of holes in the ozone layer above Antarctica and of massive disruptions of the southern ice cap. Careful monitoring of these conditions is obviously warranted and there is nothing wrong with such awareness being communicated to the people of the world. The book by Easterbrook does not suggest otherwise.

What the author makes apparent, however, is that the actual evidence collected to date suggests that mankind's impact on such phenomena as global warming is actually much less than we have been led to believe, and that in the case of the greenhouse effect, trends which may or may not be underway are natural and therefore beyond man's ability to control.

Mother And Father Were Wrong

In a recent column, Sen. Paul Wellstone of Minnesota professes his support for government aids to college students and claims that the U.S. Senate budget proposal would "cut student aid by $30 billion over the next seven years." He tells of receiving "thousands of letters from Minnesotans who tell me that without federal student aid programs they would be unable to continue their education."

Few would argue the value of a good formal education in the ability to perform work worthy of compensation to provide a living. Most would probably agree that it is in the nation's general interest to have an educated populace, and therefore some availability of government loan funds to help people receive training is justified. Where the hair gets short is in how much to help and how to provide accountability.

"I remember a gathering at Moorhead State University," Sen. Wellstone writes in his column. "A student said to me, in front of everyone, 'You know, my mother and father, they told me that the college years would be the best years of my life.' Then he hesitated and said, 'These are not the best years of my life. I am working three minimum-wage jobs, 40 hours a week, and trying to go to school. These don't feel like the best years of my life.'"

Well, we think that student's mother and father were wrong. School years should not be the best years of a person's life, but a time for development of the ability to make later years the best years. If a college education has value for later life it should be worth some sacrifice and require some prioritizing. Experience also has educational value, and that doesn't necessarily mean only positive experience.

A person generally has a greater appreciation for what he or she has worked to attain and therefore has earned, than for what is provided for him or her with little or no effort. If the government has a role in assisting individuals to obtain higher education, that role should be to make it possible, not to make it easy. There is a difference.

And it would be a tragedy for young people to believe that once they complete their college education that the best years of their lives are behind them. What kind of future would that portend?

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Music Festival Sunday at Old Mill State Park

Old Mill State Park will be the site of a music festival on Sunday, June 18. The event is being sponsored by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Old Mill State Park, and KSNR radio.

At 11 a.m. children's activities begin. During this program, called "Pond Life", children will observe tiny water organisms that inhabit shallow ponds of the region. These tiny forms of life provide food for many larger animals like baby fish.

The music festival will be held from 1:30 to 5 p.m. Many artists will perform, including the North Country String band, member of the Red River Valley Fiddler's Association, and several other local artists.

At 3 p.m. a tour of the Old Mill begins. Visitors will learn about the operation of the old flour mill and the pioneer family who ran it long ago.

For more information or to volunteer to perform, call the park at (218) 437-8174.

LETTERS

To The Editor:
I would like to make your readers in northwestern Minnesota aware of an organization in our community whose only purpose is the safety of the people in our corner of Minnesota.

The Civil Air Patrol's function is to be prepared to help local law enforcement officials in northwest Minnesota when they need extra help to provide safety to the public. You can recognize them by their bright orange vests and blue jump suits.

If you watch, or race in, the Ironman 500 snowmobile races you may have seen them standing on bridges or at checkpoints, writing down the racers' numbers. You may have even helped to identify numbers. The numbers are radioed in and if a racer is missing between checkpoints the rescue sled is called in to the exact place the racer is missing. Members also fly over the course to check for any potential danger that might not have been seen at ground level.

If you participate in the Triathlon you will have them doing traffic control for you and radioing for medical assistance if you need help.

If you're a pilot and your plane's Emergency Locator Transmitter goes off, a Civil Air Patrol plane will be in the air locating where your distress call is coming from, even if you haven't crashed and it just went off accidentally while while sitting safely in your hangar. Even if it's in the middle of the night, they will make sure you're OK.

If you like to hunt, canoe, fish, pick berries, snowmobile, four-wheel or just hike in the woods the Civil Air Patrol is standing by if you are missing for any reason. You can be sure they're looking for you with many hours of training behind them. They will leave what they're doing and search for you by air and ground, but a lost child would be a special mission for these parents and grandparents.

People who belong to the Civil Air Patrol are pilots, ham radio operators and people who want to make themselves available to help in their community. They spend a lot of time preparing themselves for possible rescue missions. They take First Aid courses, practice finding and identifying things from the air, set up ground rescue training sessions and have a daily radio contact net to see that all their communications are working properly just in case you need them.

The search and rescue plane that's stationed at our local airport at the present time is provided for our community by the United States Air Force. In order to keep that search and rescue plane in Thief River Falls, available to our corner of the state, our local Civil Air Patrol pilots and observers have to fly a required number of training hours. Most of the cost of servicing and fueling the plane, to support those training hours, must be paid for at the local level.

Here's where you come into the picture. You can help to keep that search and rescue aircraft in Thief River Falls—close at hand if you ever need it—by attending the fund-raising spaghetti supper that is served annually at the airport by the Civil Air Patrol during Aviation Week. This year it's being served on Saturday, June 24.

Sincerely,
Patsy Johnson

To The Editor:
I would like to commend each and every one involved with the Safety Camp held on June 6 and 7 for a job well done. My two children who attended were excited and enjoyed every bit of it.

The graduation ceremony was, in itself, well organized and very entertaining, not only for the campers but also the spectators. Congratulations, and may you continue this program in the future!

Sincerely,
Diane Kalsnes,
Thief River Falls

Cancer research group conducts fund-raiser here

American Institute for Cancer Research in Washington, DC, is conducting a fund drive in the Thief River Falls area. This organization should not be confused with the American Cancer Society.

The local chapter of the American Cancer Society is not holding a door-to-door fund-raising campaign this year. It easily can be distinguished from other agencies by its symbol — the sword of hope.

According to information distributed in this annual fund drive, the American Institute for Cancer Research is a non-profit, tax exempt organization whose purpose is to provide funding support for research into the relationship between diet, nutrition and cancer and to expand consumer knowledge about the results of such research as it relates to cancer prevention and treatment in the United States and worldwide.

Gayle Rhineberger is coordinator for student orientation

Gayle Marie Rhineberger, daughter of Karen Rhineberger, and Stephen Rhineberger of Thief River Falls, has been selected as a student orientation coordinator for incoming students to the College of Saint Benedict. Rhineberger is a senior sociology major at the school.

As a coordinator, she will serve as a leader for the Student Orientation program from June 26 to 30, and a supervisor over the fall orientation program leaders from September 3-5. The coordinators were chosen through an interview process. Orientation gives incoming students a chance to tour the campus and to have their questions answered.

Junior showmanship title at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls was a repeat performance for Christopher Swenson, 11, son of Lyle and Joni Swanson of rural Thief River Falls. He also won the junior showmanship a year ago. Reserve champion junior showman was Kasis Efte, 13, daughter of Lou and Mary Efte of rural Argyle.

1995 CASS COUNTY
DAIRY PRINC

Natalie Foltz (center) of Callaway in Becker county was crowned Region I ADA Dairy Princess Tuesday at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls. Kathy Hedlund (left) of Cass county was named first runner-up and Mandy Benbo of Winger in Polk county was named second runner-up and selected among the 14 candidates as Miss Congeniality.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Today we'll have some easy dessert recipes for these hot days.

FRESH FRUIT COBBLER
Sharon Bergerson

3 cups fresh fruit (peaches, rhubarb, berries, etc.)
2/3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Crust
1 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup shortening
1/4 cup sugar
3 tablespoons milk
1 egg

Arrange cut fruit in a square or round pan. Sprinkle with mixture of flour, sugar and cinnamon.

To make crust, sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together in bowl. Add shortening, milk and egg and stir with fork until thoroughly blended. Drop by spoonfuls over fruit.

Bake 25-30 minutes at 350 degrees.

One more very easy, but tart and tasty, dessert:

MY DELIGHT
Janet Hagen

1/2 pound vanilla wafers or graham cracker crumbs
1 can sweetened condensed milk
3 egg yolks
Juice of 2 lemons
1/2 pint cream

Put half of crushed wafers or crackers in 9x9 inch pan.

Beat egg yolks and mix with condensed milk and lemon juice.

Whip cream and add to above mixture (or put lemon mixture on top of crumbs and then whipped cream over that).

Top with rest of crumbs. Refrigerate.

COCONUT CRUNCH
Dolores Berg

1 cup flour
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup soft butter
1 cup coconut
1 (3 ounce) package vanilla pudding
1/2 pint whipping cream
2 tablespoons powdered sugar for cream

Mix flour, brown sugar, butter and coconut. Brown in 9x13 inch pan in moderate oven, stirring occasionally so it does not burn. Cool.

Cook vanilla pudding according to directions. Cool.

Place a layer of coconut crunch in 9 inch square pan, then pudding, whipped cream and top with crunch. Refrigerate until serving.

This sounds like a delicious dessert, but very easy, and it can be made a day ahead;

FRUIT FREEZE
Jeanette Hamerlinck

8 ounces cream cheese
3/4 cup sugar
large can crushed pineapple, drained
10 ounce box frozen strawberries, thawed and drained
3 bananas, diced
1 cup chopped walnuts
8 ounces whipped topping

Blend cream cheese and sugar. Add pineapple and strawberries, mixing well.

Stir bananas in gently and add walnuts. Fold in topping.

Place in 9x13 inch pan and freeze overnight. Thaw 20 minutes before cutting. Serve plain or garnished with fruit.

Clearbrook hosts all-school reunion along with other annual Summerfest activities June 22 through June 25

City of Clearbrook will host its 1995 Summerfest celebration June 22-25. An all-school reunion is part of the event with activities including a reunion parade Saturday, June 24, at 11:30 a.m. and a garden party buffet from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the school.

Many other events are also planned, beginning with a lip sync contest Thursday, June 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the big tent. Categories for entry include nine and under, 10-18 and 19 and over plus a special category for Clearbrook school alumni. Registration is restricted to eight per category. Register at B&H Hardware in Clearbrook (776-3615) or with Sharon Larson at 776-3687. Deadline is June 21.

Friday activities June 23 include tours of Gourmet House and Lakehead Pipeline, a free bean feed from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Clearbrook American Legion, games for kids at 1 p.m., golf fun scramble for adults at 2 p.m. at the Bagley golf course, fire department pig roast at 4 p.m., softball and theater production of the Wizard of Oz at 7 p.m. and dancing at 9 p.m. to Billy Dee and the Crystals.

Softball tournament starts at 10 a.m. Saturday at Kloster park, games and activities at the pool at 1:30 p.m. and soap box derby at 2 p.m. The Wizard of Oz will also be presented at 2 p.m. Lenny Larson and the Scandinavian Ensemble will perform at the city hall from 9 p.m. to midnight and Billy Dee and the Crystals will play for dancing in the tent at 9 p.m.

Events Sunday, June 25, include a community worship service with community choir at 10:30 a.m. at the school and co-ed volleyball at 1 p.m. Other activities, including food serving, are also planned.

Heather Benbo of Winger, 1994 Region I Dairy Princess, reads the inscription on the silver tray she received during coronation ceremonies Tuesday at the 46th annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls. She crowned Natalie Foltz of Callaway as her successor at the ceremonies.

Chad Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Koch of Puposky in Beltrami county, was named winner of the Stuart McLeod Award Tuesday at the 46th annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls. Making the presentation to Chad, who has been an active Dairy Day participant for 10 years, was Howard Person, president of the Northwest Dairy Improvement Association, sponsor of Northwest Dairy Day.

Headwaters Rodeo and Bullride expand to include 10 days

Eighteenth annual Headwaters of the Mississippi Rodeo at Park Rapids has been expanded to five days June 30-July 4 and will be followed by two days of open team penning July 5 and 6 and three days of professional bullriding July 7-9 for a 10-day extravaganza.

"For years the Headwaters has been four days of rodeo, featuring many of the best cowboys and cowgirls in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association and Women's Professional Rodeo Association," noted Randy Jokela of Jokela ProWest Productions, which produces the Park Rapids rodeo as well as the TRF Stampede in Thief River Falls.

"We have always attempted to make the Headwaters one of the premier events in the Upper Midwest, so there have been improvements and additions each season. This year will be second to none."

The rodeo expanded to five days at the Park Rapids fairgrounds will feature bareback and saddle bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, bullriding and WPRA barrel racing.

More than 300 male and female PRCA contestants from 33 states will compete for $50,000 in prize money. Horses and bulls will be provided by Mid-States Rodeo Company of Kirksville, MO and David Bailey Rodeo Company of Tahlequah, OK. Both have annually provided stock for the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas, NV.

Additional entertainment will be provided by animal trainer T. C. Thorstenson of Scottsdale, AZ, and his buffalo, "Harvey Wallbanger Jr." With Thorstenson in the saddle, the 2,800 pound animal will leap through a flaming hoop, charge up and down steel ramps and balance on a small platform. It has been featured in the TV miniseries "Buffalo Gals" and in nationally televised pizza commercials.

Bullfighters will be Carl Chism of Oklahoma City, OK and Shane Anderson of Pierre, SD. Sheep riding and the wild saddle cow race will also be daily features.

Team penning competition is open to the region and prize money of $1,000 is up for grabs. More than 70 cowboys will compete in the July 7-9 bullriding competition. Among the contestants will be former women's bullriding world champion Melissa North of Fort Worth, TX.

Barrelman and clown for the bullride will be Butch Lehmkuhler of North Platte, NE, who was well received at the TRF Stampede last year.

For performance times and ticket information or purchase call 218-732-5587 or 1-800-565-3521.

Gonvick Lions club will sponsor its first Miss Gonvick Lions Rodeo competition August 24 with a day-long event including judging of horsemanship, written testing, public speaking and oral interviews. The winner will be crowned at a 7 p.m. pageant in the school gymnasium the same day.

The event is open to all young women between the ages of 18 and 24 who reside within a 50-mile radius of Gonvick. Miss Gonvick Lions Club Rodeo will be the official spokesperson for the rodeo held August 26 and 27 and will be afforded the opportunity to travel around Minnesota to promote the sport of rodeo and horsemanship.

Candidates will be asked to have a sponsor prior to submitting an application for the competition. Applications are available from Brenda Skime at Northern State Bank in Gonvick (phone 218-487-5244) or by writing to her at P.O. Box 164, Gonvick, MN 56644. Deadline for applications is July 15.

State seeks former prisoners of war and/or their survivors

Minnesota military veterans who are former prisoners of war and their dependents or survivors are being sought by the state Department of Veterans Affairs and the Minnesota Association of County Veterans Service Officers.

According to Pennington county veterans service officer John F. Ellison, the two organizations are helping the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs to locate POWs who have heart disease which may be related to their captivity.

"A relationship exists between edema (swelling) resulting from beriberi during imprisonment and ischemic heart disease occurring later in the life of an ex-POW," he said.

"A federal VA regulation provides compensation to former prisoners of war who develop a heart condition and experienced nutritional deprivation which caused wet beriberi. There is no estimate of the number of POWs diagnosed with the disease and this outreach effort is being made to find them."

Ellison encouraged former POWs or their relatives to contact him, arrange an appointment and talk about their service history. The county veterans service office is located in the courthouse in Thief River Falls and the phone number is 218-681-3550.

Thief River Golf Course opens course to the public

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Thief River Golf Club has gone public. An advertising campaign to introduce more golfers to the 18-hole golf course, which includes a new nine hole addition, and change in the image of the semi-private club, welcomes the public to play at the course.

In the past, explained board member Tom Kays, play at the course has been very limited for non-member residents. Now they have decided to open it up to the public, subject of course to scheduled events at the club. He also added that keeping current members and adding members is important, so there are significant advantages to being a club member.

Despite the policy change there are significant advantages to being a club member. New Club Pro Jim Lawrence pointed out that members: do not pay any green fees, get discounts on carts, can make tee time reservations one week in advance, can play five-somes, are given a 20 per cent discount in the Pro Shop, get free locker storage, get range passes with unlimited balls, and their guests get 25 per cent off the rack rate. Members can also join the Ladies club or men's club. Ladies day is Tuesday, and Men's day is Wednesday afternoon.

Lawrence explained that the club is allowing the general public to play golf at the club any time. Non-members can even reserve tee times four days in advance. It is the purpose of the policy change to improve the image of the club. Just because the policy regarding who can play at the course has changed, however, doesn't mean the club will allow a free-for-all attitude to prevail at the course. There are rules. Players must wear shirts, cannot bring their own beverages or food on the course, et cetra.

Lawrence said the course is in great shape compared to the several area courses he has played on this spring. Overall conditions, he said, are well above the average for this time of the year. The new nine holes are in good shape and getting better all the time.

Visitors to the club will see even more changes this summer. Sometime this summer, the road from Highway 32 to the club house will be paved and lighted.

An active summer at the golf course has been planned. The Pro Am, held June 8 at the club, included 17 Canadian Pros from Winnipeg, and 54 amateurs. Lawrence was one of the pros in the tournament, bringing the total in the tournament to 72. He shared first place honors.

Several Junior Golf Camps will be held this summer. Community Education will offer a junior golf camp for youth ages 7 to 18, which will meet every Thursday from 8:30 to 12:15, June 15 - July 27. Lawrence will offer three five-day Junior Golf Camps sponsored by the Thief River Golf Club, and open to the public, June 12-16, July 10-14, and August 7-11.

Other events at the club will include men's and ladies' leagues, club best ball, four-man scramble, ladies' invitational, club tourney, and many more.

Green fees are $11 for nine holes, $21 for 18 holes and $6 for each additional nine holes after 18.

The point to all of the activity out at the golf course is to alert everyone that the golf course is out there for everyone to use.

For tee-time reservations, call 681-2955.

Sparkler Sprint 10K and 5K race among American Festival events

Fleet Feet Running and Walking Club, Northwest Medical Center, Dakota Clinic-TRF, and the Minnesota Extension Service in Thief River Falls will be sponsoring the Sparkler Sprint and Little Sparkler Run. This event is held as part of the city's American Festival Fourth of July celebration and held at Centennial Park in Thief River Falls.

The Sparkler Sprint is a 5K or 10K road race. All participants are invited to walk, jog or run the course through picturesque residential areas along the Red Lake river. The course also includes parts of the beautiful River Walk.

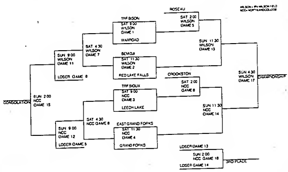
The Little Sparkler Run is a foot race for children 7 and under and is held on the grass at Centennial Park in Thief River Falls. All children participating in the event will receive a "Little Sparkler" participation ribbon.

Hartz Foods and Pepsi of Thief River Falls will be providing the refreshments.

Registration fees for the Sparkler Sprint are $3 before June 28 with no t-shirt, and $10 with a t-shirt. After June 28, registration is $3 with no t-shirt and $15 with a t-shirt. The Little Sparkler Race will cost $1.

Registration forms are available at the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, Northwest Medical Center or Gail Holland, who can be reached by calling 681-4240.

Area teams in baseball tournament



Thief River Falls Elks 14-15 year-old Baseball Tournament will be held at Trv Wilson field and Northland Community College June 17 and 18. The championship game will take place 4:30 p.m. Sunday at Trv Wilson field. The consolation game begins 2 p.m. Sunday at Northland Community College.

The action gets underway at 9 a.m. on Saturday. Teams participating in the tournament are from Thief River Falls, Warroad, Bemidji, Red Lake Falls, East Grand Forks, Leech Lake, and Grand Forks. The event is sponsored by the Thief River Falls Baseball Association.

Young boaters should be supervised by adults at all times

Supervise Young Boaters

In the wake of a tragic boating accident over the Memorial Day weekend, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is reminding parents to closely supervise their children while those children are driving boats.

On Memorial Day, an 18-foot boat being driven by an 8-year-old boy with his parents on board collided with a pontoon boat. The accident resulted in the death of a child on the pontoon along with injuries to several others.

"This was an extremely uncommon type of accident," said Tim Smalley, DNR boating safety specialist. "There hasn't been another like it in the state in at least 20 years."

According to DNR records, most fatal boating accidents involve adults who either fall overboard or capsize their boats. The victims usually aren't wearing life jackets and alcohol is involved in at least 50 percent of the cases. So far this year, there have been seven boating fatalities on state waters, two ahead of the toll last year by this date.

"Any accidental loss of life, especially a child's, is tragic," Smalley noted. "Parents need to be especially careful watching their kids while operating any boat. Although boats can be fun, they're definitely not toys."

The DNR recommends that if a child is operating a boat, the supervising adult should be at the child's side ready to take over the controls in dangerous situations.

In order for 12-through 17-year-olds to legally operate boats over 30hp with no adult present, they must possess a Minnesota Watercraft Operator's Permit received by taking a boating safety course from the DNR. The one exception is for personal watercraft (water scooters, Jet Skis, Tiger Sharks, etc.) where the child has to be at least 13 years old and have a valid operator's permit. Young boaters may order the free home study course to receive their watercraft operators permit by calling the DNR at 1-800-766-6000 toll free in Minnesota.

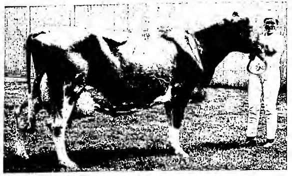
Grand champion grade animal of the show at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday was this eight-year-old cow shown by Kelly Fulton of rural Warren. She also won the grade title last year with the same cow and therefore was ineligible for the prize of a purebred calf. This year Kelly also won the senior showmanship title.

Senior showmanship champion at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday was Kelly Fulton, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Fulton of rural Warren. Reserve champion was Chad Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Koch of Puposky. Kelly also repeated as showman of the grand champion grade of the show with an eight-year-old cow.

This registered senior yearling Holstein shown by Brittany Johnston of Angus was judged as the junior champion animal at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday. Brittany, 10, is the daughter of Todd and Kathy Johnston. The junior champion award is given to the best animal among calf, junior yearling and senior yearling classes in all breeds.



Kristi Kompelien, 16, of Roseau showed the grand champion Guernsey with this eight-year-old cow. It later became the reserve champion grade animal of the show and, because champion Kelly Fulton was ineligible to earn more than one major prize, Kristi will receive a purebred dairy calf at the 47th annual Northwest Dairy Day in 1996. Kristi also won the Hamre Individual herd award with the three best animals entered by an individual.

IN MEMORY

In memory of our mom and Grandma, Alyce Hammarstedt, who passed away two years ago, June 17. God saw that you were suffering, the hills were hard to climb. He gently closed your loving eyes and whispered "peace be thine". Your sleepless nights are over, your restless tossing passed, your ever tired worn out frame has found sweet peace at last. Your memory to us is a keepsake, with which we will never part, though God has you in his keeping, we will always have you in our hearts.

Sadly missed by all her children and grandchildren

Agri-Women to host Farmers' Share breakfast

Parnow and Mycogen Plant Signs. Minnesota Wheat Growers donated the muffins and Bridgeman's donated, what else, the butter and milk. First National Bank of Thief River Falls donated the orange juice and napkins, and the coffee was donated by Bergen Travel.

To feed several hundred people, the group has ordered copious amounts of food, including 125 dozen eggs, 75 to 80 pounds of ham and 50 dozen muffins. Breakfast will be served in a former dairy barn which has been converted to a storage shed. The eggs will be cracked and mixed in the Mehrkens' kitchen then carried in covered containers to the shed.

Estimating how many people will be at the breakfast is not easy, so the group is stressing the importance of buying tickets early, so they can figure out how much food to prepare.

The women aren't the only ones who are working hard on this event. Their husbands will help with set-up, clean-up, and parking, and some of their neighbors are pitching-in too. The night before the breakfast, tables and chairs will be set up in the shed. The next morning people start arriving at 4:45 to set up chairs outside and start the cooking.

"Without everybody's cooperation it would be impossible to do," said Connie.

Not just for breakfast

Besides a great meal at a great price, the farmers breakfast is a chance to educate people about farming. Each year, the women pick a different aspect of farming on which to focus. This year the theme is dairy farming. There will be displays about cows such as how much they eat and drink. Aside from the dairy displays, the Mehrkens will also have some of their grain machinery on display and people will have a chance to tour the farmstead.

The breakfast is also a time to talk about the issues faced by farmers and others in agri-business. After all, one in six jobs in the United States is related to agriculture, and we are all consumers of agricultural products.

Everyone is invited to attend this event. Tickets are available at the Pennington county and Red Lake county extension offices. Plenty of off-road parking is available and the event will take place rain or shine, (although the Agri-Women are hoping for shine).

Directions from Thief River Falls are: take Highway 32 south of town for two miles; take a right on to County Road #7 and travel for three-quarters of a mile; turn left on County Road #74 and travel for three-quarters of a mile; take a left at the farm. The roads will be marked for easy identification. For more information, call Connie Mehrkens at 681-4611.

Long's Bridge project discussed

Replacement of Long's Bridge is closer to reality following a Pennington county board of commissioners meeting Tuesday.

Residents living near the bridge have been given several opportunities to express their opinions about the bridge and its proposed location. Following a meeting last spring, markers were placed at the proposed location of the new bridge, which would be 350-feet north of its current site. Some residents remain concerned that they will lose a clear view of the river, which they consider a valuable aesthetic quality to living on the river.

Upon further discussion, the board gave its approval for the county highway department to take steps to secure rights-of-way along the proposed route.

During the meeting Tuesday, the county board also gave its approval to secure rights-of-way for the Highway 59 connector. If the "connector"/"bypass" is approved for state aid, it will probably be named County State Aid Highway 16C. That determination is expected sometime this week.

Vandalism to the restroom at Oakland Park raised another issue — handicapped accessibility. It was determined that it would be easier to tear down the current restroom and replace it with a new handicapped accessible restroom.

Up With People at Fertile fair

Presented by Up With People, an international group of 100 young entertainers, the two-hour musical "Festival" will be featured at the 92nd annual West Polk County Fair in Fertile on Monday, July 3, at 7:30 p.m. in front of the grandstand.

For 30 years Up With People groups have performed in 3,200 cities across 70 countries with a message of understanding and cooperation among people. "Festival" is a celebration of humanity as "the day the people came together."

Farm machinery like this tractor will be on display at the Farmer's Share Breakfast on Wednesday, June 21. People who attend will also be able to tour the farmstead and enjoy the dairy farming displays that will be at the breakfast. The breakfast will be hosted by the Penn-Mar-Red branch of Minnesota Agri-Women.

Mya Gunderson among candidates for Miss TR Falls and eight first place awards plus five gold medals for recognition of exceptional performance beyond first place.

Winner of the amateur talent competition at the Marshall County Fair in 1993, she was also the talent division winner in the Miss Thief River Falls pageant that year and in 1994 was first runner-up in the Miss Marshall County pageant. She has also sung on the "Trumpet of Truth" radio program.

In 1993 she was freshman homecoming attendant at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls. At last year's Pennington County Fair she was one of the entertainers at the stage located next to the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

One of the highlights of her singing background was from September to December last year when she auditioned for and was accepted by The Continental Singers based in Denver, CO, and went on tour. The 27-member group performed in a different city every night for two months across the United States, then spent a month presenting concerts in Switzerland, Holland and Germany. The group members stayed with host families in each city, permitting them to become acquainted with many different cultures.

In addition to attending classes at Northland Community College, Mya attended a course at the Northwest Technical College in East Grand Forks to become a Certified Nursing Assistant. She worked four years after school hours and during the summer at the Karlstad Memorial Nursing Center and since January has been employed on first floor of the Northwest Medical Center's convalescent and nursing care unit in Thief River Falls.

Mya has one brother, Shannon, who is married to Lisa Trontvet. They live near Viking and have a three-year-old daughter Cassie and one and one-half year-old son Jaylon.

In addition to singing, Mya enjoys travel, riding bicycle, snowmobiling and "just plain being with people." She played in the Thief River Falls city league volleyball program last winter, has taught vacation Bible school and been a volunteer with the pre-school handicapped at Challenger school. She would like to further her education in areas of working with physically handicapped children.

"In working with the elderly, I have realized how much family values and morals matter," she said. "I would stress that in today's fast-paced world that these values are neglected and should become priority for families today."

46th Dairy Day is bonanza for Efta youngsters

the crown on her successor. Also assisting with the ceremonies was Julie Sauber of Lakeville, reigning Princess Kay of the Milky Way. Both Heather and Julie spoke to the the crowd assembled for the coronation ceremony, expressing appreciation for their opportunity to serve the dairy industry in their respective positions and encouraging use of dairy products.

As the Region I Princess, Natalie will represent this region in state Princess Kay of the Milky Way competition in St. Paul in August during the Minnesota State Fair.

Named recipient of the Stuart McLeod award, given in honor of the first president of the Northwest Dairy Improvement Association, sponsor of Northwest Dairy Day, was Chad Koch of Puposky. Koch has been an active showman at Dairy Day for 10 years, is a past overall show champion and this year was reserve champion senior showman.

Although Kelly Fulton repeated as showman of the grand champion grade of the show, she is ineligible under Dairy Day rules to receive a second major prize. She was awarded a purebred Holstein heifer this year for her grade championship in 1994.

The calf, "Dakota-Elm Mom," was born Dec. 14, 1994 on the pat and Loren Rode farm in North Dakota. Its dam is "C Gaitmore Conquest Ramona" and its sire is "To-Mar Blackstar-ET."

Because Kelly is ineligible for a second calf, the recipient will be Kristi Kompelien, 16, daughter of Kean and Donna Kompelien of Roseau, who showed the breed champion Guernsey which was reserve champion grade animal of the show. Kristi also had the best three entries in the individual herd competition to win the Hamic Individual Dairy Herd Award.

As showman of the grand champion purebred, Alex Efta receives an expense-paid trip to the World Dairy Expo in Madison, WI, in October.

Kelly Fulton won the senior showmanship title with Chad Koch as reserve champion. Christopher Swanson of Thief River Falls won the junior showmanship, defending the title he also won last year. Reserve champion junior showman was Kasia Efta.

Brittany Johnston, 10, daughter of Todd and Kathy Johnson of Angus, had the junior champion animal selected from among calf, junior yearling and senior yearling entries.

Logan Wallace of Middle River, son of Elsie Wallace and a Roseau county contestant, won the Jersey breed championship with a purebred cow. Reserve champion Jersey was a grade cow shown by Kerstin Trimble of Tenstrike in Beltrami county.

There were a total of 88 animals on hand for the show held under bright sunshine at the livestock building on the Pennington county fairgrounds. That total was fewer than the 102 total animals registered but well above the approximately 60 registered when the Dairy Day program book went to press a week prior to the show. Some early registered entries were not shown and 22 new entries were accepted on Tuesday morning.

Opening the show Tuesday morning was a showmanship demonstration by Roy Larson of Gatzke, 1994 senior showmanship champion. Judges for the cattle show were Tom Foss of Avon and Scott Doroff of Little Falls. Show supervisor was Howard Person, Pennington county extension educator and president of the Northwest Dairy Improvement Association.

Old car, new life

Fosston — The students in the Fosston high school ag mechanics had a special project this year. Chris Bartz and John Brinkman, of McIntosh, decided to take Chris's mom's car out of storage after 18 years.

Some of the head and transmission work was farmed out, as well as the finishing paint, but most of the work was done by the students. They did all the disassembling and reassembling and some of the body shaping and welding.

Part of the success of the project was due to the parental support of the project. The final color of the 1969 Dodge SuperBee is "Plum Crazy Purple."

Thief Lake church has 100th anniversary

Our Savior's Church of Thief Lake will observe 100 years of history with special services Saturday and Sunday, July 1 and 2, at the church located east of Middle River.

Registration will take place at 7 p.m. Saturday, followed by an informal worship service at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Robert Bagley of Minneapolis, son of Rev. Emil Bagley who served the congregation from 1949 to 1959, will preside at the evening service.

On Sunday at 10 a.m. the anniversary choir will practice and at 11 a.m. the centennial worship service with Holy Communion will begin. Conducting the service will be Rev. Dick Kennedy, assistant bishop of the Northwest Minnesota Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, and Rev. Cheryl Berg, interim pastor at our Savior's church. Special music will be provided by the centennial choir.

At 12 noon a Swiss steak meal will be catered at the church dining hall.

At 2 p.m. a program of reminiscing will be led by Rev. Robert Amundson who served Our Savior's for 20 years until January of this year when he accepted a call to serve a church in Winger. The centennial choir will sing. Sunday School children will provide music and special guests will bring greetings and comments. An anniversary cake will be cut and served fol*lowing the program.*

Our Savior's congregation now has about 140 baptized members. Bonnie Wagner chaired the anniversary committee. Judy Scramstad and Joyce Beito were in charge of music and program. Sharon Kilen and Elaine Peterson are responsible for food. Rhonda Beito worked with typing and publicity and Pat Hanson was in charge of the historical book.

The historical book and other souvenir items of the centennial will be available during the celebration.

Our Savior's church traces its history to 1895 when Rev. I. T. Aastad from Thief River Falls met with seven families at the T. O. Moe home in Thief Lake township of Marshall county. They were Nils Olson and family, Ole Bjorgum with wife and three children, E. O. Satterlund with wife and one child, Carl Carlson and wife, Ole Borgen with wife and three children, T. O. Moe with wife and five children

Nicole Paulson in TRF program

(This is the fifth in a series of personal profiles in the Northern Watch and The Times of candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title. The official Miss America Preliminary Scholarship program will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, July 1, in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

If motion could be personified, it would emerge as Nicole Paulson. She not only is on the move keeping up with youngsters at Discovery Place and Learning Center in Thief River Falls, she is a dance and aerobic instructor as well as participant.

The 21-year-old daughter of David and Diane Paulson of Goodridge is a 1992 graduate of the Goodridge high school and will be a senior this fall at Bemidji State University. She is five feet, eight inches tall, has light brown hair and green eyes. Her talent number at the Miss Thief River Falls program will be a jazz/funk dance.

Nicole is no stranger to scholarship program competition. A second runner-up to Miss Thief River Falls in 1992, she was also third runner-up in the Miss Northwest program in Detroit Lakes and first runner-up in the Miss Potato Bowl program in Grand Forks, ND, last year. Scholarship money earned has assisted with her education.

In high school she was an honor student, alternate to Girls State, homecoming queen, Snofest queen candidate, student council secretary and a peer tutor. She earned awards for leadership, Cheerleader of the Year, most spirited basketball cheerleader, district double star rating with a flute solo and superior rating in a regional piano recital.

At Northland Community College in Thief River Falls she was a homecoming queen candidate, named to the President's List and selected for publication in Who's Who in Community Colleges.

At BSU she has been on the dean's list, is a member of the BSU dance team which placed second in national dance team competition and has been a BSU dance show participant. She was a student senate nominee, teaching associate and earned the National Collegiate Education Award. She took piano lessons for 10 years and flute lessons for seven years.

Camp Sunshine ready to serve area disabled

Established in 1970 to serve the recreation and leisure needs of children and adults who are mentally and/or physically disabled, Camp Sunshine at Lake Bronson will begin its 26th season with its first 1995 camp session July 24.

More than 175 individuals from northwestern Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota have signed up for the many planned activities offered at the camp this summer, according to Larry Anenson Jr. of Thief River Falls, camp consultant.

"Traditional camp activities offered are swimming, camp fires, boating, nature lore, various crafts and overnight tenting," adds Jessica Rybaski, camp director. "Softball games, miniature golf, fairs and touring museums are a few community and day trips planned for the 1995 season."

First camp session will be July 24-28, followed by four more sessions July 31-August 4, August 7-11, 14-18 and 21-25. Total camp fee is $170. A $50 non-refundable registration fee is required and is

Federal judge to hear questions on courthouse dispute

Taxpayers' Choice Volunteer Committee, which conducted the drive to secure petition signatures for a special election on location of the Roseau county seat, has commenced an action in federal court, raising several Constitutional issues regarding the recent petition drive and subsequent actions by the Roseau county board of commissioners.

The committee had obtained some 4,100 signatures requesting a special election and presented the petitions to the county board. The board later rejected the petition on the basis that it was two votes short of the required number to hold an election.

The complaint was filed in federal court Wednesday morning and Judge Richard Kyle was assigned to the case. According to Timothy Pabst, the committee's attorney, the complaint was also served on the defendants at Wednesday's county board meeting in Roseau.

The action reportedly alleges that "county officials and others engaged in a systematic and premeditated campaign to intimidate and coerce people to withdraw their names from the petition in violation of their Constitutional rights."

Warroad Mayor Bob Marvin said that "because the county board abruptly claimed the petition fell just two signatures short, made their decisions behind closed doors, and then immediately adjourned, our committee had no other option than to appeal to the courts. We had hoped that the board would review their decision after the public outcry against their actions, but they refused."

The City of Warroad and the William S. Marvin Fund of the Minnesota Foundation have offered to grant $4.5 million to the county for construction of a new courthouse if the people vote to move the county seat from Roseau to Warroad.

Roseau county board has now received bids to build a new courthouse in Roseau as had been planned before the Marvin offer was made. The Taxpayers' Choice Volunteer Committee contends that the true costs for the new courthouse and remodeling of the social services building in Roseau will far exceed the $2.7 million that has been projected by the county board.

Seek Festival parade entries

Participation by the Thief River Falls community and surrounding area in the American Festival parade in Thief River Falls Saturday, July 1, at 11 a.m. is being invited by the sponsoring committee.

Ten trophies will be awarded for best entries in various divisions with everyone welcome to participate. To register entries for the parade, contact the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce office at 681-3720.

Lack of space in this issue of the Northern Watch precluded printing a planned review of American Festival events. Watch for that information in the June 28 issue of The Times. A schedule of activities is included in an advertisement on page 2 of today's issue.

Plummer honor roll

Fifty students at Pershing high school in Plummer earned placement on the fourth quarter honor roll, according to the office of Richard Lorenson, superintendent and principal.

The list includes 15 students with an A average and 35 students with a B average. Seventh graders led the list with four A students and nine B students for a total of 13. Grade 10 had four A students and five B students while grade 11 had one A student and eight B students for a total of nine honor students each.

A list of honor students includes the following:

Orphan Grain Train works to clothe the naked and heal the sick with goods for Liberia, Africa

People working to help others, that's what the Orphan Grain Train is all about. Volunteers from North Dakota and Thief River Falls worked together to unload a semi-trailer full of donated goods which will be shipped to Liberia, Africa. Those who accompany the shipment to Liberia will also distribute the goods to the needy and preach the Gospel of Jesus to those they meet.

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

Local members of St. John church in Thief River Falls volunteered their time and energy on June 19 to unload a semi-truck full of donated goods. The goods are being transported from North Dakota and Minnesota to Liberia where they will be distributed to the needy.

Starting the train

The program, which is part of Lutheran Layman League and Lutheran Hour Ministries, started back in the summer of 1992 with a pastor from Nebraska who formed the first Orphan Grain Train in Nebraska. That fall the North Dakota district of the Missouri Synod Lutheran Church voted to form the North Dakota Orphan Grain Train. They were prompted to organize a grain train after a trip to Latvia.

When the Soviet Union dissolved, the people of Latvia invited Lutheran Hour Ministries to come to their county and help restore Christianity. Several volunteers went to Latvia with the intention of starting a radio station. While visiting Latvia, the missionaries saw not only unmet spiritual needs, but unmet physical needs as well. Many of the people of Latvia didn't have sufficient clothing or food. When one of the members of the visiting group had to go to the hospital, they learned first hand about the shortage of medical supplies and lack of sanitization in the former eastern block country.

Two of the people on that trip were Merlin Hall, committee member for the orphan grain train and Harold Gessner, chairman of the North Dakota Orphan Grain Train, both of Newburg, ND. Both men are deeply moved by what they saw. They helped the grain train get started and are still very involved in the orphan train program. Both were in Thief River Falls to help unload the truck.

People may not realize the number of Lutherans living in the former Soviet Union because the government suppressed Christianity. In later trips to Russia, Harold met people who had been deported to Siberia for speaking out against the communist government and some who were deported for being Christian.

Get on board

After the North Dakota Orphan Grain Train was organized, they began shipping North Dakota milled wheat to Latvia, Ukrania, Russia and some countries in Africa, such as war-torn Liberia. The program has grown to include 13 branches, and to date, they have shipped 60 to 70 semi-trailer-sized containers full of donated goods valued at over $4 million.

People from all over North Dakota donated goods for this latest shipment to Liberia. Some of the goods included in the most recent shipment are medical supplies, pinto beans, peas, wheat, cool clothing and a used pick up truck. Harold and Myrlin estimate that several thousand dollars worth of medical supplies have been distributed through the grain train to the needy.

It's not just North Dakotans that are contributing to the cause. People from Minnesota, including Thief River Falls, are involved in the Northern Minnesota district of the Orphan Grain Train. They sent soap, toothbrushes and other personal items to the orphans in Latvia. They also donated to the shipment that was put on the train on Monday.

The northern Minnesota district used to ship out of Long Prairie and sometimes Virginia. Last year, Miles Koop informed other members of the Northwest Minnesota district that Thief River Falls has shipping facilities, and they went to work arranging to ship from Hutchinson. The change in shipping sites saved the organization $600, which can now go towards providing other goods.

More than food and clothing

The grain train doesn't just collect items to give away, it also works closely with Lifewater International, a Christian organization dedicated to providing clean water to people. Good, clean wells are important for many reasons, especially because in places without clean water, 70 per

To kiss a pig

Baudette — Four men have entered a contest to raise money for Lake of the Woods 4-H groups. The winner, believe it, gets to kiss a pig.

Howard Mord, the defending champion from last year's kiss the cow contest, is being challenged by Dave Swanson, LOW county commissioner; Jim Walton, LOW county sheriff's deputy; Terry Olson of KQ92 fame.

People vote on who should kiss the pig by depositing money in their candidates collection jar. The pig kissing will occur at the 4-H Recognition Program.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT
DR. CRAIG MICKELSON
OPTOMETRIST

"EYE COMPLICATIONS OF DIABETES"

Diabetes is a disease that prevents the body from making or using the insulin necessary to break down sugar in the bloodstream. This disease and its complications can affect many parts of the eye. For example, diabetes can cause changes in nearsightedness, farsightedness, premature presbyopia (the ability to focus on close objects) and blue/yellow color deficiency. It can also cause glaucoma and decrease corneal sensitivity.

There are certain visual symptoms associated with diabetes, including fluctuating or blurring vision, occasional double vision, loss of visual field, and flashes and floaters within the eyes. These are among the early signs of diabetes and may be detected first in a thorough examination by a doctor of optometry.

If you have diabetes, it is vital that you follow your physician's instructions about diet, exercise, and medication. Regular examination by an eye care specialist is also important to protect your vision.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Simply delicious summer dishes are on the menu today.

Give a different flavor to your potato salad with blue cheese:

BLUE CHEESE POTATO SALAD

5 cups cooked small red potatoes
4 ounces crumbled blue cheese
3/4 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon cider vinegar
1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
3/4 cup sliced radishes

In large bowl, combine potatoes and blue cheese, tossing gently.

In small bowl, combine mayonnaise, sour cream, parsley, salt, vinegar and mustard and blend well. Add to potato mixture and mix well.

Cover and refrigerate at least one hour. Stir in radishes just before serving.

Pancake

1/2 cup flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Fruit Topping

1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons orange-flavored liqueur or orange juice
3 cups sliced fruits and/or berries

Heat oven to 425 degrees.

In medium bowl, combine all pancake ingredients except butter. Beat with wire whisk or rotary beater until smooth.

Place butter in 9-inch pie pan and melt until butter sizzles, 2-4 minutes. Remove pan from oven and tilt to coat bottom. Immediately pour batter into hot pan and bake for 14-18 minutes at 425 degrees, until puffed and golden.

While pancake is cooking, in small saucepan combine sugar and cornstarch, mixing well. Stir in orange juice and liqueur and cook over medium heat 5-7 minutes, until sugar dissolves and mixture thickens.

As soon as pancake is removed from oven, arrange fruits and berries over pancake and then drizzle with hot orange sauce. Serve immediately.

These broiled open faced sandwiches will make a meal in minutes:

MOZZARELLA AND TOMATO MELTS

4 slices Italian bread, cut 1 inch thick
8 ounces mozzarella cheese, sliced
2 medium tomatoes, thinly sliced
Pepper to taste
1/2 cup prepared pesto

Set oven to broil.

Place bread on rack in broiler pan and broil with tops about 4 inches from heat until golden.

Divide cheese among bread slices and broil just until cheese begins to melt.

Arrange tomatoes on cheese and sprinkle with pepper. Top with pesto.

To The Editor:

Violence, we see and hear about it every day. The violence we hear about is what the media wants to tell us about, not what is happening in abortion clinics throughout the nation and the world. They tell us about an abortionist who gets killed for performing abortions in a clinic, but nothing about the lives being taken in the clinic by the abortionist.

Are the lives of the abortionists more precious than the victims of violence of the abortionist?

Remember pro-life people condemn the killing of the abortionist or the destruction of property just as much as the pro-choice people, but it doesn't come out that way on TV or inmost of the papers. The media wants to blame the pro-life cause which is 99 per cent blameless as they are trying to stop the killing of the unborn, not urging the killing of the abortionist which would be entirely contradictory to the purpose of the pro-life movement.

Abortion is the worst form of violence because it strikes against a helpless person who hasn't seen the light of day, is a baby that is alone with nobody around to hear its cry—and is deliberately being destroyed by the consent of abortionist and the mother.

Some of our state and national senators and representatives complain about the jails filling up because of other violence like rape and shootings, etc. Do you hear a peep out of them for the violence of abortion? They know what they are.

The violence of abortion influences all other forms of violence. Why? Because if you kill a helpless baby without being punished, what is so bad about killing somebody for other reasons, or stealing, or raping or doing any other wrong?

If the violence of abortion is not stopped, I think this nation is in for not only the continuance of other violent crimes but an increase in lawlessness far beyond our hopes for a better world. This may sound like pessimism, but we need to face facts and not hide from them as if they didn't exist.

President Clinton wants Dr. Foster as a Surgeon General but we need to speak up and say the killing must stop. We will not take it any more. Let's put our nation where it set out to be, the home of the brave and the land of the free for everybody, including the unborn children, our greatest asset.

Sincerely,
Ray Kolb
Mentor, Minnesota

To The Editor:

This is in response to "A Concerned Taxpayer" in the June 14 edition of The Times.

I have been a resident of Thief River Falls for 42 years—the past 30 of which (since my two children have gone through the school system) I have paid my taxes and supported all the community's schools and other developments without complaint. Others, not myself, have benefited all those years from those facilities.

Now that I am looking forward to moving into the new Senior Housing Project, others are complaining about the effect it will have on them.

We seniors do our part for others—now that something beneficial is being planned for us, we should enjoy that same spirit of community from them.

More On Trees....First Place Senior Winner

For the past several issues of The Times and Northern Watch we have featured in the editorials the winning themes in the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation District conservation essay contest. Today's writer is the first place winner in the senior division of the contest and a 16-year-old who just completed her sophomore year at Lincoln high-school in Thief River Falls.

THE TREE—A TRUNK OF TREASURES

by Kelly Clark

Trees are the trunks of treasures for all living things. Trunks are the main vegetation for plants and animals that live in, on or above a forest. Trees have many environmental, economical, historical and recreational features.

An environmental feature to look at is erosion. Trees help fields "hold their ground." Every year, more than three billion tons of topsoil erode from our nation's crop lands. Hilly fields with light sandy soils are often exposed to wind and water. So when it is plowed up for crop production, a greatest amount of soil is lost. These are the fields that would benefit from tree planting.

Rows of trees planted at the edges of fields as windbreaks help reduce soil loss. Windstorms remove a lot of soil and according to one estimate, a field windbreak helps reduce wind erosion in an area 10 times its length (Trees Are The Answer...).

Along with wind erosion, water erosion is also a problem. Trees help reduce the effects of water erosion with the aid of their roots and crowns. Roots reach out around the tree, holding the soil in place. The branches and leaves together are called the crown. The crowns of trees help keep soil in place so that it is not eroded away. Fallen leaves or needles that gather around the base of the tree help break the force of rain and slow the rate at which the water goes into the soil. Rain water is then more likely to be absorbed into the ground, than to be drained away (Trees Are The Answer....).

Trees help keep rivers and streams clean. Soil erosion is one of the major causes of water quality problems in streams, rivers and lakes. Soil running off fields make waters dirty and bury the homes of fish, clams and water animals with mud and silt. The fertilizers the soil carries cause algae growth and pesticides threaten fish and wildlife.

Trees hold soil in place and reduce the amount of soil that is washed away into waterways. Trees and other vegetation planted alongside rivers and streams are good in trapping soils and keeping them out of waterways. These water quality improvements will pay off in healthier fish and wildlife and improved recreation areas for people. The costs of cleaning up waterways for recreation and treating water for drinking amount to more than $2 billion a year (Trees Are The Answer....).

When I was young I had a favorite pastime—climbing, building and playing in trees. I was a bit of a tomboy so I loved to be in the outdoors and do all the things my cousins did. We had all sorts of fun. Especially having races to the tops of our big pine trees. These are just some of the things that trees provide you with.... hours of fun and adventure.

Trees also help our wildlife in many different ways. Trees provide animals with a den or nesting areas that stay undisturbed as wildlife raise their young. At the same time, trees provide pine cones, nuts, fruits and berries for food. Trees offer shelter from bad weather and where animals can escape from predators. Along with helping wildlife and all types of erosion, trees have many more features (Man's Best Friend—The Tree).

Trees don't just stand there to generate cash for the landowner. There are more other tree planting options whose main advantages are conservation related. Rural landowners' benefits include windbreaks, plantings for wildlife or filter strips along rivers, streams and lakes. Urban landowners might want shade trees planted around their homes in order to reduce utility costs (Trees Are The Answer...).

Trees can also help reduce the greenhouse effect. Global climate changes are caused by the build-up in the atmosphere of carbon dioxide, created when fuels are burned. The carbon dioxide acts like the glass of a greenhouse: It allows the sun's rays to go through and warm the earth, but then traps the heat rays that would radiate back into space. This causes temperature to rise and it leads to climate changes.

Trees take in carbon dioxide and can help reduce gas in the atmosphere. Forest re-planting is one of the most cost-effective ways of reducing the carbon dioxide build-up.

In addition to environmental features, there are many economic aspects to look at as well (Trees Are The Answer...).

One economic aspect is that trees give us a constant supply of products, such as lumber for buildings and tools, paper and fiber. Also such things as nuts, mulches, oils, gums, syrups and fruits are economically profitable.

In Minnesota, the state's second largest manufacturing industry is lumbering. Paper and wood products provide jobs for more than 55,000 Minnesotans. At a company called Potlatch, the workers raise over 2.5 million seedlings ready to be planted across northern Minnesota. Half of this crop is grown indoors, while the other half is grown outdoors. Potlatch's commitment to reforestation helps to make the pulp used in making paper. High quality seeds are the foundation in Potlatch's healthy forests of tomorrow (Caring For Our Forests).

Trees can profit depending on the species chosen, establishment costs, growing conditions and market conditions. Trees planted about six years ago will go out on the market in the next 20 to 40 years. Demand is expected to exceed supply, so these trees should find a ready market. Conditions for tree planting are favorable in the South, where the soils are suited for fast growing trees and a long growing season. Also lumber mills are a lot more plentiful. Tree planting on former cropland may also help drive up crop prices. By taking millions of acres out of current crop production, surpluses will be reduced (Man's Best Friend—The Tree).

Early Indians and pioneers used trees in many different ways. Many families built homes, wagons, rafts for rivers and household utensils such as wooden spoons, ladles, bowls and platters. They also made furniture and wooden barrels. Splitting logs with a mallet and several wedges, a frontiersman made thick slabs that he then used for his cabin floor, tables, benches or stools.

We also use trees in many different ways today. Manmade items such as furniture, buildings and paper are just a few examples of how we use trees (World Book Encyclopedia).

As you can see, trees are used for many great things, so preserve them and take care of them. Planting trees will leave land in better shape than you found it.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Trentini Club to organize here in Minnesota

The International Tirolean Trentino Organization (ITTONA) is forming a Trentini Club in Minnesota. A delegation of Trentini from Chisholm and Buhl attended the ITTONA convention in Utah in the summer of 1994. This group was commissioned to organize and form a state-wide Minnesota Chapter. The purpose of this group shall be to bring together Trentini residing in Minnesota. This club shall keep the Trentino heritage alive through its descendants and ties with Trentino itself and other Trentini throughout the world. The strength of the club lies in promoting the heritage of the Trentini.

At this point, we are seeking interested parties of Trentini descent to become members of this club. If you are interested in becoming a member or want more information regarding the organization, contact

Settler's Square in Warren ready for county fair

Many of last year's demonstrators will return to Settler's Square on the county fairgrounds in Warren for the Marshall County Fair July 6-9, according to LaVonne Schmitz, director of the Marshall County Historical Society.

Demonstrators will be on hand to show methods of rug weaving, pine needle baskets, using vintage carpentry tools and photo storage. Various booths will serve lefse, Mexican food, root beer floats and old fashioned ice cream cones.

Space is still available for persons wanting a craft, hobby or food location. Contact Schmitz at the museum, phone 745-4803.

Adding a touch of realism to the Settler's Square will be a number of people from the area in costume from the 1800s. They will be located at various buildings in the square.

The museum at Settler's Square is now observing summer hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Softball pictures are now available at LHS

Lincoln High School 1995 softball team photographs are ready to be picked up at the School District 564 activities office.

Shows at 7 and 9 p.m.
When you think of Pam Tillis, it's hard not to conjure up metaphors linking the tradition of the past with the freshness of country music's future. Pam realizes she can be challenging to those who try to narrowly define her work. "I can't fit myself into a certain mold," she shrugs and smiles. "But that's O.K. I'd rather carve my own niche . . . I'd rather give people music they can't get from anybody else." Her selections will include: "Homeward Looking Angel," "Maybe It Was Memphis," "Cleopatra, Queen of Denial," "Mi Vada Loca," "Don't Break 'Em Like They Used To," "Spilled Perfume," "Calico Plains," and "In Between Dances."

Post 117 coach Terry Wiseth working to build program...

Young TRF Legion team is 2-7

It's not the kind of start you dream of, but a 2-7 record has not robbed the optimism from veteran Northland Community College baseball coach Terry Wiseth, who is in his first year at the helm of the Thief River Falls American Legion ball club.

Instead of a month of hurried preparation each spring drilling a group of college kids from a variety of baseball backgrounds who will be with the Pioneers for just a year or two, Wiseth has more of a long-term program-building approach in his new position working with the high school age players.

Wiseth, Legion assistant John Ott and VFW coach Jason Svir are working together with a group of 21 players. Both teams have rostered 14 players, but several of the VFW 16-year-olds double up with spots on the Legion squad that is geared toward 17 and 18-year-olds. And under the umbrella of the re-organized Thief River Falls Baseball Association, the Legion and VFW programs are tied in with the 14-15-year-olds playing on the Bison and Sioux and the 13-year-olds who form the Pioneers and Gophers.

"The key thing here is trying to develop an overall program, and working with kids for five or six years," explained Wiseth. "We want to have everybody on the same page as far as their approach to the game, and in the way they operate."

Thief River Falls lost both ends of a Ninth District doubleheader to Detroit Lakes Tuesday at Irv Wilson Field, 14-5 and 16-6 in six innings.

With just three seniors in the Legion line-up – Eric Bjorgaard, Adam Henney, Chris Vanyo – the current Post 117 squad is young. And youth often translates into mistakes. But Wiseth is confident that an improved product will be seen on the diamond as the season progresses.

"We're going to get better," promised Wiseth. "Success comes in little pieces at times. I thought we had made some strides every game, but against Detroit Lakes the kids went back to their old habits. We just have to get them doing the right things again. They want to learn, and they're working at it. As long as the kids are willing to listen and work hard, they will get better."

Teams like Detroit Lakes have the edge now, admitted Wiseth, but he looks for that gap to narrow considerably with time.

Speed is a Thief River Falls asset Post 117 will have to rely on it both defensively to cover ground and offensively to manufacture a run here and there instead of waiting for a big inning to occur.

Pitching presents the biggest challenge. Vanyo and Bjorgaard will be the top staff members, but a steady supply of doubleheaders and tournament appearances will require Post 117 to also throw Henney, Newfolden addition Trever Magner, junior Derrick McFarlane and VFW 16-year-olds Courtney Skjerven and Nathan LaRoque.

"I think the pitching will come around" said Wiseth. "One of our goals is to have a lot of kids pitching, not just on the Legion team, but at every level. You can't just have one or two kids doing all the pitching all the way through the program. You have to spread out the innings so you have some arms available when they do get to the high school or Legion teams."

Number-wise, the Legion and VFW squads find themselves a little thin when both teams are playing at the same time. "It gets kind of tough when that happens," acknowledged Wiseth. "Over the long term, we have to find a way to get more kids into baseball, and to keep them playing ball as they get older."

Post 117, involved in the five-team round-robin East Grand Forks Invitational this weekend, has a challenging set of doubleheaders coming up at Irv Wilson Field – 5:30 p.m. starts Tuesday vs. Roseau and Thursday against Crookston. In spring high school baseball, Roseau was the No. 1 rated team in Class A heading into post-season play, but the Rams were watching from the sideline as Crookston put together a Class A state tournament-winning drive. The VFW heads to Bemidji Tuesday for a 2 p.m. doubleheader and will host Detroit Lakes Friday in a 5:30 p.m. twinbill.

Gophers, Pioneers split with Crookston

A Tuesday doubleheader for the Thief River Falls Baseball Association 13-year-olds produced a split at Crookston, where the Gophers won 5-1 but the Pioneers lost 3-1.

Results left both Thief River Falls teams at 2-8 for the year.

Thursday, the Gophers lost a 7-3 decision at Warroad.

In other recent games for the Pioneers, a June 17 appearance at the East Grand Forks Invitational resulted in a 24-11 loss to Red Lake Falls and a 15-1 setback at the hands of Bemidji. Those results were preceded by an 8-2 defeat at Roseau June 14.

Sanden keeping busy

Basketball is keeping Thief River Falls' Kyle Sanden busy this summer. Sanden, a 6-10 center will start his 1995-96 senior year of high school with a University of Minnesota basketball scholarship ready to be signed in November, having made a verbal commitment to the Gophers last spring.

He continues to work on his game with a head-spinning summer schedule that actually began when he accepted an invitation to join a team for the 17-under BCI state tournament in mid-May in St. Cloud. They finished second and earned an opportunity to compete at the national level.

Back in April, Sanden had been named to the Minnesota Selects Maroon team – formed with the top players from among 235 candidates who were invited to the try-outs.

He was in the Twin Cities area this past week for Select practice – interrupted briefly to join a squad for the 19-under AAU state tournament – as the team prepares for a series of games Wednesday in Redwood Falls vs. Iowa all-stars, Thursday in Sartell vs. South Dakota all-stars, and July 5 in Northfield against a Selects alumni group.

Following the alumni match-up the Select Maroons will fly to Louisville, Kentucky for a tournament. Two days later Sanden will be in Indianapolis – at the Hoosier Dome – for the prestigious Nike All-American Camp July 7-12.

At the conclusion of the Nike Camp, which features the top high school players in the country, Sanden will fly to California to join his Select Maroon teammates for a tournament at Huntington Beach.

And before returning home, the Selects will make a tournament stop in Las Vegas.

Olin is medal winner

Jennifer Olin of Thief River Falls was a medal winner with a fifth place finish in the 16-18-year-old one-meter event during the Twin Cities Diving Invitational June 17-18 at the U-of-M Aquatic Center.

Olin also placed 11th in the one-meter open division at the meet featuring divers from Canada, Minnesota and North Dakota.

Former Thief River Falls resident Beth Mattson placed 10th in the one-meter event for 14-15-year-olds.

Olin, who competes for the Northwest Diving Club coached by Brian Strom of the University of North Dakota, also took part in three-meter diving, placing seventh in the 16-18 age group and 15th in the open division.

Women's Softball

Lynette Jackson, Lana Pittman, Laurie Hanness, and Kristy Walton had two hits each and Terri George scored the winning run as the Swingers edged the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners 9-8 in a Wednesday match-up of Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League divisional leaders.

Lynde Brandon and Terri George homered and Diane Walton went 3-for-3 as the Swingers added an 18-2 win over Best Western Inn.

Best Western Inn Ridgerunners bounced back with a 13-9 win over Sather Law Office/Legion as Dee Woods went 3-for-4, Julie Stennis was 2-for-4 with two home runs, while Michelle Erickson and Audry Brown were both 2-for-3.

B&E got by Baker's Acres 10-9 as Mary Hunt went 4-for-4 with a home run, Sandy Barbot was 2-for-3 and Julie Buse homered and singled in four at-bats. Doreen Myers homered and Karen Bakken was 3-for-3 for Bakers Acres.

A home run by Deb Cota and a 2-for-4 game by Mary Huot completed a doubleheader sweep for B&E in an 11-6 second-game win over Pizza Hut/Amoco 24. The Pizza Hut/Amoco 24 attack featured a home run by Jaime Femrite, triples by Arlene Walseth and Karen Wickstrom, a 3-for-4 effort by Tami Pietruszewski and a 2-for-4 showing by Amanda Hruby.

Musherettes handled Best Western Inn 16-1 as Lisa Nelson, Sheila [illegible], Shannon Magner, and Jenny Wilson had two hits each.

Penny Mills was 3-for-3 with a triple, Lisa Sperling went 3-for-3 with a double, while Nancy Ostgaard and Jackie Flynn were both 3-for-4 in leading Baker's Acres past the Musherettes 19-13.

included in the total camp fee.

"Camp Sunshine is a private, non-profit organization established to serve the recreational needs of individuals who are physically and developmentally disabled," Anenson said. "We think of our campers as individuals first and their handicap second. Camp Sunshine believes that everyone is entitled to a recreational experience.

"The Camp Sunshine staff is the backbone of camp," Anenson adds.

For information about the camp or registering to attend call camp director Jessica Rybaski at Argyle, phone 218-437-6300.

Thief Lake church has its 100th anniversary and John L. Borson with wife and four children.

A meeting was held Nov. 12, 1895, to organize a Lutheran congregation. This was about five years after settlement of the Thief Lake area began by chiefly immigrants from Norway. Rev. Aastad was officially called as the first pastor. Official name of the congregation, which applied for membership in the Norske Synode, was Our Savior's Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran Church in Marshall County.

Although trustees were assigned the task of finding the most central place for a church and cemetery, worship services continued to be held in homes as often as Rev. Aastad could travel the 32 miles from Thief River Falls to the Thief Lake area. Suggested amount for his salary was $2 per family per year. He served a number of congregations and services were not held often.

Ole A. Strom donated the land for a cemetery and the first grave was that of a three-month-old baby born to Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Moe. The tall spruce tree in the cemetery today was planted at the head of this first grave in October of 1899.

First baptisms in 1896 involved Effie Mathilde Gillund, Emma Scramstad, Julia Moe, Victor Immanuel Olson and Ida Cornelia Satterlund. In 1902 there were 27 families in the congregation, including 54 confirmed members and 68 children. Sister congregations were Moose River, Scandia, and a preaching site on the ridge. Our Savior's congregation met in the Gatzke school.

In 1907 a unique system for paying the pastor was developed. It involved $3 from the head of the family, $2 from his wife and $1 from each child per year. In 1909 it was determined that the pastor's salary would be $40 per year, payable about December 1.

In 1909 two acres of land were offered by Johnas Sjoberg for $25 to use for a church and cemetery. But dispute over location continued and in 1913 Mr. Skovsold sent a message with John Olberg to give the church two acres of land wherever they would take it on his land. This is now the Carroll Curtiss farm. A vote was held on whether to have the church built near the old cemetery or at a new location. The old cemetery site received two-thirds of the vote and it was voted to build a church by fall. On the building committee were Carl Hanson, John Olberg, Hans Thompson, Bernard Anderson and John Manum. The congregation suggested the building size of 26x36 feet by 14 feet high.

Monday, May 12, 1913, was set as the day to start building. G. Albertson was hired to help build at a wage of $2.50 per day. A committee was formed to divide the cemetery into lots. It was decided that everyone who had paid $5 or more into the building of the church would get a lot free. All others must pay $3 per grave or $5 per lot.

A list of pastors who served the congregation includes I. T. Aastad 1895-1896, M. Flekke 1896-1903, S. T. Palm, 1903-1908, M. B. Ordahl, 1908-1917, A. O. Nesset 1917-1919, A. E. Hanson, 1921-1924, P. B. Trelstad, 1931-1939, T. C. L. Hanson, 1939-1940, G. T. I. Bergee, 1940-1944; J. D. Kronlokken, 1945-1948; E. G. Bagley, 1949-1959, Duane Thompson, 1959-1962; Andrew A. Kubik, 1963-1967, Donald W. Fredine, 1967-1971, David A. Putz, 1971-1974; Robert D. Amundson, 1975-1995.

A new church was built in 1991 and one of the first events in it was the annual lutefisk supper. There were 650 pounds of lutefisk ordered and 700 dinners served that year. It continues as one of the oldest lutefisk suppers in the area.

Many other historical items from the congregation and its organizations are contained in the history book. The public is invited to participate in the centennial celebration events.

Thief River Falls (she is a certified aerobic instructor) and dance lessons to children of all ages on Saturday mornings. She has worked as a cashier at Jubilee Foods in Thief River Falls and Leuken's Lakeside and Food for Less in Bemidji, as a nanny in Jackson Hole, WY, and as a receptionist in the Bemidji Recreation Center.

Nicole has one brother, Troy, age 17. "He has shown me to have self-confidence, courage, determination and understanding of others," Nicole said. "While in a wheelchair, Troy continually portrays a positive attitude and I admire and take extreme pride in him."

Activities which Nicole enjoys include participating in and teaching aerobics, dancing, walking, running, playing piano, camping, listening to music, swimming, reading and spending time with family and friends.

"My special interest is in the field of education," she said. "I have a particular interest in self-esteem issues. I believe that all children have many talents and strengths that are worthwhile and need to be cultivated. I would encourage all of us to take responsibility in dealing with the many challenges that young people face today: peer pressure, violence in schools, alcohol and drug abuse, dysfunctional families, homelessness, discrimination and many others."

cent of all childhood diseases are directly linked to the dirty water. Early this year, Harold worked with the organization, digging clean wells in Liberia. He also witnessed a country in crisis. Civil war has destroyed much of the capitol's water system. Refugees flooding into the city caused Monrovia's population to swell from one-half million to one and one-quarter million. Several feet of pipe, which will be used for better wells, are included with this shipment of supplies.

The Orphan Grain Train works hard to make sure the donations get to the people in need, and not to the black market. They have people in the organization on site when shipments arrive. Miles points out that they have arranged with several governments to have volunteers accompany the relief shipments and see that the good are properly distributed. Harold has been on site for distribution in Liberia and the organization has a minister in St. Petersburg who helps with distribution.

Harold and Myrlin said that all the people who work for the orphan grain train are volunteers, as are the many people who showed up to help unload the truck.

When asked why the Lutheran Hour Ministries branched out to do humanitarian work as well as spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ, Myrlin explained that it's a Biblical principle, Christ didn't just teach and preach the Word, he healed the sick and fed the hungry.

RECD office to be closed Tues.

RECD office, formerly known as the FmHA office, will be closed Tuesday, June 27, to permit staff to attend informational training sessions.

Graffiti in the park

Red Lake Falls — Last week, graffiti was found on a dumpster and a wall on the tennis courts in Riverside Park. Sheriff Al Morken said that white spray paint was used to write the words, but the sheriff's department isn't sure what they mean.

The graffiti is not the typical initials or graduation year. Although gangs are not a problem in Red Lake Falls, there is a chance that the graffiti is gang-related. Photos of the graffiti were sent to the Moorhead Police Department to see if the graffiti matches any graffiti in the Moorhead area.

Public transportation funding

Hallock — Kittson county commissioners agreed to allocate $1,000 a year to help fund public transportation. Rick Failing, Kittson Memorial Hospital Administrator, presented the idea on June 20.

The hospital is applying for a grant for a van, and the pre-application process includes stating what funds are available locally.

The county will pay 20 per cent or $7,000 of the cost of the vehicle. They will also allocate $1,000 per year for operating costs.

Getting out of alarm business

Roseau — On June 21, Roseau county Sheriff Curt Hauger announced to the county board that the sheriff's department will no longer use the alarm system which protects business from fires, burglars and overheating.

Hauger explained that too many businesses use the system and it could potentially cause problems for the department, if they were forced to prioritize calls.

The system can be used by another company without the businesses having to replace their systems, the alarm would simply ring in a different place. The sheriff's department would be called if the alarm were anything more than a test, instead of the department investigating each alarm.

Tree city USA

Grygla — The trees in the Grygla nursery, which were planted in 1993, have reached their ideal size for transplanting, so this summer, the trees will be prepared for transplanting next spring.

Some of the trees, which were obtained through the Tree City USA project, have already been planted along the town's hiking trail.

Residents who request a tree for next year should start preparing the ground now. Trees that are not taken by Grygla residents may be given to rural residents or people in neighboring towns.

Antique tractor pull

Ada — On Saturday, July 8 at 1 p.m., there will be an antique tractor pull at the Norman County Fair.

The pull is open to antique tractors built in or before the year 1959. Pulling order will be on a first come first serve basis. Pre-registration is desired, the deadline for registration is July 5.

Hospice merges with Hospice of Red River Valley

Northland Community Hospice announces the expansion of services as the result of a recent merger with Hospice of the Red River Valley, Fargo, ND. These services will provide additional benefits and support to the hospitals and nursing homes in Pennington, Marshall and Red Lake counties.

"I am delighted with the administrative changes that have taken place as a result of this merger," said Martha Wissmann from Northland Community Hospice. "The joining of forces of rural hospices insures the continuation of not-for-profit health care for terminally ill patients and broadens the support services for their families."

Although insurance will pay for many of the Hospice services it will not pay for all. However, "no one will be refused our care due to the inability to pay," Wissmann stated, "because our board of directors remains committed to the original pledge made to the community when we were founded." Staff will be added to provide the additional counseling, nursing, spiritual care and bereavement services unique to Hospice care. "Our communities have already seen some of the benefits of these additional services," Martha reported.

Community education on all aspects of dying and death, as well as grief support groups for those dealing with the loss of a loved one are areas she plans to address in the coming months. Fund-raising efforts will continue so that the full range of services is not compromised.

"In the past month and a half I have seen such a change in our office and it confirms we made the right move. Quite simply, the terminally ill are having their needs met 24 hours a day, seven days a week," said Wissmann.

Anyone interested in learning more about these new services or in having Hospice present a program to their organization can call Northland Community Hospice at 681-6189.

Gunshot damages transformer near TRF Wednesday

Power was out for many residents Wednesday in and around Thief River Falls. The power outage has been linked to a transformer that was damaged by a gunshot.

At 11:44 a.m. the sheriff's department in Thief River Falls received a report from a Minnkota Power representative in Grand Forks that a transformer in North township had been shot out. As a result, there were several power outages.

A news release from Minnkota Power Thursday stated that 840 rural electric customers and about 3,200 Thief River Falls residents were affected by the outage. The transformer was taken out of service at 11:28 a.m. and Thief River Falls Municipal had power returned to all of its affected customers by 12:15 p.m. Red Lake Electric had power returned to all of its affected customers by 1:15 p.m. Power was returned to customers through alternate connections on distribution systems.

The Dakota Junction transformer is owned by Minnkota Power Cooperative, Inc., Grand Forks. It is used to convert electricity on Minnkota's 69,000-volt transmission system to 7,200 volts for distribution to customers of Red Lake Electric Cooperative, Red Lake Falls, and Thief River Falls, both members of the Minnkota Power Systems.

The transformer has been repaired but company officials don't know if the damage will cause further problems. The damage was to a 10-foot high ground-standing transformer.

Preliminary investigative results indicate that it was probably shot with a small calibre weapon from the road. It was hit twice. One shot ricocheted off, and another penetrated the casing of the transformer.

A significant amount of oil from the transformer radiator leaked out.

Treasure hunt clues given

Clues for the 1995 Jaycees treasure hunt have been issued since Monday as part of An American Festival, the Fourth of July weekend celebration in Thief River Falls.

Clues announced until press time for the Northern Watch on Friday include: (1) Traffic noise is ever present; (2) The mighty Soo can plainly be heard; (3) Trucks carry a wide variety of items past here; (4) Summer pleasure is an evening stroll; (5) Recent change has taken place; (6) Give it time and let it settle; (7) A hundred years ago there wasn't one; and (8) Summer relief can come from it.

Treasure hunt chairman Rolf Bredeson reminds the public that the treasure is hidden on public property, between one inch and four feet above the ground, and there is no need to dig, climb or displace any materials. Finder should call either KTRF radio at 681-1230 or KKAQ radio at 681-4900. The prize is $100.

Six compete for Miss Thief River Falls title

Six contestants will compete tonight (Saturday, July 1) for the title of Miss Thief River Falls at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. The winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship, $1,000 travel and expense allowance and represent Thief River Falls in the Miss Minnesota program in 1996.

The Miss Thief River Falls scholarship program is an official Miss America Preliminary event. Contestants include the following:

- Maja Turenne, 18, daughter of Ed and Lyn Turenne of Thief River Falls;
- Nicole Paulson, 21, daughter of David and Diane Paulson of Goodridge;
- Tera Marquis, 18, daughter of Arlen and Joan Marquis of Trail;
- Mya Gunderson, 20, daughter of Vernon and Peggy Gunderson of Newfolden;
- Kristi Lindberg, 20, daughter of Ron and Judy Lindberg of Thief River Falls; and
- Christine Anderson, 20, daughter of Ronald and LaVonne Anderson of Karlstad.

Marcia Erickson, daughter of Carroll and Sue Erickson and Miss Thief River Falls 1993-94, will crown the new title winner. Last year the planned Miss Thief River Falls program was canceled when there was an insufficient number of candidates.

Mistress of ceremonies for the program will be Debbie Erickson Spencer, Miss Thief River Falls 1986-87. Entertainment will be provided by Marcia Erickson, Miss Thief River Falls 1993-94 and Laura Williams, student at Lincoln high school. Shannon Gunderson will be featured soloist. Contestants will be presented in swimsuit, talent and on-stage personality (evening gown).

Marcia Erickson

In addition to the $1,500 scholarship for the new Miss Thief River Falls, the first runner-up will receive a $400 scholarship, second runner-up a $200 scholarship and all contestants a $100 scholarship.

Pageant co-chairs are Sue Erickson and Randy Twistol with Tammy Sparby and Sue Dondelinger in charge of production. Diane Freeman handles awards and booklet/fund raising with Everett Marshall supervising lighting and sound.

Jan Peterson arranged mock interviews. Jim Hoks is in charge of stage and set decoration with Ryan Bakken and Tony Green as stage crew and Marge Lavalier is arranging for visiting royalty.

Contestant hostesses are Mary Jo Langlie, Betty Langelett and Odette Gjerde with escorts and taping arranged by Marcie Schaefer. Jackie and Jami Philipp handle tickets and booklet sales. Al Gjerde is in charge of the contestants' dinner and Arnie and Gladys Narverud and Roger and Ardy Tunberg in charge of the judges' dinner.

Anderson, Poissant, Kays & Co. will be contest auditor, Caulfield's Studio the photographer and KTRF handling video. Mary Twistol is in charge of the reception following the program and judges will be Dorothy Kaatz, Doug and Charlene Nyhus, Kim Fuhs and Sandie Rentz.

Job Service programs to move to college quarters

Regional office of the Minnesota Department of Economic Security, which includes Job Service and a number of other assistance and training programs, will move this fall into quarters being prepared at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls.

All services and personnel now located in the offices at 318 Knight Avenue North will be included in the move, according to Pat Ueland, regional manager. The regional office serves Pennington, Marshall, Kittson, Red Lake, Roseau, Polk and Norman counties.

Ueland said the move into 3,300 square feet of remodeled classroom area at Northland will serve several worthwhile purposes and is in keeping with the Minnesota Workforce Center one-stop concept adopted by the state Department of Economic Security. The programs have about 2,600 square feet of space in the present location.

"The idea is that there will be 'no wrong door' when someone comes to us for assistance," Ueland said. "It should be possible for that person to receive the service needed without being referred from office to office or program to program in scattered locations. Quite possibly this will be the first total application of the workforce center concept in the state."

The relocation will involve about 15 employees working with programs including Job Service, Reemployment Insurance, Dislocated Workers, Veterans Employment, Job Training, Migrant Labor, STRIDE (Success Through Individual Development in Employment), Food Stamp Employment and Training and Older Worker.

"Programs of the Department of Economic Security often mesh with the educational and service programs of the college," noted Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of Northland Community and Technical College. "For that reason we were enthused about working with Pat Ueland when she approached us about a workforce center in our building.

"Part of our mission is to be of greater service to business and industry in providing for their needs," Dr. Gunderson added. "The opportunity to work cooperatively with Job Service and other programs on site should make that assistance to business more accessible and efficient."

Arrangements are being made to complete remodeling for relocation of the office by September 1. Costs of remodeling and office maintenance will be recovered through use of grant funds and a five-year lease.

Being remodeled at the college for the Department of Economic Security area will be the classroom area near the general office which

TRAT has been entertaining for over 10 years

The pre-show to "Into the Woods" is a musical review directed by Darla Heut performed by a an enthusiastic cast of area elementary school children. Row one: Stacy Johanneck, Peter Hoks, Anna Skala, Seth Schmitz and Elizebeth Skala. Row two: Philip Hoks, Aaron LaPlante, Sarah Trey, Sara Schultz, Kristin Osmondsen, Carmen Knett and Kelly Schmitz.

"It's a hot group," that's how director Andrea Liston describes the Two Rivers Area Theatre.

The talented group that produced past hits like "Bye Bye Birdie" and "Foreigner" is working on its current production, "Into the Woods," which opens in Red Lake Falls on July 13.

The Two Rivers Area Theatre was started over a decade ago in 1984. The charter members decided to do a show even though they had no money and no knowledge of how to obtain grants. To raise money for the first production, the members solicited the community for funds. The community's response was very supportive and generous.

That summer, they produced "Give My Regards to Broadway" under the direction of Karen Seeger. 850 people came to see the show. The theatre's first president Paul Amundson and the rest of TRAT worked with the city to renovate the community hall, which is where they perform. Amundson, Seeger, John Thibert and Don Johanneck were very instrumental in getting the theatre going.

Since then, the theatre has continued to grow, having produced 14 shows since 1984. They have participated in the Red Lake County Fair, given command performances of a musical review of "Phantom" and "Les Mis", created a haunted mall, produced variety shows, and supported theatre in surrounding schools through help with lighting, costumes and make-up.

In the past, the theatre has held workshops, but this year they were instead focused on building and planning. TRAT recently received a capacity building grant from the Northwest Regional Development Center. Receiving the grant requires the organization to write a mission statement and decide where they want to be in five years from now and how they will achieve that. As part of the process, members of the theatre talked with community leaders and asked what the community expects from the theatre. The two things desired

Overgrown garden

Crookston — Rotarians helped keep their community looking clean and bright and helped their neighbors by volunteering to help till, spade, hoe and plant the Developmental Achievement Center (DAC) garden. DAC has a small garden plot for its clients to enjoy. According to DAC project director, Jo Bittner, last fall and this spring the weeds got out of hand so she asked her neighbor, Allen Pederson, for some help. Pederson rounded up others who helped clean up the garden. DAC clients are taking care of the watering and weeding now, and the Rotary Club members will help the DAC clients harvest the vegetables. The clients will then sell their produce, using the proceeds for next year's garden.

Beach is re-opened

Lengby — The Spring Lake Park beach was closed for 72 hours while water samples were taken for testing. The Minnesota state health department office in Bemidji recommended the closing after several children who had been swimming there became ill.

Public health officials suspect that some one carrying a virus was at the beach and vomited in or near the water, thus spreading the virus. The illness is very infectious, with symptoms which include vomiting, nausea, chills, sweats and diarrhea. A low-grade fever is often associated with the virus.

In similar situations in the state, public health officials found that outbreaks of illness seem to stop after 72 hours, and closing the beach gives those infected time to recover. To prevent further spread of the virus, anyone with similar symptoms is asked to stay out of public swimming areas until symptoms pass.

Motorcycle rider course in TRF

Basic riding and street skills will be taught by the Minnesota Motorcycle Safety Program and MMSP in Thief River Falls July 14 from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m., and July 15 and 16 from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Anyone with an interest in learning to ride a motorcycle or sharpen current skills is encouraged to participate. Interested individuals must be at least 15 years old and possess a valid driver instruction permit or driver license.

The course consists of 20 hours of training including 12 quality hours of "on-cycle" instruction. "Riders will learn basic riding skills, street strategies and advanced turning and braking techniques. Motorcycles are provided for each participant. Upon completion of the course students are eligible for insurance discounts and dealer incentives," according to Karen Kadar, project director of the Minnesota Motorcycle Safety program. Participates age 18 or older who possess a motorcycle permit may be able to fulfill the state skill test requirement upon successful completion of the entire course.

To register call Minnesota Motorcycle Safety Program 1-800-407-6677.

Easy fixin's for the Fourth are on today's menu.

Have this tasty cold salad ready for unexpected guests over the holidays:

WILD RICE SALAD
1 cup uncooked wild rice
Seasoned salt (optional)
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 1/2 cups halved green grapes
1 cup sliced water chestnuts drained
3/4 cup light mayonnaise
1 cup cashews (optional)
Lettuce leaves

Cook rice according to package directions, using seasoned salt, if desired. Drain well and cool to room temperature.

Spoon into a large bowl and add chicken, grapes, water chestnuts and mayonnaise. Toss gently, cover and chill.

Before serving, add cashews and serve on lettuce leaves.

SAUERKRAUT CASSEROLE
1 pound mild Italian sausage links, cut into 1-inch slices
1 large onion, chopped
2 apples, peeled and quartered
1 (27 ounce) can sauerkraut, undrained
1 cup water
1/2 cup packed brown sugar
2 teaspoons caraway seed
Parsley

In a skillet, cook sausage and onion until sausage is brown and onion is tender. Drain.

Stir in apples, sauerkraut, water, brown sugar and caraway seed. Place in 2 1/2 quart casserole, cover and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Garnish with parsley.

What's the Fourth without chicken — here's a delicious recipe for that old favorite:

OVEN BARBECUED CHICKEN
3-4 pounds chicken pieces
1/3 cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3/4 cup ketchup
1/3 cup vinegar
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 cup water
2 teaspoons mustard
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper

Heat small amount of oil in skillet. Fry chicken until browned. Drain. Place chicken in 9x13 inch baking pan.

In saucepan, saute onion in butter until tender. Stir in remaining ingredients and simmer, uncovered, about 15 minutes. Pour over chicken.

Bake at 350 degrees for about 1 hour, until chicken is done.

Reviewer praises Anne of Green Gables production in Warroad

By M. Lucile Landby

"Anne of Green Gables" — If you loved it as a book — and you loved it as a movie — now, you will love it as a Warroad Summer Theater production. Its popularity prompted author Lucy Maud Montgomery to write a sequel, "Anne of Avonlea", which many in our area have enjoyed on Canadian TV.

(Warroad Summer Theater will perform "Anne of Green Gables" 8 p.m. July 1 and 2 p.m. July 2 at the Warroad high school mini theater.)

Don't be surprised, in the days that follow your play attendance, if the men of your family give a drawled Matthew Cuthbert (Bob Turner) response to almost any question. "Can't say as I do, and can't say as I don't".

Red-headed Beth Adams gives us a refreshing and convincing Anne — spelled with an e. We are left wondering if she is as spirited and fast-talking off stage as she is in her winning portrayal of Anne. If we stuck around after the play we could find out. "Yep! She is!" What a joy!

Darlene Smith as Marilla, Anne Cole as Rachel Lynde (the nosey neighbor and "wherever did you find that blue hat with the white bird on top?"), Barb Larson as Minnie Stern (who finds Anne's vivid imagination absolutely intolerable in the orphanage), Julie Jones as orphanage director, and Ann Dudlow as a very insightful neighbor, are all seasoned Warroad Summer Theater performers doing their usual excellent character portrayals with a sprinkling of their own personal spice. Based on performance, how does one distinguish between amateurs and professionals?

Casey Guy as Gilbert Blyth and Caleb Heppner as Moody Spurgeon, two young men quite smitten by the vivacious Anne, show great promise for future WST casting. Caleb's "calf eyes" for Anne are a major treat! (Dad, Tom Heppner, claims no responsibility for passing on any flirting ability to his son.)

Jill Anderson, Tember Lyn Melby, Jennifer Beisel (Remember her mom Mary in early WST plays), Jackie Kliner, and Cliff Halverson (Wow! What a voice) do a fine job of filling out the on-stage cast for Anne of Green Gables.

Thank you to the cast and a big thank you to the behind-the-scenes crew. Your time and your talents have given us another evening of WST entertainment. We needed that!

Overheard while leaving the theater: "wonderful casting", "so nice to have real family entertainment", "fun to see a play that is just pure enjoyment."

An American Festival Is A Hotbed Of Activity

Northwest Minnesota residents looking for activity this weekend shouldn't need any encouragement to attend An American Festival in Thief River Falls. From the Sparkler Sprint this (Saturday) morning through the gigantic fireworks display Sunday evening there will be almost constant activity.

Whether encouragement is needed or not, we are going to offer it. Not only will hundreds of volunteer hours have gone into planning and producing the event, sponsors have dumped a bunch of bucks into the celebration, making it one of the best that money can buy. An example is the $8,000 being spent on bigger, better and a greater quantity of fireworks than ever displayed here before.

So if you don't have any other place you would rather be, Thief River Falls is the place to be this weekend. And thanks to sponsorships, you won't have to spend much more than your time.

Celebrating America's Freedom

While the Fourth of July holiday provides a handy excuse for a celebration, it might not be a bad idea to give at least a little consideration to what is being celebrated and why we are able to celebrate. William Detweiler, National Commander of the American Legion, has some pretty good answers to the question of why we observe Independence Day.

"That reason is freedom, and that is what this day is all about," he said.

"For some, freedom can be a difficult concept to grasp. (The dictionary) says freedom means 'the quality or state of being free....the absence of coercion or constraint in choice of action....liberation from slavery or the power of another.' Synonyms are liberty and independence. We also learn that freedom is the opposite of bondage, slavery, captivity, imprisonment and servitude.

"I believe freedom can be compared to the throb of the heart. Freedom beats in the hearts of men and women everywhere across this great land. It was the quest for freedom that led to the American Revolution. Now, more than 200 years later, this Fourth of July should be a special celebration of America's freedom.

"As we celebrate our freedom and remember those who struggled against unbelievable odds to found our nation, let us also remember those of recent history who struggled against even greater odds. Let us remember the men and women of World War II.

"....I believe the World War II generation was and is the most giving and compassionate generation this nation has ever known. Their youth was marked by the stock market crash and the Great Depression. Then, as the economic corner was being turned, these men and women went off to war to fight a global conflict. More than 400,000 died defending our freedom, and that of other people who yearned to be free."

Commander Detweiler notes that the men and women who served and came home from World War II in one generation created the greatest economic boom the nation has ever seen.

"Freedom had a lot to do with it," he said. 'In the prime of their lives they understood this difficult-to-grasp concept. For many of them, President Franklin Roosevelt's State of the Union address in 1941 held special meaning. That's when Roosevelt spoke of the Four Freedoms: Freedom of speech and expression, freedom of worship, freedom from want and freedom from fear.

"Should we celebrate freedom? The answer is clearly a resounding yes! So strike up the band, light the fireworks, break out the red, white and blue and raise 'Old Glory' high. This day, and every day, celebrate America's freedom.

Speed figures in fatal crashes

by David Hill
Associate Editor

One of the most commonly reported immediate causal factors in fatal crashes is speed. Twenty-one years after a national speed limit was established at 55, speed is still a factor in crashes. What has changed that the national speed limit should be repealed?

The national speed limit was established in response to a shortage in fuel, skyrocketing prices of fuels, and concerns about safety.

The national speed limit has had an impact. As I recall, the shortage was caused by those who owned the resources saying the price was too low. As we waited in lines gas prices went from about 50 cents to its current level and sometimes higher. By lowering the speed limit our demand for fuel declined, thus breaking the back and unity of those who wanted prices to increase to higher levels. It also hurt oil producers in the United States who couldn't compete with the volume being produced in the Middle East.

Those who say the law should be repealed argue that the bill does not raise the speed limit, but gives state the right to set speed limits. They also argue that automobiles have become more fuel efficient, and safer because of seat belts, air bags, anti-lock brakes and tougher drunk driving laws. Some individuals believe the current speed limit is a farce because so many people drive over the speed limit. They believe more people will drive within the speed limit if speed limits are increased.

Speed, however, was the most commonly reported immediate causal factor of fatal crashes in Minnesota, according to statistics from the Minnesota Motor Vehicle Crash Facts 1993. In 1993, illegal or unsafe speeds contributed to the death of 139 people and injuries to 8,392 people.

United States Transportation Secretary Federico Pena said recently that repeal of the national maximum speed limit law would result in nearly 5,000 lives lost every year. He added that speed-related crashes cost the U.S. economy $24 billion each year, including $2 billion in health costs.

Increasing the speed limit will not reduce the number of people speeding, nor will it increase their awareness of other factors that might cause an accident. They will drive faster and have less time to react to adverse conditions. Vehicles may have become safer in the last 21 years, but I doubt the chances of surviving a crash at 55 miles per hour improves at a faster speed.

Legislators cannot be justified in raising the speed limit on the basis that we no longer have limited access to fuel. In making a decision, legislators should not allow economics to outweigh the tragedy of loss or injury to even one person.

If legislators are to repeal the national speed limit, they should allow individual states to determine what the speed limit should be, and the speed limit should be based upon the design specifications of the road, and relative risk to human life.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

has housed the sales and marketing program. A smaller area near the recently created Women's Center will also be used.

"Having offices in the college has the further benefits of shared use of a career center, space for on-site seminars and utilization of interactive television for training and distribution of information," Ueland added.

In addition to Thief River Falls, local Job Service offices in the region are located in Crookston, East Grand Forks and Roseau. The regional office was moved from Crookston to Thief River Falls in 1994 and Ueland was transferred from Willmar to become regional manager.

Township officer workshop in TRF

There will be a management workshop for all township officers and interested persons on Wednesday, July 12, at the Best Western in Thief River Falls.

Registration will start at 8 a.m. with a $35 fee for the all-day long workshop.

Subjects covered will be writing proper minutes, mock elections, road contracts, payroll accounts, parliamentary procedure et cetra.

Instructors will be from the State Association of Township office. John Dooley, attorney, Bill Bliss, MSI Insurance, Rosie Lynch, association insurance representative, LeSears, bookkeeping, Jean Woorster, assistant director and others.

All district 12 and 13 township officers should make every effort to attend.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT
JOAN LUBITZ
OPTICIAN

WHAT IS NEARSIGHTEDNESS?

Nearsightedness, or myopia, is the most common vision condition which optometrists treat. It has been estimated, that 40% of the total U.S. population are likely to develop nearsightedness.

What is it? Nearsightedness is a vision condition in which near objects are seen more clearly than objects that are far away. In the majority of cases, it develops before the age of 25, though some persons are born with myopia. Since it develops mostly during the school years, factors such as too much reading, diet, growth and metabolism have all been blamed for contributing to nearsightedness. Actually, the exact cause is not known.

Though nearsightedness cannot be cured, and it is not (yet) known how to prevent it, it can be effectively compensated for by the optometrist. He can prescribe eyeglasses or contact lenses which correct vision errors and help nearsighted people to see distant objects clearly.

Thief River Falls runner Ryan Bendickson wasn't able to get back to the bag in time and was tagged out by Crookston first baseman Mitch Bakken on a pick-off move by pitcher Chris Bruggeman Thursday in the second inning of an American Legion baseball doubleheader opener at Irv Wilson Field. Thief River Falls won twice, 4-3 and 7-6.

Thief River Falls Legion wins in bottom of the seventh...

Steal of home beats Crookston

Chris Vanyo stole home with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning Thursday to finish off a come-from-behind 4-3 Thief River Falls win over Crookston in the first half of an American Legion baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

Post 117 completed the twinbill sweep with a 7-6 eight-inning victory in the nightcap.

Ahead 3-0, Crookston's hard-throwing Chris Bruggeman held Thief River Falls without a hit through four innings in Game 1 before running into fifth inning trouble when a walk and a passed ball on a strike-out set up a two-out, two-run double into the left field corner by Chanc Keefe.

Thief River Falls tied it in the sixth on back-to-back one-out doubles by Ryan Bendickson and Adam Henney, then won it without the benefit of a base hit in the seventh as Vanyo reached base on an error and advanced on a wild pitch and an infield ground-out.

That put Vanyo at third with two out and No. 4 hitter Trever Magner at the plate. But Magner was 0-for-3 for the game and faced an 0-2 count when Thief River Falls coach Terry Wiseth told Vanyo to break for the plate on the pitch.

Vanyo began with a walking lead then sprinted home on Bruggeman's delivery. What would have been a close call for plate umpire Roger Cota was made easy when the ball popped out of the glove of catcher Ben Parkin.

"We were just looking for a way to win," explained Wiseth. "Chris is as good as anybody running the bases. Trever was having some trouble at the plate, and there were two outs. So I figured, why not try it – make an out at home or at first, it makes no difference."

Crookston used a pair of game-opening walks and an error for a first inning run, then after a double by Shaun Corbin and a single by Erik Monteen, went up 3-0 in the fourth on a bases-loaded walk issued to No. 9 hitter Marty Auboi and a run-scoring fielder's choice off the bat of Jerrod Hann.

Both sides were limited to three hits, but six errors (three on each team) and 13 walks (seven issued by Thief River Falls; six by Crookston) kept putting runners on base. However, Wiseth was more than satisfied with a Nathan LaRoque-Derrick McFarlane-Eric Bjorgaard mound combination that out-dueled Bruggeman's complete-game effort.

LaRoque pitched into the sixth before giving way to McFarlane, who was replaced by Bjorgaard after issuing a pair of two-out walks in the seventh. With Bobby Shimpa, one of Crookston's top hitters, in the on-deck circle, Bjorgaard ended the threat by retiring Monteen on a foul-ball pop-up.

"I was real happy with our pitchers," said Wiseth. "LaRoque threw well; McFarlane came in and did a nice job; and Bjorgaard got the big out when we really needed it."

It was another final at-bat win for Thief River Falls in the nightcap as Magner hit a two-run, bases-loaded single in the bottom of the eighth to cap a three-run rally that wiped out a 6-4 Crookston lead.

Vanyo got the second game win, striking out eight in the process.

The sweep improved Thief River Falls to 5-11. Crookston, featuring many of the same players who made up a 23-5 Class A state tournament championship high school team this spring, fell to 3-4.

Roseau wins 9-5 Legion match-up against Post 117

Roseau trailed 4-3 before scoring three times in the top of the fifth inning Tuesday en route to a 9-5 American Legion baseball victory over Thief River Falls at Irv Wilson Field.

Second half of scheduled doubleheader was rained out.

Roseau pitcher Aaron Larsen gave up three hits and three runs in the bottom of the first, but then threw six hitless innings for a route-going win.

Larsen and Thief River Falls' Eric Bjorgaard hit first inning home runs.

TRF/Roseau

Roseau	110	131	2	9	10	2
Thief River Falls	301	010	0	5	3	3

TRF - Courtney Skjarven (LP); Eric Bjorgaard home run
Roseau - Aaron Larsen (WP), Larsen home run.

Two Rivers Area Theatre has been entertaining for more than 10 years

by most were opportunities for young people and an extension company.

A children's branch of TRAT is now being developed; it is affectionately called "TRAT BRATS." Theatre can be a great way for kids to develop self-confidence, and it inspires them to dream big and achieve those goals. Many people who grew up on the Two Rivers stage have grown up to be successful adults. One former TRAT BRAT is the Minnesota Beef Princess, one was Miss North Dakota, one has his own band now. TRAT BRATS plans to fulfill the needs of youth in the theatre's area, in what ever way is needed. One project they already have planned is to sponsor the high school one-act play at Lafayette. School cut backs eliminated a budget for the one-act play, but the theatre group will pay for a director, costumes and other necessities.

TRAT is committed to building a strong theatre through youth, so it is including a pre-show to "Into the Woods" in which children perform.

The entertainment company doesn't have a name yet, but plans are under way to organize an outreach group which will perform musical highlights at events in the community and surrounding areas.

They have also been working on building up their membership and producing a newsletter. Anyone can become a voting member by paying the $5 membership fee which goes towards the theatre.

Andrea Liston explains that there is meaning behind the name Two Rivers Area Theatre. Obviously, the name is based on the two rivers that flow through Red Lake Falls, but those rivers flow all over the region, just as the people involved in the organization come from Plummer, Brooks and all over the region. Some people have driven back and forth from Grand Forks to participate in TRAT productions, a person from Wisconsin even rented a room in Red Lake Falls, while participating in TRAT. Many of the cast members of "Into the Woods" are from outside of Red Lake Falls.

The people in TRAT are from all walks of life as well. Young and old, seasoned professionals and first-time novices are all involved in the organization.

All the on-stage talent for TRAT is volunteer, but the director is a paid position. When the theatre receives a grant, they pay the technical staff which helps provide a more smooth and professional show. Andrea Liston points out that the technical staff needs to be rewarded for all their hard work. She credits Dan Johanneck as being an excellent technical director and Don Johanneck as a master carpenter.

The theatre started doing only musicals in the summer, but in 1991, they added a winter comedy, starting with "Foreigner" as a dinner theatre. Their past plays include these familiar favorites: "Annie Get Your Gun," "My Fair Lady," "Time and Time Again," Cinderella," "Mame" and "Oliver!"

The theatre has been through three stages. After the original creation in 1984, the theatre experienced a regrouping a few years later, which is credited to John Thibert, Pam and Al Walker. The final push came from Carol Kankel a few years ago.

The wonderfully unique thing about TRAT's current production, "Into the Woods," is that the writers wrote no character descriptions, no set descriptions and no costume directions. It's up to the actors and director and technical people to dream them up. It's perfect for this group of people who say they want to create, not imitate.

Current director Andrea Liston first got involved with TRAT by doing costumes for "Cinderella" and later did costumes for "Mame," a production which needed almost 400 costumes. The theatre has built a reputation for great extras, lighting and costumes of which it currently has quite an extensive collection.

Grants from the NWRDC and McKnight Foundation have enabled the theatre to buy lighting equipment, which will come in handy for all the special effects in "Into the Woods." Don Johanneck is the technical director for this complicated show.

"He's just unreal," says Liston of Johanneck. "The last two 'house' sets he built were so real-looking that people went up on stage to see the rest of the house."

What does the theatre plan to do next? "Well, they have been asked by the city of Red Lake Falls to design a city-wide celebration which they will probably start next summer.

TRAT has been incorporated, its by-laws have been written and are being refined. It is an institution that can be picked up and continued by anyone who loves theatre. And as Liston says, it will not die.

Gunshot causes possible $130,000 loss of transformer

The unit holds 1,980 gallons of high grade mineral oil, which is used for electrical insulation and as a cooling oil in the transformers. An exact amount cannot be confirmed at this time. Clean up crews have been on the site.

The incident is under investigation by the Pennington county sheriff's department. If the transformer has to be replaced, transformers have an estimated cost of $130,000. According to Minnkota representatives, a similar incident of gunshot vandalism at Redby in 1994 resulted in a brief loss of power for rural electric customers and approximately $70,000 in damage.

Minnkota is a generation and transmission cooperative supplying wholesale electricity to Red Lake Electric and 11 other rural electric cooperatives as well as Thief River Falls municipal and 11 other rural municipals. The Minnkota Power Systems serve more than 100,000 customers in eastern North Dakota and northwestern Minnesota.

Ben Schmitz and Karl Frisch as the Baker and his wife play the lead roles in "Into the Woods." A play about what happens when characters from fairy tales meet in the woods. Other familiar characters include Little Red Riding Hood and her grandmother.

Break-in at community center in Spruce Valley

Middle River — On Wednesday, June 28, the Spruce Valley Community Center was broken into when someone kicked in the vents and reached inside to turn the doorknob.

Three doors and a window were damaged and the suspects stole a VCR, stereo, clocks, a poster and an American flag. The items were recovered when the suspects were apprehended. The items will be returned after the investigation is complete and there has been a court hearing.

The suspects are minors, so no names were released.

Group plans education walking trails

McIntosh — A group of people from the McIntosh area are trying to drum up support for their plan for a educational/scenic trail along the west side of the Poplar River.

The plan includes walking paths, boardwalks, wildflowers and trees. Later perhaps gazeboes or docks would be added. The DNR suggested adding nesting boxes for ducks and geese, as well as bluebird and bat houses.

Funds would have to come from grants, donations and possibly, the city of McIntosh. The group plans a July 19 meeting to organize suggestions and ideas.

A new way of life for Shelly and Carey

Greenbush — Shelly and Carey Olson are selling their house, auctioning off their belongings and hitting the road. Their 26 and one half foot camper will become their home for awhile.

They are planning to spend the next year traveling and trying to decide where to make their home. Because of their severe allergies, the Olsons are looking for a climate that is drier and warmer than Minnesota.

They plan on traveling to Yellowstone first where they would like to stay until November. After that they plan on moving to Arizona or New Mexico, then who knows where.

Vandals apprehended in minutes

Hout — At 8:59 a.m. on June 29, the Red Lake County sheriff's department received a call that the Hout Cemetery had been vandalized. Twenty-two minutes later, the first of two arrests were made in connection with the crime.

Richard Jason Blow, 19, of Crookston, was arrested at 9:21 and later that afternoon, Michael Fields, 22, also of Crookston, was arrested as well.

Vandals overturned 25 headstones, some of them marked graves that were 100 years old. The investigation will continue and more arrests are expected to be made.

According to the sheriff's department, the vandalism at the cemetery is not connected to the graffiti in the Red Lake Falls park.

Bullride '95 will offer two nights of thrilling action

Some of the nation's top professional bull riders matched against some of the country's best bucking bulls will provide two nights of thrill a minute action Thursday and Friday, July 13 and 14, at the Pennington County Fair.

Events will start at 7 p.m. each day in front of the grandstand on the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls. Advance sale tickets are available at Amoco 24, Erl's Market, Petro Pumper and Pennington Square in Thief River Falls and RCC Western Store at Columbia Mall in Grand Forks, ND. Admission is $10 for adults and $6 for children 12 and younger.

Bullride '95 is sanctioned by the Professional Bull Riders (PBR) and riders here will be competing not only for cash but points toward ranking to qualify for the PBR national finals in Las Vegas, NV, October 13-15. Local sponsorships have permitted addition of $10,000 in prize money which will be added incentive for contestants to ride here.

"Bull riding is always one of the most popular and exciting events in professional rodeo," stated Roger Shaffer, chairman of the Bullride '95 committee. "It has all the elements of anticipation, excitement, danger, strength, technique, agility and athletic ability that provide a great entertainment value. No one should leave Bullride '95 without an appreciation for what they will have seen in effort from both bulls and riders."

Among the early entries in Bullride '95 are Leslie Doyle, Jerome Davis, Jason Brumley, Nuce Cook and Kirk Wakefield.

As of June 28, Doyle was leading the Touring Pro Division (TPD) of the Professional Bull Riders with Bullfighter Eric Rohrer of Cempti, LA, will be one of two bullfighters protecting cowboys at Bullride '95 in Thief River Falls Thursday and Friday, July 13 and 14.

Roher measures success by inch

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

At 23 years of age, Eric Rohrer's second greatest ambition as a card-carrying Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association bullfighter is to be good enough and recognized enough to fight bulls in as many National Finals Rodeos as he can.

His greatest ambition is to be 24.

For Rohrer success is often measured in fractions of an inch—the distance between an agitated bull's horns, hooves or head and some part of his nimble body. A wrong move in a split second can spell disaster. It's not a lifestyle for the timid or faint of heart, but no one could call it dull.

The Louisiana native—who will be one of two bullfighters at Bullride '95 in Thief River Falls July 13 and 14—doesn't really know what attracted him into the bullfighting field. He started with practice, moved on to performing at amateur events, then getting paid for his services and finally seeking and earning PRCA membership.

He received letters of endorsement from professional bullfighters James Pierce of Thibodeaux, LA (who twice worked the TRF

Irish Tavern Singers and Dancers will be one of the groups to entertain today (Saturday) and Sunday at the All Nations Cultural Festival at the park in St. Hilaire. The group is scheduled to perform at 12 noon and 9.45 p.m. Saturday and at 1:05 and 5:25 p.m. Sunday.

Swimming pool survey returns lack consensus

By a two to one margin, respondents to a survey said they would prefer an indoor pool in Thief River Falls. That, however, was about the only clear message from respondents of a Thief River Falls swimming pool survey.

Members of the Swimming Pool Committee will meet in city council chambers Monday night to discuss the results of the survey. A total of 5,956 surveys were mailed to area residents, and 654 were returned.

Terry Nelson, swimming pool committee chairman, said he was a little disappointed in the results (roughly 9.2 per cent), but thought it was close to normal. Nelson said the committee will review the results, and then probably report to the Thief River Falls city council.

What should be built was fairly clear from the survey, but that leaves a lot of questions unanswered. Even though they asked residents a lot of those questions, the answers were pretty evenly split. For example, 319 of the respondents said they would support a bond issue while 277 said they would not. Most of the respondents (247) said they would support a one-half per cent sales tax that would "piggyback" on the state's sales tax, but a relatively similar number (222) said they wouldn't support a sales tax. Most of the respondents said they would pledge money towards the construction, but most respondents would only contribute between $50 and $100. Franklin Middle school and the former Knox elementary school site vied for honors as the number one preferred location among respondents, but again it was fairly even. A third location, the multi-events cultural center was a close third.

When asked what type of swimming pool they preferred, 250 respondents said they wanted an outdoor pool, 142 said an indoor pool and 219 said a family aquatic center. A family aquatic center includes an indoor pool and other elements, such as slides and wading pools. Nelson said that if the family aquatic center and indoor pool numbers are combined, respondents seemed to prefer an indoor pool over an outdoor pool by a margin of 2 to 1.

There were many mixed messages in the comments provided by respondents, however. When compiled into one document, comments consisted of a whoping 38 pages. Even some of these comments were mixed with other issues. There were many negative comments about the bond issue for Challenger elementary school, and the fund-raising for the Soo Depot, for example. Seventeen responses commented negatively on the depot or the communities' priorities because of the save the depot project. Most commented that if money can be raised for a depot, it can be raised for a swimming pool.

But many were clearly concerned that there wasn't enough for children to do in the community. It was clear the respondents didn't like the condition of the river, and thought the community fared poorly when compared with other nearby communities because it did not have an outdoor pool.

Some respondents didn't feel they could support the pool financially because they live on fixed incomes. Some said they would donate over $1,000. Of the respondents, 293 did not have anyone under 18 years of age living in their household. Most of the respondents (220), have lived in the community for over 35 years. Most of the respondents (178) were between 36- to 45-years of age.

Some of the respondents wanted the city or responsible parties to get started on the project, others wanted to wait and study the costs and options. Still others wanted to know where the money was coming from to conduct all these studies, and how much these studies were costing.

This survey was prepared by members of the Swimming Pool Committee and the City Park and Recreation department. It was paid for by the Swimming Pool fund, and cost roughly $600. The survey was sent out on June 10 through the Northern Watch and was supposed to have been returned on June 20. The information from the surveys was compiled by park and recreation department employees.

Pet supply business growing in Warren

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

Looking for a sweater for your dog or a toy for your bird, but just can't get to one of those fancy pet shops in the Mega Mall? Well, look no further than Warren, the home of one of the area's newest businesses. Great Companions is a pet supply catalog started by Jason Mischel of Warren.

Jason's company grew out of his parents' business, Mischel Grain and Seed Co. The grain company started selling bird seed by advertising in magazines and other publications. After getting many inquiries about other bird products, the Mischels decided to expand to selling some bird toys. Eventually, Jason decided to expand the business and print a 48 page catalog which includes items for birds, dogs and reptiles.

Jason, who will be a senior at Gustavus Adolphus College this fall, handled inventory management and marketing over the last year. While in St. Peter, he had a computer which could log into the computer in Warren and keep track of inventory.

Working with a 'Net

Jason is planning to publish his catalog on the Internet, and he wants to set up sites for other companies, making it easier for pet owners to get product information and product directones.

He lists three major advantages to using the Internet in business. First, it brings the whole world market right to him. He explains that he doesn't have to go to New York or some other city, because on the Internet he is not limited by any geological or population constraints. In other words, it puts those in rural areas on the same plane as people in metro areas, he explains.

Second, he says, it provides a whole new medium to explore, and new audiences to reach.

Third, the Internet makes it easier for the consumer to find the company.

Jason says the catalog is ready to go on Internet, but he is having difficulties getting hooked up with the phone service. He already has several other companies which are interested on getting on the Internet with Great Companions. Included are two other bird food companies, a bird toy company, a cat magazine and he has some leads on a dog treat company and a dog toy company. He is still introducing his idea to other companies. Jason even took his service to a pet supply trade show down in New Orleans, but he found that many people don't understand Internet and don't see the advantages of using it.

A growing company

In spite of the Internet set backs the business is growing. Since the catalog was published, Great Companions is doing four to five times the business it was doing in February, and they plan to publish another catalog in mid-August.

Great companions has created a few jobs, too. Aside from Jason, the company employs four full-time employees and three part-time employees. Jason explained that the success of Great Companions has had a ripple effect.

One new business has been created because Jason was having a problem with supply from one of the bird toy companies. To solve the supply problem, Jason's younger brother, Adam, 17, started his own bird toy manufacturing company. Jason and Adam designed toys for Wild Side Bird Toys and now Adam has his own shop where he builds the toys and works on research and development. The increased catalog business has also helped Mischel Grain and Seed Company to create and maintain jobs.

Despite his early involvement in the bird seed business Jason never saw himself working in the pet supply business, but he says he loves the marketing part of it and he is glad that his business was able to grow out of his family's business. He is studying accounting at school, but says he's taken just

Rural reunion

Carp — Last Saturday, approximately 500 people attended a fish fry at the Carp area reunion. The following day, about 300 attended the dedication of the Carp Pioneer Memorial Park.

Other features of the reunion included a photo display and wooden fish which were given away as door prizes.

Senator LeRoy Stumpf was at the dedication ceremony where he presented a framed certificate from the Minnesota state legislature and a U.S. flag.

Bond referendum

Baudette — Last week, residents of Lake of the Woods School district voted down a referendum to issue $3.4 million in general obligation bonds. Of the 2,135 ballots sent out to voters, 1,060 came back marked "no" and 459 were marked "yes." Voter turn out was at about 71 per cent, slightly lower than the 74 per cent that voted in the November general elections.

The money would have been used to construct a combined pool and arena on school grounds as a replacement for the current facilities which are in need of repair. The Arena Association has raised about $300,000 and has already investigated options for renovating the arena.

Local baseball hero featured on TV

Clearbrook — Baseball hero, Wes Westrum will be featured on KAWE/KAWB on Saturday, July 8, on public television's "Viewpoints North."

Wes Westrum was drafted by the San Francisco Giants and was their catcher for eleven seasons. He also coached and later managed the Giants and the New York Mets. Eventually he became a scout for the Atlanta Braves.

The American Legion Post at Clearbrook opened a museum honoring the baseball hero.

Livestock auction at fair

On Sunday, July 16, the annual 4-H market livestock auction will take place at the Pennington county fair in Thief River Falls. The auction will begin at 3:30 p.m. between the livestock barns on the county fairgrounds.

Only grand champion, reserve champion and blue ribbon animals will be sold at the auction. One of the goals of the auction is to reward 4-H club members for excellence in livestock projects and encourage them to make improvements in their projects.

Individual or combined bids on livestock are welcome. Persons who would like to make a bid but will not be present for the auction may leave a bid with Van Swanson, extension educator for 4-H, at the Pennington county extension office.

Buyers can take personal possession of the animal purchased or elect to have it processed at their own expense. Transportation of the animals to the processing location will be provided. Beef, sheep and swine may also be resold through local markets.

The auction bidding starts at market price to assure exhibitors of a premium on their animals, poultry or waterfowl.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Won't these zesty beans go well with that chicken

WESTERN BEANS

4 strips of bacon, diced
1 large onion, chopped
1/3 cup dry lentils
1 1/3 cups water
2 tablespoons ketchup
1 teaspoon garlic powder
3/4 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
1/4 teaspoon dried red pepper flakes
1 bay leaf
1 (16 ounce) can whole tomatoes with liquid, chopped
1 (15 ounce) can pinto beans, drained
1 (16 ounce) can kidney beans, drained

Lightly fry bacon in 3-quart saucepan. Add onion and cook until transparent.

Stir in remaining ingredients and cook over medium heat for 45 minutes or until lentils are tender, stirring once or twice. Remove bay leaf before serving.

Theresa Meyer, Thief River Falls, figured out the clues to the 1995 Treasure Hunt sponsored by the Jaycees. Meyer found the tiny capsule at the Water Treatment plant. Meyer was presented a $100 check from Rohif Bredesen, chairman of the Jaycee Treasure hunt project. Meyer found the treasure after the 10th clue, which was "Supply and demand are constant".

4-H exhibit numbers up for '95 fair

Number of exhibits registered by Pennington county 4-H club members for the 94th annual Pennington County Fair is up over the past two years, according to information received from Kim Swanson, secretary in the Pennington county office of the University of Minnesota Extension Service.

The 1995 registration list includes 416 exhibits by 157 exhibitors with 145 animals (beef, dairy, dog, goat, horse, poultry, rabbits, sheep and swine) among the total entries.

Last year there were 13 fewer exhibitors at 144 and 50 fewer exhibits at 366 although there were seven more animals entered at 152.

In 1993 there were 163 4-H club members exhibiting but only 402 exhibits of which 182 were animals.

Heath Unruh completes Marine recruit training

Marine Pvt. Heath T. Unruh of Thief River Falls, recently completed the 11 weeks of intensive training required to earn the title "Marine".

During the training conducted at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Unruh completed a variety of challenging training evolutions designed to improve physical and mental strength.

In addition to the rigorous physical conditioning program, classroom instruction and practical application exercises, Unruh was introduced to the core values of the Marine Corps which include: honor, courage and commitment. The importance of the core values was illustrated throughout the training which included customs, courtesies, Marine Corps history and traditions.

Through teamwork and self-discipline Unruh became proficient in military skills including rifle marksmanship, uniform regulations, first aid and close-order drill.

Unruh is a 1992 graduate of Lincoln high school. He is the son of Jerry and Carol Unruh of Thief River Falls.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

We are concerned about an episode that happened on Friday, June 30th. One of us was rollerblading in a restricted downtown area on her way to work when a sheriff's department officer called her over to speak with her. He told her to remove her rollerblades. But, before letting her go, he loudly told her that if he saw her uptown again, that he would pull her over and give her a ticket. Before this, she had never experienced such rudeness from an authority figure. Is rollerblading now a crime in TRF!

Rollerblading is not only a recreational sport, but also a mode of transportation. As any informed person is aware, not everyone is lucky enough to have the privilege of a car. With the privilege of owning a car also come a lot of expenses—insurance, car payments, gas, etc. Rollerblades are cost effective in that they do not have the added expenses of a car but still fulfill one's need for a quicker mode of transportation. They also prevent pollution of the environment and help keep the user physically fit.

The concern that the city must have had when passing the law prohibiting rollerblading is understandable in theory, but we think that they generalize rollerbladers in an abusive manner. Usually, the rollerbladers who do rollerblade uptown know the basic procedures of stopping and starting, and are able to successfully perform them at stop lights and corners.

If Thief River Falls pedestrians still feel ill at ease, maybe the community could satisfy both parties. One possible solution could be to offer a course which would certify rollerbladers, enabling them to rollerblade in the downtown area with content Thief River Falls pedestrians.

Rollerblading for us is a sport and an option which we do not abuse. Just to prove this to you, we walked to the library to type this letter and then proceeded to walk to the Thief River Falls Times office. We have nothing against walking, but we have been doing this since infancy. We figured a change, such as rollerblading, might be nice, but because of what happened, we guess not.

Thanks
Sincerely,
Jenny Flynn, for a group of concerned rollerbladers

To The Editor:

During the week of June 19-23, 40 Thief River Falls Girl Scouts participated in day camp at Camp MOE. Camp was a great experience and the girls were exposed to a wide range of activities. This camp would not be possible without the help of many volunteers. We feel the following people are deserving of recognition for giving of their time and talents:

Unit leaders Cindy Clow, Linda Schommer, Sheila Dargus, Nancy Kerr, Glen Kajewski, Linda Spyhalski, Sharon Byron, Darlene Hinricks, Brenda McCarty, Patricia Olson, Rod Heschke, Sara Olson and Jean Larson.

Unit helpers Amy Christensen, Crystal McKee, Taryn Pream, Trisha Bergeron and Dayna Holland.

Activities director Nicky Armstrong and Sleep over chaperones Vern Schommer, Galen Clow, Carl Peterson and Liz Reishus.

DR. ANDREA ZIPPRICH

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS AND YOUR EYES

Multiple sclerosis is a central nervous system disease caused by a virus that attacks the nerve coverings. This covering is called the "myelin sheath" and it nourishes and protects the nerve. The disease usually occurs between the ages of 20 and 40 and is more common in females. It is also more prevalent in cold, temperate climates.

The chief eye complaint is painless vision loss in one eye with some discomfort in eye movement. The discomfort occurs because the myelin sheath of the optic nerve is inflamed. A common symptom of MS is a decrease in visual ability while exercising or when overheated. There is often double vision and a limited or defective visual field.

People with immediate family members suffering from MS have a much higher chance of getting this disease than the general population. Unfortunately, there is no effective treatment for MS and no satisfactory diagnostic test. Steroids are sometimes given if the second eye becomes involved without the first eye recovering.

Fixing The Home Office Problem A Good Idea

It's time for Congress to fix what the courts and the Internal Revenue Service have broken in regard to home office business deductions for income tax purposes.

Rep. Wayne Allard of Colorado is right in his argument that "it is critical that recent assaults on the home office deduction be reversed. The goal is to make clear that if one uses a portion of the home exclusively and regularly for a home office, then one can generally take the deduction."

It's too bad that something which seems to make so much sense has been a problem, but there is no question that it is. The major blow came in 1993 when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the term "principal place of business" meant that most of a person's work was conducted in that office.

As a result, a legitimate business deduction was eliminated—or at the very least made extremely difficult—for such workers as sales representatives, home appliance and computer repair people, teachers, caterers, veterinarians and a host of others who perform their work outside the home but use a portion of it for keeping records, receiving fax or other phone messages, utilizing computers, storing supplies and other purposes essential for their work.

These people are taxed on their income but denied the opportunity which other businesses have of deducting this office expense.

Henry Oavis, president of Henry Oavis Consulting, told a congressional committee that he uses 25 per cent of his home for an office and library used only for his business, but extensive travel keeps him out of the office most of the time. Because he is physically out of the office, current law prevents him from taking a deduction.

Had Davis rented office space in a commercial building and used it in exactly the same manner, the expense would be entirely deductible. The cost would be greater than a home office deduction and the government would have a net reduction in tax receipts.

"It isn't right," Oavis told the committee. "It isn't reasonable. It's bad for business and the community." He is right on all three counts.

Home-based businesses are more attractive than ever with the development of fax machines, computers, printers and other equipment. Some 24 million Americans now operate businesses out of their homes. This means fewer people on the road getting to and from work, contributing to air pollution and risking accidents. More than half of all women-owned business operations are home-based.

If the Republican majority in Congress is as pro-business as it is purported to be, restoration of reason to the home office deduction would be a proper way to demonstrate that commitment.

Help Out 4-H Market Livestock Exhibitors

Again this year there will be a 4-H market livestock auction at the Pennington County Fair with award winning cattle, hogs, sheep, poultry and waterfowl to be sold. Bidding will start at market value and the sale is planned for Sunday, July 16, at 3:30 p.m. between the livestock barns on the fairgrounds.

The sale was reinstated a few years ago to give 4-H livestock project members an added incentive to show top quality animals and a financial reward for their efforts.

Buyers have a number of options, any of which are quite convenient. They can take possession of the animals themselves or have beef, sheep or swine processed at Joppru's, Inc. or poultry processed at Newfolden Town & Country, all at their own expense. Or beef, sheep and swine may be resold through local markets. In each case, transportation of the livestock or poultry will be provided or assistance offered in making transportation arrangements.

If its time to put some beef, pork or lamb in the freezer, there will be top quality available at the market sale. If you can't use an entire animal yourself, form a group and share the cost and the meat. Your participation will encourage an enterprising youngster as well as assuring yourself of some tasty meals in the future.

Sen. Grams' Views On U.S. Farm Programs

Sen. Rod Grams of Minnesota says that American agriculture must be expected to share in budget reductions but any reductions "must be equitable, realistic and proportionally shared by both agriculture and non-farm domestic programs.

"More specifically," he adds, "the 1995 Farm Bill must promote a targeted and cost-efficient Conservation Reserve Program. It must reform our nation's outdated milk marketing orders, which do nothing but punish the dairy industry in the Upper Midwest. And the Farm Bill must also give farmers the added flexibility to plant what the market, not the federal government, demands.

"....Congress must also act to protect private property rights, an issue over which rural communities feel an absolute sense of outrage. Since 1992, 12 states have passed some form of property rights legislation. I am encouraging Congress to follow their lead and live up to the guarantees made under the Fifth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution by ensuring fair compensation for land that is rendered unusable under laws such as the Clean Water Act.

"Apart from the Farm Bill, Congress should adjust federal tax policy and give all citizens the flexibility of spending and saving more of their income. Unfortunately, current tax laws punish farmers who need to make capital improvements and create disincentives for older farmers who would like to transfer land to our younger generations.

"To achieve these goals, Congress needs to: lower the capital gains tax; increase the estate tax exemption from $600,000 to $2 million; allow individuals to use tax-deferred Individual Retirement Accounts for potential and unforeseen needs; support a permanent 100 per cent deduction for health insurance premiums; and create a $500 per child tax credit to give young farm families the flexibility to save and invest in their futures."

Rural Minnesotans will find little to dispute in those comments. Time will tell if the goals can be accomplished.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Our Saviour's to host Norwegian all male choir

A male choir of more than 40 voices from the Sunnmore area of Norway will present a concert Wednesday, July 12, at 7 p.m. at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, 401 St. Paul Avenue South in Thief River Falls.

The choir was last in the United States in 1988 when most of its concerts were given on the West Coast. This trip most of the concerts will be in the Midwest. Public attendance is invited and a free will donation will be accepted to assist with defraying some of the choir's expenses.

Most of the music will be in English, with a few Norwegian songs included in the program. There are about 80 people in the group since some of the choir members have brought their wives and/or children with them. They would like to stay with individuals or families to get a better understanding of Americans.

For more information call Our Saviour's Lutheran Church at 681-4643.

Paulson on honor list at Minot SU with 4.00 average

Kristine Paulson of Thief River Falls is one of 714 students named to spring semester honors lists at Minot State University in Minot, ND.

Johnson is academic assistant

Joel Johnson, son of Rev. Mark and Beth Johnson of Thief River Falls, will serve as an academic assistant in the Gustavus Adolphus College political science department during fall semester 1995. He is a senior majoring in political science and history.

It is considered a distinctive honor to be named an academic assistant, according to Elizabeth Baer, dean of the faculty and vice president for academic affairs. Typically, each academic department selects one outstanding student per year to serve as an academic assistant. Those chosen are given special assignments such as teaching class, correcting assignments or assisting in research projects.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Moorhead wins pair of games from TRF

Moorhead swept Thief River Falls for the second time this summer Thursday with 5-2 and 9-4 American Legion baseball wins at Matson Field in Moorhead.

Earlier this season the Blues won a 7-6, 6-5 doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field in Thief River Falls.

"We played okay," said Thief River Falls coach Terry Wiseth. "We pitched all right, we hit all right, and our defense was all right. But to beat a good team like Moorhead, you have to be able to do at least one of those three things exceptionally well, and we didn't do that."

The losses dropped Thief River Falls to 5-13 for the year.

"I don't want to make excuses," said Wiseth. "But it was a case of Moorhead playing juniors and seniors and us using sophomores and juniors. We have to get our program to their level where we're playing juniors and seniors and not relying on the younger kids."

Moorhead: Eric Ocness (WP), Evan Carlson (5).

TRF loses VFW twinbill

Double figure scoring in both games produced a Moorhead sweep over Thief River Falls Thursday in a VFW baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

Moorhead collected only five hits, but benefitted from 12 walks in winning the opener 12-2. The visitors then pounded out 10 hits to complete the sweep with a 13-4 second-game victory.

The losses put Thief River Falls at 4-16 for the year.

TRF schedules...

Busy week awaits teams involved in baseball program

Busy schedule of games faces the Thief River Falls baseball teams – the 13-year olds playing for the Pioneers and Gophers; the 14-15-year olds with the Bison and Sioux, the 16-year-olds involved in VFW ball, the 17-18-year-olds at the Legion level; and the amateur Thieves.

A schedule change finds the Legion team at the Park Rapids Invitational this weekend instead of a tournament at Crookston that was canceled. The four-team, round-robin event began Friday, but because Post 117 already had an Irv Wilson Field doubleheader against Fergus Falls on the schedule that night, the VFW squad was Thief River Falls' first-round Park Rapids representative.

TRF Schedule July 8-16

- Saturday, July 8 - Pioneers vs. Badger (2), 10 a.m., Irv Wilson Field. Legion at Park Rapids Invitational.
- Sunday, July 9 - Thieves at Warroad, 2 p.m. Legion at Park Rapids Invitational.
- Monday, July 10 - Bison vs. Warroad, 12 noon, Irv Wilson Field. Sioux vs. Warroad, 2 p.m., Irv Wilson Field. VFW at Perham (2), 4 p.m. Thieves vs. Warroad, 7:30 p.m., Irv Wilson Field.
- Tuesday, July 11 - Pioneers vs. Crookston, 10 a.m., Irv Wilson Field. Gophers vs. Crookston, 12 noon, Irv Wilson Field. VFW at Detroit Lakes (2), 5:30 p.m.
- Wednesday, July 12 - Legion at Roseau (2), 6:30 p.m.

Sports Boosters donated 14 junior golf clubs to the Thief River Golf Club for the junior golf program. Clubs are available for purchase at the end of the program, and the money raised will be reinvested in new clubs for the next year. Jim Lawrence, golf pro at the club, said the purpose of the junior golf program and the use of the golf clubs is to get golf clubs in the hands of junior golfers. About 80 children are participating in the junior golf program. Lawrence said the junior golf program is sponsored by Lowell Swenson. Pictured above, Jim Lawrence (left) accepts junior golf clubs from Steve Stokka, representative of the Sports Boosters.

Northland men's squad adds two more recruits

Recruiting process continues for Northland Community and Technical College men's basketball coach Mark Dannhoff, who today announced the signing of two more players for the 1995-96 season.

Signing with the Pioneers recently were Hassan Jihad, a 6-4 guard from Redford High School in Detroit and Danyell Cresswell, a 6-3 guard-forward from Fenger High School in Illinois.

Jihad averaged 20 points, 10 rebounds and 4 assists per game last winter when he was the team MVP, all-city, all-metro and all-state honorable mention. He was named the most outstanding athlete at Redford.

"Hassan is an outstanding player," said Dannhoff. "He was rated the 24th best player in Michigan. A great scorer who will help us in so many aspects of the game. Not only is Hassan a good basketball player, but he's also a good student – 3.1 GPA; honor roll for four years."

Cresswell, who has a 46-inch vertical leap, averaged 20 points, 10 rebounds and 7 assists per game as a high school senior. He was a teammate of Jeremy Thomas, who signed with the Pioneers a week ago. They hail from the same school that produced former Northland player and assistant coach Antonio Parker.

Twins' baseball clinic set for July 14 in TRF

A reminder that boys and girls ages 6-16 are invited to participate in the Minnesota Twins youth baseball clinic scheduled to be held in Thief River Falls Friday, July 14.

The clinic is free of charge and requires no registration. The two 90-minute sessions will offer instructions to 6-8-year-olds from 3 to 4:30 p.m. and will be open to 9-16-year-olds from 4:30 to 6 p.m. Each session will focus on hitting, fielding and pitching.

A complete listing of the Twins' clinic schedule was announced earlier. It is the 35th season for the program, created in 1961 by longtime Twins scout Angelo Guiliani as a way for the club to promote the game and create interest in the Twins among the youngsters. Since the program's inception, it is estimated that more than 700,000 boys and girls have taken part in the clinic sessions over the years.

The Twins' Thief River Falls clinic will be held on the Northland Community and Technical College baseball diamond. In case of inclement weather, the sessions will be held in the Northland gym.

Thief River Falls will be the 16th stop on a schedule that will feature 24 clinics for the Twins' instructional staff that includes Dennis Amundson, a coach at St. Paul Harding High School; Bob Johnson, a member of the 1966 World Champion Baltimore Orioles; Dick Mingo, a high school coach for 33 years; and Ken Staples, a former high school and college coach who also coached and managed in the Twins' minor league system.

Roseau County project aided by grouse group

Ruffed Grouse Society, in conjunction with the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association, recently contributed $17,000 toward forest wildlife habitat management efforts for the Cole/Swartz Grades project in Roseau County near Roosevelt.

The project is similar to more than 300 such efforts in 24 states and four Canadian provinces that benefit from cooperative management between resource agencies and the Ruffed Grouse Society.

Work on the Roseau County project is part of the Ruffed Grouse Society Management Area Program, which began in 1985 with a site in north-central Wisconsin and now encompasses nearly 400,000 acres. The Management Area Program is a means for the Ruffed Grouse Society to assist public land managers by providing habitat improvements on federal, state and county lands.

The Cole/Swartz Grades project covers 2,000 acres administered by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources. Work includes road construction as a means of encouraging timber harvesting operations. Land managers for the site have agreed, where possible, to apply management techniques to benefit ruffed grouse and American woodcock.

Roseau County has three other Management Area Programs, which are managed by the state DNR – Lost River with 473 acres, Morehouse Alder with 200 acres and Thompson Shear with 200 acres.

Other nearby projects include a 2,480-acre site in Lake of the Woods County and three projects in Beltrami County totaling 8,350 acres.

Objective of the Ruffed Grouse Society is to produce quality habitat for ruffed grouse and many other wildlife species that also dwell in the young, dense forests preferred by grouse. The group currently has a membership of approximatey 23,000, primarily in the United States and Canada.

For additional information on the Ruffed Grouse Society, its habitat conservation programs or area fund-raising efforts, contact Tony Dorn Jr. in Thief River Falls at 218-681-1848.

Duck population decline is recorded in Minnesota

Mallard and blue-winged teal breeding populations declined in Minnesota this spring, according to results from the annual May waterfowl breeding ground survey conducted by the Department of Natural Resources. The mallard breeding population this spring was estimated at approximately 320,000, a decrease of 25 percent compared to 1994, but still well above the species' long-term average.

"While there was a decline from the record mallard breeding population last year, this is the third highest mallard breeding population recorded in the state since the current survey began in 1968," said Jeff Lawrence, DNR waterfowl specialist. "The Minnesota mallard population has been increasing since the mid-1970s, and we are not overly concerned about a one-year decline. There was a similar decline in Wisconsin, but the Dakotas apparently had dramatic increases in mallards and other duck numbers."

Mallards make up approximately one-third of Minnesota's breeding duck population. This year's mallard population is 17 percent above the most recent 10-year average and 50 percent above the long-term average.

Blue-winged team, which make up another one-third of Minnesota's breeding ducks, decreased 45 percent to 210,000 from 1994 to 1995, following a 48 percent increase last year. The breeding population is 24 percent below the 10-year average. Blue-winged teal tend to be more flexible in their choice of nesting areas, and many may have settled in the Dakotas or other areas this year, where wetland conditions are exceptional. In addition, the cool spring may have delayed migration of this late-nesting species.

Canada geese observed on the Minnesota survey increased 19 percent from 1994, and were 51 percent above the 10-year average. The survey does not include the Twin Cities area, which has a substantial goose population. Breeding Canada geese have expanded their range throughout much of Minnesota, and production of young in most areas should be good to excellent this year, according to Lawrence.

Results of the breeding population surveys for the Eastern Prairie Population of Canada geese, which breed in northern Manitoba and migrate through western Minnesota, should be available soon, said Lawrence.

May pond numbers in Minnesota decreased 7 percent compared to 1994, but were 16 percent above the 10-year average. Wetland conditions were good to excellent throughout much of the Minnesota survey area, but they tended to be dryer in the north.

"Information on breeding duck populations from Canada and other states is not yet available, but preliminary reports suggest excellent habitat conditions and duck populations in the Dakotas and Manitoba," Lawrence said. "Conditions are mixed in Saskatchewan. Some areas have good water conditions and nesting cover, but habitat is considerably dryer in Alberta. In contrast, last year Manitoba was dry and Alberta was wet."

Status of North American waterfowl populations will be discussed by the Mississippi Flyway Council, an organization of waterfowl biologists and administrators representing 14 states and three Canadian provinces, at its July meeting in Green Way, Wisconsin. This group will develop recommendations on waterfowl hunting regulations to be presented to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in early August.

Ryan Browning

Ryan Browning is serving as coach of TRF Swim Club

Ryan Browning has been selected as the head coach of the Thief River Falls Swim Club summer program, it was announced recently.

Browning, the son of Dr. Duane and Suzanne Browning of Thief River Falls, is a 1994 graduate of Lincoln High School, and a student at the University of Minnesota. While at Lincoln, Browning was a member of the honor society, Target, and was captain of the swim team. He is a biology major in college.

As summer swim club coach, Browning is helping to teach the four competitive stroke to about 40 swimmers. Interested individuals may still register to participate in the program. Sessions for adults and teenagers are held from 7 to 8:30 a.m. Monday through Friday, and for younger beginners from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Registration can be completed by attending any of the practice sessions that are held in the Franklin Middle School pool.

Turn In Poachers program helps to protect resources

Minnesota's hunters and anglers have a tradition of ethical behavior championed by their own conservation organizations. So if they observe someone abusing the natural resources, they take action.

That's evidenced by the number of calls to the 24-hour Turn In Poachers hotline. Approximately 1,000 TIP call per year are referred to conservation officers for investigation. In 1994, TIP calls led to 270 arrests, with almost a 99 percent conviction rate.

People with information may call 1-800-652-9093 to report violations. They can remain anonymous and are eligible for rewards, noted Nancy Hunoder, a law information officers for the Department of Natural Resources. Approximately $8,000 is paid out in TIP rewards each year.

"TIP is an important way for law-abiding citizens to help protect the resources they cherish," said Hunoder. "The number one violation reported to TIP is deer poaching, but we get important calls on a wide variety of violations."

Hunoder cautioned that the TIP line is for reporting violations only. No general hunting or fishing information is available from TIP. Those calls should go to the DNR regional offices in Bemidji, Grand Rapids, Brainerd, New Ulm, Rochester, and St. Paul, or to the DNR Information Center at 1-800-766-6000 toll free in greater Minnesota.

Warren pet food business grows about every marketing class that's offered at Gustavus.

Small town, big business

Jason was born and raised in Warren, so he's glad to show that business can survive and thrive in a small town. Jason said that when people find out how small Warren is, they often laugh at the idea of starting a business there. They see no opportunity in such a small town.

"I was lucky enough to create my own opportunities," said Jason.

He points out that he has always had an interest in computers and that he was able to use that hobby to improve his business. He also says that his business would not exsist without today's technology which allows him to work from northern Minnesota. The Mischels like living in Warren and are happy to be doing big-city business from a small town.

Recently someone else took an interest in Jason's business and ingenuity. A few weeks ago, Senator Paul Wellstone was in northern Minnesota and stopped in Warren to meet the young business man.

Jason says Wellstone seemed encouraged to see younger people venture into business on their own. He was also glad to see a business run from a small town, and that there are still opportunities left in small towns. He seemed encouraged by the knowledge that small towns can still be viable.

That's good news for all who live in northern Minnesota.

Swimming pool survey reviewed

4) In which quadrant of the city is your place of residence located? Northeast (96); Northwest (121); Southeast (189); Southwest (60); If not in the city, how far from Thief River Falls do you live? 14 miles was the average distance; 175 were from out of town; and 13 did not reply.

5) Do you own or rent your place of residence? Own (592); Rent (49).

6) What type of swimming pool would you prefer? No pool (28), No answer (52); Family aquatic center (219) first choice, (7) as second choice and (1) as third choice; Indoor Pool (142) as first choice, (3) as second choice, and (3) as third choice; Outdoor pool (250) as first choice, (3) and second choice, and (2) as third choice.

7) Would you support a bond issue for the construction of a swimming pool? Yes (319); No (277); Maybe (13); No answer (43).

8) One method of financing a swimming pool is the implementation of a local sales tax of one half per cent (0.5%) that would "piggy-back" on the state's sales tax (food, clothing, medicine, etc. are not taxed). Would you support the local sales tax option for a swimming pool? Yes (247); No (222); Maybe (164); No answer (18).

9) Would you pledge money towards the construction of a swimming pool? Yes (314); No (283);

If so, how much would you pledge? Less than $50 (11); $50 to $100 (223); Up to $500 (47); $1,000 (5); Over $1,000 (7); Maybe (26); No reply (37).

For question 10, respondents were asked to rank locations for the swimming pool from 1 to 7.

Respondents ranked the following as their first choice, which are also placed in order of the number of votes each received: Franklin Middle school, 127, Knox elementary school 124, Multi-Events center site 104, Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center 88, Oakland Park Road area 77, Bill LaFave park 30.

For their second choice, respondents chose the following in order: Knox elementary school 84, Franklin Middle school 78, Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center 72, Multi-Events Cultural Center 61, Oakland Park road area 58, Bill LaFave park 35.

For their third choice the respondents chose the following in order: Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center 72, Knox elementary school 64, Oakland Park road area 63, Franklin Middle school 61, Bill LaFave park 54, Multi-Events Cultural center 44.

Respondents chose as their fourth choice the following in order: Knox elementary school 67, Bill LaFave park 63, Huck Olson Memorial Civic center 62, Franklin Middle school 61, Oakland Park road area 46, Multi-Events Cultural center 43.

Respondents chose as their fifth preference the following in order: Bill LaFave park 70, Multi-Events Cultural center 58, Oakland Park road area 52, Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center 52, Franklin Middle school site 49, Knox elementary 42.

Respondents chose the following as their sixth preference in order: Bill LaFave park 93, Multi-Events Cultural Center 71, Oakland Park road area 68, Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center 39, Franklin Middle School area 32, and Knox elementary school area 27.

Respondents chose as their seventh preferred site location the following in order: Multi-Events center 7, Oakland park road area 4, Franklin Middle school 3, Knox school site 3, Bill LaFave park 2.

Several other site locations were suggested by respondents. They included: Centennial park, Challenger Area, Hartz park, the football field, Northrop school site, Lions park, Home Lumber land, Annie Street park, and South of Greenwood.

Marshall Co. Fair closes on Sunday

Marshall County Fair in Warren will come to a close Sunday, July 9, after a four-day run at the fairgrounds in Warren.

Events today (Saturday) include a 4-H horse show at 9 a.m. and demo car racing in front of the grandstand at 6:30 p.m.

Sunday at 9:30 a.m. "The Overtones" male quartet from Roseau will conduct the all-faiths religious service at the grandstand. Team penning will begin at noon and sprint car racing will start at 1:30 p.m. with Wissota Super Stock Class cars, followed by 20-lap races featuring the Northern Outlaw Sprint Association.

Concluding entertainment event will be the amateur talent contest at 7 p.m.

$20,994.65 in earnings so far this year. Davis is ranked 14th in total PBR earnings with $22,727.44 and stands ninth in the Bud Light Cup Series with earnings of $20,489. Brumley is sixth and Wakefield ninth in the TPD standings and Cook ranks in the top 30 of total PBR money winners.

Bucking bulls for Bullride '95 will be brought to Thief River Falls by the David Bailey Rodeo Company of Tahlequah, OK, and Joe Simon of Dakota West Rodeo Company. Bailey has provided rough stock for PRCA rodeos held here the past three years and has had a number of his bulls qualify for the National Finals Rodeo in has done free competitive bullfighting in the open arena, but he prefers the aspect of his job which requires that he protects the fallen riders rather than showcase his athletic abilities. He said he won a couple of those events and placed second or third in the others.

Born on his grandfather's ranch at Iota, LA, March 3, 1972, he was raised there and participated in football, baseball, track and field, basketball and rodeo while in high school. He is single and his hobbies are running, fishing, traveling and writing (he is looking into publishing children's stories).

Eric said he plans on continuing his bullfighting career "as long as my body holds out." He also said his father always told him that anytime he makes a move it should be to better himself.

With the class of bulls coming to town next Thursday and Friday, he better be ready to make a lot of moves or he won't better himself at all.

Stampede) and Rudy Burns of Smithdale, MS, and from PRCA stock contractor James Harper of Harper and Morgan Rodeo Company in Iowa, LA.

Since earning his PRCA card, Eric has fought bulls in Louisiana, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Texas, Montana and Wisconsin. He plans to arrive in Thief River Falls early next week to assist in promotion of Bullride '95 for a couple of days before the action starts Thursday evening, July 13.

Despite the inherent danger of attracting the attention of a ton of aggravated bovine, Rohrer said he has not suffered any really serious injuries in the bullriding arena so far. His most serious injury came on the ranch in 1990 when his leg became entangled in a piece of equipment called a Bush Hog and he spent most of two years on crutches.

"It's about as good as anyone else's now, I guess," he said in a telephone interview from Wisconsin where he is working the Prairie du Chien rodeo this Saturday and Sunday. "My knees and ankles are a little weak but it hasn't been any real problem."

Rohrer said he has had about five bullfights this year where he Las Vegas, NV.

Bailey pioneered a bucking bull breeding program by mating his top bucking bulls with daughters sired by other strong bucking bulls in his herd. The results have been an addition to the string of young, athletic bulls which have been proving themselves in rodeo arenas across the country.

Simon also has a strong bucking bull string which includes NFR quality stock.

Assisting the cowboys both nights will be PRCA bullfighters Eric Rohrer of Campti, LA and Todd "Chief" Propson of Chilton, WI. Both are self-taught bullfighters who have worked their way up the ladder to professional status and are dedicated to attracting bulls to themselves rather than fallen riders.

Propson sustained two cracked ribs at the TRF Stampede in Thief River Falls last year when attempting to extract a cowboy from a "wreck." The rider was tossed off the wrong side of the bull and got hung up in his rope and Propson took a hooking when trying to free him.

"We are anticipating large crowds for both nights and strongly suggest that people avoid standing in line for tickets on the grounds by making their purchase in advance," Shaffer said.

TRF school volunteer program receives recognition

School District 564 volunteer program coordinated by Carol Ihle has been selected as one of 16 regional winners in the Acts of Kindness Governor's Volunteer Award program.

The new volunteer recognition program was created to recognize individuals and groups who contribute their time and service to improve the lives of others in their communities.

Award winners will be honored at a special ceremony at 1:20 p.m. on Volunteer Day August 30 at the Minnesota State Fair bandshell. Lt. Gov. Joanne Benson will present the award to each recipient.

Acts of Kindness program is sponsored by the Minnesota Office of Volunteer Services (MOVS) in the Department of Administration. MOVS provides statewide leadership and service to the volunteer community.

Heart of Croatia Tamburitzans will bring their style of music to this area today (Saturday) and Sunday when they appear at the All Nations Cultural Festival at the park in St. Hilaire. The Tamburitzans are scheduled for performances Saturday at 1:30 and 6:25 p.m. and Sunday at 2:40 and 6:25 p.m. Admission to the festival is $6 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under.

Best to diversify

Red Lake Falls — Jim Sordahl, Red Lake County extension educator, says that farmers should diversify their crops, due to the diverse weather of the area. This year started out too wet in the spring, causing farmers to plant later than usual, and later became too hot, which can also cause damage to crops. Wheat and barley crops are expected to have a much lower yield, forage crops benefited from the varied weather. The dry weather was ideal for putting up hay and the recent rain helped the second crop.

Wildlife trails open

Middle River — Public walking trails near Middle River have been cleared for easier access. The trails are a joint project between the Middle River Community Club, the Resource Conservation and Development and the Department of Natural Resources. The first trail is located one mile north and one-half mile east of Middle River and is approximately one mile long. The other trail is nine miles northeast of Middle River on County Road 48 and is one and one-half miles long. The trails, located on state land, will be maintained by the DNR and can be utilized by skiers and snowmobilers in the winter. Further information on the trails will be available in the near future.

Man killed in one-car accident

Red Lake — Brian Redeagle, 28, of Red Lake, was pronounced dead after a one-car rollover early Tuesday morning. Ambulance workers applied CPR when they arrived at the scene, but Redeagle displayed no vital signs. He was pronounced dead at the Red Lake Hospital. According to Red Lake police chief Gary Jourdain, Redeagle was alone in the pickup truck, was not wearing a seat belt and was thrown from his pickup. The accident is still under investigation.

Don Nahrgang of Roberts, Montana, scored 72 points on "Top Cat" early on the first night of bull riding Thursday at Bullride '95 at the Pennington County Fair. Each cowboy attempted two rides for the night with payoff based on total points for two rides. Nahrgang nearly completed his second ride before parting company with the bull and getting no score. Second night of bull riding was scheduled for Friday at 7 p.m. in front of the grandstand. First place winner Thursday night was Leslie Doyle of Pitkin, Louisiana, who claimed a check for $2,427.25. He scored 76 points on his first bull and the night's high score of 84 on his second to edge past Tyson Hughes of Wallington, Kansas. Hughes scored 81 on his first bull and 78 on his second for 159 points. Jason Brumley of Archdale, North Carolina, was third.

Meeting Monday on comprehensive plan for T. R. Falls

A public meeting 7 p.m. July 17 at the Heritage Community Center in Thief River Falls will be the last opportunity for public input into the city's comprehensive plan.

The comprehensive plan is the general master plan for land use, transportation, housing, commercial and industrial development, community facilities, parks and recreation, administration and economic development. It includes a series of maps, reports, statements of goals and objectives and criteria that will be adopted by the city council to designate long range, orderly growth and development of the city.

Four public meetings on the comprehensive plan, which were poorly attended, were held January 23 and 24. With the semi-final draft of the plan now complete, the meeting on Monday is the last for public input.

The comprehensive plan is one of four tools used in planning and land use decisions. The other three include the land sub-division ordinance, the zoning ordinance, and the capital improvement plan.

One of the critical features of the comprehensive plan is the future land use plan (map). Conceptually, it provides a guide to how parcels of land in the city will be developed in the future. The map and information in the plan also provide guidance as to where major collector streets, bridges, parks, different types of residential, commercial and industrial expansion should be placed within the community.

Don Stewart, community development director, said the comprehensive plan could be adopted by the city council by August 8.

Stewart said theoretically, the comprehensive plan is designed to provide a guide for 10 to 15 years, but from a practical standpoint, it won't be revised for another 20 or so years. He said it is a very costly process. He started budgeting for it in 1990, and started gathering data in 1992.

As a general rule, Stewart advises residents, no matter where they live, to check with a city's planning and zoning office before purchasing property.

Copies of the semi-final draft of the Comprehensive Plan are on display at the Thief River Falls Public Library, the Community Development office, and the City Administrator's office.

Vehicle damages East Side courts

Considerable damage was done to the Engelstad tennis court sometime Tuesday night. Wednesday evening, Veronica Burthwick of Thief River Falls, was charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Damage to the tennis court on First Avenue is considered extensive. Wednesday morning park and recreation department employees discovered that a vehicle had driven through the large chain-link fence which surround the tennis court, over a court net and through the chain-link fence on the opposite side and in the process knocking over a portable toilet.

Police Chief Ken Froschheiser said the law enforcement center received a lot of calls and information from the public. He thanked the public for their quick support and information. He also commended Officer Mike Puetz for diligence and hard work. On Wednesday at about 9:35 p.m. Officer Puetz observed a black and red Blazer in the parking lot of the Best Western and noticed damage to the vehicle. The vehicle was also missing a hood ornament similar to one discovered at the tennis courts.

Upon checking, Officer Puetz learned that the vehicle belonged to Bryan Larson, route 1, Thompson, ND. Larson told the officer that he was in the vehicle at the time of the accident, but a woman had been driving. Upon further investigation, Veronica Ray Burthwick, Thief River Falls, allegedly admitted to causing the damage. She said that while driving the vehicle she began choking and instead of hitting the brake she hit the accelerator and the vehicle went through the tennis courts. Burthwick was cited for leaving the scene of a motor vehicle accident.

Damage loss to the tennis court has not been determined, but is expected to be in the range of $2,000.

To publish Watch on July 27

The Saturday, July 29, issue of the Northern Watch, normally scheduled to be printed and distributed on Friday, July 28, will be published and circulated a day early on Thursday, July 27.

Early publication is being done to accommodate advertising for the Thief River Falls Crazy Days retail promotion. This year Crazy Days will be a one-day event on Saturday, July 29, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Advertising and news copy deadlines for that issue of the Watch will be advanced one day and cooperation of advertisers and news sources will be appreciated.

City discusses reorganization to make public works division

Reorganization of departments to create a public works division within the city was discussed by the Thief River Falls City Council Tuesday night. The council also discussed a labor agreement with the non-union secretarial and accounting employees, and the removal of two stop signs on Edgewood Drive.

Establishment of a public works division within the city was one of the recommendations of an organizational plan from DMG, which was accepted by the city last year. The key element to this reorganization is the selection of a public works director.

Councilmen Dale Wennberg and Don Barron expressed some reservations about the plan because it calls for reorganization and selection of a director without advertising and interviewing candidates. The reorganization plan calls for reorganization by using existing staff and by not adding any new positions.

City Attorney Paul Ihle assured the council that the proposed plan did not appear to be in violation of the city's equal employment opportunity policy.

Nevertheless, Alderman Barron was concerned about the appearance of this action to city employees.

Basically, the plan calls for combining duties and responsibilities of the proposed public works director and existing engineering services director (Ron Lindberg). Lindberg would continue to be responsible for the engineering services department, with oversight responsibility over the other departments under public works. A new job description would be developed incorporating a combination of tasks from both jobs into one position.

New job descriptions would also be created for the airport, sanitation, streets, and government buildings departments that would provide less responsibility for the overall planning, scheduling, and administrative tasks. These individuals would serve more in the capacity of foremen/supervisors

Greenbush farmer markets his invention

Ed loves to work in his shop where he makes all the brackets for installing the Hood Hopper. First, he cuts large sheets of metal into four inch strips, then into four inch squares. He also made the template he uses for drilling the holes for the bolts.

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

Sometimes solutions to little problems turn into big ideas. That is certainly the case with one of the newest inventions to come out of Greenbush.

Ed Mooney, Sr. of rural Greenbush recently invented something he calls the Hood Hopper. It is a storage container, a hopper, that fits under the hood of a pick up truck, between the engine and the wind shield wiper fluid container and is made to fit all 1988-94 Chevy and GMC full-size trucks. The hoppers are manufactured by Rick Solberg's RMS Plastics of Greenbush and are made of a high-density polyethylene material, the same tough plastic the used to make cattle-feeders.

Born and raised in the Greenbush area, Ed and Irene Mooney farmed all their lives, with the exception of five years when they lived and worked in Minneapolis. They currently live on a farm just west of Greenbush where they raise wheat and, for the first time, canola. Ed wasn't looking to start a business when he invented the hopper.

"It was just supposed to be something for me and my family members who wanted one," said Ed.

He first developed the hopper idea shortly after he bought a new truck in 1994. He always carries emergency equipment, such as booster cables and a tow rope, but he did not want to put them in the cab of his nice, new, clean pickup. He didn't want to risk having them stolen by storing them in the box of the truck, either. When he was working under the hood of his truck, he realized that there is a lot of space under the hood that can be utilized. So, he designed and built the first hood hopper out of metal, and attached it to the truck with the use of a bracket. He showed the invention to other people who also thought it was a great idea, and eventually, with the help of his family, decided to have them molded from plastic and sold in regional stores.

After Mooney decided to make the hoppers out of plastic, he had to build a mold. This took a lot of work and a some trial and error to get right. Mooney says he works for hours at a time getting the molds just right. Because the hoppers have no lid, he explains, they need to fit securely in the truck, then the hood of the truck acts as a lid so that nothing will fall out of the hopper. Once the first plastic hoppers were made, they had to be tested, to make sure they can withstand the high heat under the hood of a pickup truck. They tested the plastic to stand up to 115° Fahrenheit. Speaking of heat, Ed pointed out, the hopper is an ideal place to keep lunch warm while out ice fishing!

While the original idea is to use the hopper to store equipment for the vehicle, everyone seems to have their own ideas about how to use the hopper. One woman said that she intends to use it to hide presents when she is out Christmas shopping with her children.

When Ed says he received help from his family, he means it. Ed's son Ronald lives right next door to Ed and Irene, and Ronald's children help the business by packaging the brackets, bolts and nuts, boxing the hoppers and labeling the boxes. His son-in-law, Dennis Brazier, and daughter Terri, who own Central Boiler of Greenbush, helped Ed with marketing ideas and by printing small color posters, which show the hopper mounted in a truck. Ed's sons, Kenneth and Ed Mooney, Jr., of Thief River Falls also help promote the product.

Many regional businesses have agreed to sell the hopper, including, Radio Shack in Thief River Falls, Car Quest in Roseau, Bozes Bait, Jeff's and S&J Sports, all of Greenbush, and Big A Auto in Thief River Falls. A chain of 17 H.E. Everson Stores have also agreed to carry the product.

Although this is the first time that Mooney has manufactured, marketed and sold one of his inventions, it certainly is not the first thing he ever designed. He has also made a large self-propelled lawn mower and a self propelled rock-picker. Their son Ronald, who also farms, likes to work in the shop as well. He even made a dunking

Ordinance on In-line skating

Ada — The Ada city council and concerned citizens recently discussed problems and issues pertaining to In-line skating. The city is considering restricting skating in certain areas of the city, noting that council members have received complaints about skaters endangering them-selves in traffic and pedestrians on sidewalks. The council will discuss an amended ordinance at the August meeting. The Norman County Index noted that since the meeting, police chief Greg Holmvik learned that the Minnesota court of appeals ruled that in-line skates are vehicles and are to follow all state statues pertinent to vehicles.

Runnara carry sacred lance to Indigenous games

Fosston — Runners from North Dakota and Minnesota are carrying the sacred lance from north-western North Dakota to Blain Minnesota for the Indigenous games in Blaine. Last Friday night they stayed overnight at Fosston on their way to White Earth Reservation, Red Lake and eventually Blaine, where the games will begin on July 29. The lance, which always points forward, is a symbol for hope, peace, and good things, for the games and the world.

Tornado hita town

Hallock — Eight people were treated at the Kittson Memorial Hospital for injuries resulting from a tornado that struck the town last Sunday evening. When law enforcement was notified of the wall cloud north of Hallock, Police Deputy Dale Hanson and Deputy Hultgren drove out to assess the situation. Hultgren spotted a funnel cloud, and Hanson notified the radio service that a cloud had been spotted on the ground. Authorities ordered an evacuation of the fair grandstand, before the main event started. According to hospital administration, the evacuation of the hospital and nursing home went well, thanks to practice drills.

Fund raiser for gazebo July 20

Variety show and ice cream social is planned for Thursday, July 20 at 7 p.m. in Lloyd B. Olson park in Thief River Falls to raise funds for the gazebo proposed to be built in the park in time for the 1996 Centennial celebration.

There will be an admission charged to attend the event but a free will donation toward the gazebo project will be appreciated.

The event is sponsored by the City of Thief River Falls and free will donations are being accepted. Local talent will perform and the Smiley 4-H club will serve ice cream and do face painting during the intermission.

In case of inclement weather, the program will be moved to Lincoln high school where the variety show would be held in the auditorium and the ice cream social in the cafeteria.

Maryel Anderson will serve as mistress of ceremonies for the talent program. Performing in the first half of the talent program will be the Senior Choir, Art Heinze on the harmonica, Judy Lawrence with a vocal solo and Laura Williams at the piano.

Following the ice cream social and face painting intermission, the program will include Tera Marquis, Miss Thief River Falls 1995, with a vocal solo; Kiki Goddard with a comedy selection; Kristi Lindberg with a vocal solo; and Joey Kezar on the fiddle.

Horticultural society conducts tours

Grand Forks Horticultural Society will conduct its 12th annual garden tour and plant sale Saturday and Sunday, July 22 and 23, from noon to 5 p.m. each day. Tickets are $5 and available from nurseries and the Grand Forks Park District office at 1210 7th Avenue South.

Proceeds from the tour are used primarily for the benefit of parks in Grand Forks. Additional information is available from Ann Sande at 701-772-3188 or Dana D'Andrata at 701-772-8798.

Karie would like to thank the following organizations for their kindness in sponsoring her:
VFW Post 2793; Ernie Thune Hearing Aid Center; C'mon Inn, Wigand Barbers/Creative Clippers, Falls Decorators, Bredeson Office Supply; And Family/And Friends.

It was a wonderful experience mede possible by all of you.

Thank You

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a hearing will be held before the Thief River Falls Joint Airport Zoning Board for the purpose of considering the adoption of an Airport Zoning Ordinance in the area of the Thief River Falls Regional Airport.

The public hearing will be held on the 18th day of July, 1995, commencing at 7:00 p.m., at the Heritage Community Center located at 301 4th Street East. The proposed Ordinance and the accompanying maps are available for public inspection at the office of the Thief River Falls Engineering Service Director, 324 Second Street East, Thief River Falls, Minnesota, during regular business hours.

The property affected by the proposed Airport Zoning Ordinance is some, but not all, of the land lying within 14,500 feet of the airport's runways. The types of restrictions proposed for each area are set forth in detail in the proposed Ordinance and maps.

The precise restrictions which would be imposed vary, depending on the location of the property. The restrictions generally regulate the height of structures, the location or size and use of buildings and density of population. The most restrictive provisions would apply to the areas located in a trapezoidal area off the end of each runway, which area extends out from the end of the runway a distance equal to the length of the runway plus two hundred feet.

Persons who believe that they may be affected by the proposed Ordinance are encouraged to review it and ascertain the specific impact which it would have on their property.

Date: June 27, 1995 By: Thief River Falls Joint Airport Zoning Board

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Crock pots make hot weather cooking a breeze. Today we'll have some simple crock pot dishes that I think you might enjoy.

ZUCCHINI ITALIANO

6 to 8 small zucchini, unpeeled and cut into 1/4 inch slices
1 small onion, thinly sliced and separated into rings
3 tablespoons olive oil
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 to 2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons leaf basil
2 tablespoons dried parsley flakes
Dash pepper
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 ripe tomatoes, peeled and quartered

Combine all ingredients except cheese and tomatoes in crock pot. Stir thoroughly, cover and cook on low for 7-10 hours.

Before serving, pour into oven proof casserole. Check for seasoning. Sprinkle with Parmesan and garnish with tomato quarters. Broil until cheese is lightly browned.

This is a tasty appetizer for your next get-together:

SHRIMP IN BEER

2 to 3 pounds shrimp in shells
2 cups beer
2 teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon mixed pickling spice

Wash shrimp in cold water and drain. Place in crock pot.

Add remaining ingredients, stirring well.

Cover and cook on high setting for 2 hours or until shrimp turn pink.

SAUSAGE-RICE CASSEROLE

1 pound sausage
1 (1 1/2 ounce) dry chicken soup mix
3/4 cup raw long grain converted rice
2 stalks celery, diced
1/3 cup slivered almonds
4 cups water
Salt to taste

In skillet, brown sausage and drain well.

Combine all ingredients in lightly greased crock pot, stirring well.

BURGER AND BEAN HOT DISH

1 pound hamburger
1 (16 ounce) can barbecue beans
1 (11 1/2 ounce) can condensed bean with bacon soup
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1/2 cup grated American cheese

Brown hamburger in skillet, draining well.

Thoroughly combine all other ingredients except cheese in crock pot. Cover and cook on low 6-9 hours.

Women of Today chapter observes Founders Day

Members of the Thief River Falls chapter of Women of Today joined with members across the country in celebrating Founders Day on July 1—the anniversary of the state organization joining the United States Women of Today.

"This national organization is dedicated to the personal development and leadership training provided to its members and the community service projects which they promote," stated Kim Quade, president of the local chapter.

Thief River Falls Women of Today meet the second Wednesday of each month at the Elks club rooms. For more information contact Quade at 681-4465.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT
JOAN LUBITZ
OPTICIAN
ADAPTING TO CHANGE
Most people have no trouble getting used to a new lens prescription or even to wearing eyeglasses for the first time. Occasionally, however, people will complain of discomfort when changing or starting in with new glasses.
The most common reason for this is too much change at one time. This is likely to occur when you have had no examination for a few years. During that time your eyes may have changed a good deal, but so gradually that you were scarcely aware of it. Trying to accommodate to three or four years' worth of change all at once can be confusing and discomforting. That is why yearly or biannual checkups are so strongly recommended.
Another cause of discomfort is switching from one type of lens to another. People being introduced to bifocals for the first time have to go through a period of adjustment. It is also important not to make too dramatic a change in the shape factor of the lens or the style of the frame.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Every so often in the course of living your life, your faith in the basic goodness and honesty of your fellow man is restored. Allow me to cite an instance that demonstrates my point.

On June 24, while on the way to Detroit Lakes with my wife and family for our vacation, we stopped in Thief River Falls for dinner. After dinner, we resumed our trip and a short time later my wife came to the realization that her purse was missing. We searched for it but were not successful in finding it.

We continued on with our vacation, convinced that the purse would never be found. In fact, on Monday, June 26, we were in the process of canceling our checks and credit cards when we were informed that the purse had been found and was at KTRF radio station in Thief River Falls. An announcer, whose radio name is Big Red, had found it and was determined to get it back to its rightful owner.

It's my belief that the city of Thief River Falls has good reason to be justifiably proud of Big Red. He is a prime example of what every individual aspires to be—impeccably honest and extremely concerned with the welfare of his fellow man.

In closing, I would just like to say a public thank-you to Big Red from my wife and kids and myself. You not only restored the purse and our funds to us, you also reinforced our belief in the basic goodness of our fellow man.

With Appreciation and Thanks,
Patrick Hildebrandt

Know How To Improve Education? Then Call 1-800-662-3358

There can't be very many people who don't have an idea how to improve the public schools in Minnesota. We surely have heard a number of them express their viewpoints on what they think isn't right with education over the years.

A golden opportunity now awaits to share some of that insight with people in a position to do something about it. During the next two months, Minnesotans will have the opportunity to offer their suggestions to state officials through a special toll-free phone number.

(Well, OK, so the news release from the Minnesota Department of Education did say calls would be taken for the next three months, until September 18, but nobody expects state officials to be mathematical wizards. Besides, when the news release was originally written, there probably were three months left until September 18. It probably took a month to get it through the system and out to the news media. These things happen....all the time!)

Anyway, the program is sponsored by Goals 2000, a national and state education reform effort that targets eight goals for achievement by the year 2000. When callers call the special number —1-800-662-3358—they will be asked, "How do you think we can improve the Minnesota public school system?" All responses will be collected and used in improving programs for students.

(Well, OK, so the news release actually says the question to be asked is "How tu you think we can improve....." We can't expect education department officials to read proof on everything they send out—especially when it has to go out in a hurry. They're only human.)

The release continues:

"Goals 2000 provides incentives to encourage greater cooperation at all levels of educations to help students learn better. The Goals 2000: Educate America Act focuses on high expectations for students; full participation in the education process by parents, educators and communities; safe, disciplined and drug-free schools; quality teaching and professional development for educators; the effective use of math, science and technology; long-term improvements throughout the education system; higher graduation rates; and adult literacy and lifetime learning.

Callers can use the toll-free number to request information about Goals 2000 as well as to make suggestions. Information about Goals 2000 also will be available at the Minnesota Department of Education exhibit at the Minnesota State Fair, August 24 through September 4.

So here's your chance, Minnesotans. If you have a solution to education that will "help students learn better," give that magic number a call. It's 1-800-662-3358.

IRS Finds Out People Still Do Use Cash.... Lots Of It!

If you have been saving your quarters since 1945 to buy the wife a new diamond ring for your golden wedding anniversary, it might not be a good idea to carry the cash down to the jewelry store to make the purchase. There may be an IRS agent at your door in the morning.

Strange as it may seem in these days of checking accounts and credit cards, people still do use cash for transactions. Large transactions.

It's not illegal to buy something for cash, understand, just suspicious. In fact, there is an 11-year-old law on the books that requires business places to promptly report to the IRS on Form 8300 any cash payments of over $10,000. Information about cash-paying customers and clients reported on these forms is used by the IRS to investigate the money laundering activities of people involved in drug trafficking and other illegal enterprises.

Do people really dole out cash for big ticket purchases? You bet your sweet C-note they do.

A total of 20 representatives from IRS offices in the Twin Cities, Duluth, Rochester, St. Cloud, Mankato, Fergus Falls and Bemidji visited 122 businesses during May and June and found 63 unreported cash payments totaling $1,243,636.

In addition to the unreported sales discovered in the visits, the IRS receives between 50 and 100 of these forms each month from businesses in Minnesota.

Apparently the IRS visits were paid to people in the real estate business, jewelers, attorneys and dealers in such items as cars, trucks, boats and precious metals. Many of these businesses had received letters from the IRS in the past informing them of the reporting requirement.

For a writer whose closest association to money laundering has been having a dollar bill go through the washer in a pants pocket, the number of cash purchases exceeding $10,000 is overwhelming. Yet the IRS believes compliance with the reporting program remains low, based on suspected money laundering levels in the state.

Incredible!

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Twomey in Scholars Program

Kamille Twomey, daughter of Christopher and Darla Twomey of Thief River Falls and a senior this fall at Lincoln high school, has been selected to participate in the Minnesota Governor's Scholars Program—a year-long leadership institute sponsored by the Minnesota Academic Excellence Foundation (MAEF) and the Saint Paul Companies.

According to the Foundation, "the Governor's Scholars Program focuses on the 'One Minnesota' concept and integrates a culturally sensitive approach to leadership, problem solving and community service."

Each year approximately 70 high school seniors from across Minnesota are selected to participate in the Governor's Scholars program. As a part of the program, students selected this year will attend a summer institute August 6-11 at the College of St. Benedict and a winter institute February 2-4 at a location to be determined later.

During the year, with the assistance of a mentor, students are charged with completing service projects in their communities. Each project must focus on the theme for the Governor's Scholars program—"Creating Communities Which Value All People."

MAEF is a non-profit, public-private partnership created in 1983 by legislative statute to be the primary advocate for the promotion and recognition of academic excellence in all of Minnesota's primary and secondary students, schools and communities.

Applications for participation in the 1996-97 Governor's Scholars Program are available through the MAEF office at 971 Capitol Square Building, 550 Cedar Street, St. Paul, MN55101 or by calling 612-297-1875.

Six area teachers vie for award

Six area teachers are among 81 nominees for Minnesota Teacher of the Year, according to the Minnesota Education Association, sponsor of the program.

Nominees from this area include Marcy Mickelson, Thief River Falls; Marcia Wilhelmi, Badger; Eleanor Dahlin, Karlstad; Carol Steigauf, Red Lake; Larry Pladson, Roseau; and Lee Furuseth, Warroad.

"Outstanding teachers make students excited about learning," notes Judy Schnubnch, MEA president; "The Teacher of the Year program gives Minnesotans the chance to show their gratitude and honor the teachers who have positively influenced their lives."

A panel of 25 judges will select semi-finalists as "Teachers of Excellence." From that group an Honor Roll of finalists will be selected for interviews. Teacher of the Year will be announced October 15 at a luncheon in Bloomington.

Family gathering at Hartz Park July 23

There will be a family gathering on July 23 at Hartz Park from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m., celebrating the homecoming of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Rux, Derek and Jordan from Casper, WY, Pete Rolandson from Santa Barbara, CA and Arlo Rolandson from Plano, TX.

Birthdays of Evelyn Nelson, Arlo Rolandson, Amy Rux, Larry Olson, Shari Olson, Sara and Dale Olson and Mick Knaffla.

All friends and family welcome.

Area students graduate from St. Cloud State

Several area students were among the students to graduate from St. Cloud State University May 26.

Students graduating included: Jeffrey Richard Lorenson of Plummer; Kathleen Navarre, Angela Rud, and Carla Sorenson of Thief River Falls; and Janna Marie Graham of Warren.

Now open at the corner of Main Avenue and Third Street in Thief River Falls is the new Sears store owned by Rodney Knutson and Roger Evenson. The store stocks a number of items in the Sears Brand Central line and is continuing to receive new merchandise for stocking the shelves. A grand opening is planned in the near future.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering

378-4641 378-4585

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

within their department or work units. These job descriptions would be effective when the current department head retires or resigns.

The city council is expected to study the matter and take action on July 25.

■ A labor agreement with non-union secretarial/accounting employees has been reached. The two-year proposal, which was accepted, calls for a cost of living adjustment to base salaries of about 3.1 per cent in 1995, and 3.4 per cent for 1996. Other benefit areas affected by the proposed two-year settlement are longevity, severance pay, vacation and life insurance.

The overall two-year package cost for 1995/96 represents an increase of approximately 6.3 per cent.

■ Two of four controversial stops signs on Edgewood Drive have been removed. The city council accepted a proposal to remove one from each direction.

The signs have been the subject of considerable discussion, editorials and letters to the editor ever since their installation.

The council originally approved four for the street, which is in a residential area near Franklin Middle School. The council also approved four after the Department of Transportation recommended six on the street. Four traffic stop signs contributed to a number of complaints. According to Police Chief Ken Froschheiser, some individuals reported honking their horns whenever they stopped at the stop signs, as a sign of their disapproval.

The purpose of the signs was to slow traffic on the street and dissuade drivers from using it as an access thoroughfare. Chief Froschheiser said his officers feel traffic has decreased on the street as a result of the stop signs. Stops signs will remain at the entrance to a curve on the street.

■ The city council approved revocation of County State Aid routes by the Pennington county board. The routes included in the revocation of County State Aid routes include: Highway 17 from the end of the urban section, located one-half mile north of County road 61 to the intersection of Highway 32 in Thief River Falls. It also included County State Aid Highway 30 from County road 75 east to the intersection with Arnold Avenue. Lindberg explained that the revocation means the city will put those routes on the Municipal State Aid system. In all, it amounts to about two miles of roadway on the city system and an additional $70,000 in state aid per year to the city.

In other business, the council: approved a structure for a select steering committee to work with Mark Woalk on the city's strategic planning process; ordered plans and specifications for the proposed manufactured home park; and approved a recommendation to hire Sean Huset as a category II part-time officer.

Jeremy Anderson on 'U' dean's list

Jeremy C. Anderson of Thief River Falls was named to the dean's list of the University of Minnesota Institute of Technology for superior academic performance during spring quarter 1995. This honor is awarded to students in the top 10 per cent of their class. Students in the Institute of Technology on the Twin Cities campus major in engineering, mathematics or the physical sciences.

Lonnie Stoverson of New Hebron, Mississippi, scored 70 points on the David Bailey bull "38 Special" in the first go-round of Bullride '95 Thursday evening at the Pennington County Fair. Stoverson finished out of the money, however, as payoff was for best score on two rides and he bucked off his second bull of the night. Leslie Doyle of Pitkin, Louisiana, scored 76 and 84 on his two rides for 160 points and claimed $2,427.25 in prize money. Second night of bull riding was scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday in front of the grandstand.

Tommy Greelis wins MN trap shoot in sub-junior doubles

Tommy Greelis, 11, son of Tom and Paula Greelis of Thief River Falls, won first place in the Sub-Junior Doubles competition at the 85th annual Minnesota State Trapshooting Tournament conducted July 5-9 at Del-Tone Trap Range at St. Cloud.

In the state trapshooting tournament, Sub-Junior category is for shooters under 15 years of age, making Greelis one of the younger shooters.

"It was a pretty exciting event," noted Tom Greelis, who also shot in the state event but didn't experience the same success as his son.

On Wednesday, Tommy won the warmup doubles, which was quite a surprise to his dad and himself since he had shot the first doubles of his young lifetime just two weeks before at the Roughrider shoot in Fargo, ND.

Bolstered by his success on Wednesday, Tommy won the preliminary doubles in his age group on Thursday. And when the championship event took place Friday, he once again turned in a steady performance to win that title over a number of shooters older than he is in the Sub-Junior Division.

Tommy received prizes for each of his wins at the state shoot, including a large silver bowl for his championship performance.

Thief River Falls Trap Club members have distinguished themselves in the state association and at the state shoot over the years.

- Andrew Tri, son of Peter Tri, is a member of the 1994 Minnesota Juniors Team.
- Stan Wilson Sr. was president of the Minnesota Trap Shooting Association in 1971.
- Stan (Sandy) Wilson Jr. won the first Junior title in 1959 with a 92x100 score; the state doubles title in 1965 with 95x100 and in 1973 with a 99x100 (the highest score since doubles began 50 years previously in 1923); the state singles title with 199x200, state handicap title with 97x100 and all-around championship with 383x400 in 1964; and named to the Minnesota Trapshooting Hall of Fame in 1981;
- Pat Fischer won the state handicap title with 98x100 and all-around with 383x400 in 1981.

A. F. Jones won the singles title in 1946 with 100x100.

C. A. Nason won the singles title in 1917 with 99x100.

In addition Jim Heckroth, who operated a trap range between Thief River Falls and Newfolden and hosted the Thief River Falls Trap Club, won the all-around title in 1979 with 393x400 and the state doubles title in 1980 with 99x100.

Accuracy of shooters at the state tournament is indicated by championship scores. In singles, where each shooter fires at 200 targets, there have been 4,000 targets thrown to the champions since 1975 with only two missed. Three perfect scores of 100x100 have been recorded among doubles (where two targets are thrown simultaneously in opposite directions) champions in the past four years.

Tommy Greelis, 11, son of Tom and Paula Greelis of Thief River Falls, won first place in the Sub-Junior doubles division at the Minnesota State Trapshooting Tournament recently at St. Cloud. The Sub-Junior division is for shooters under 15 years of age. Tommy shot his first doubles only two weeks prior to the state shoot. He is pictured with prizes won at St. Cloud and the Roughrider shoot in Fargo, ND.

Dawn (Nelson) Ellis, daughter of Dwayne and Donna Nelson of rural Middle River, received her master's degree in clinical social work recently from the University of Central Florida. She is working with Circles of Care, Inc., as a child therapist treating abused and traumatized children. Dawn, her husband Jeff and their sons Nicholas and Michael live in Merritt Island, FL.

The Hood Hopper was invented by Ed Mooney, Sr., a farmer from rural Greenbush who was looking for some way to securely store his jumper cables and tow rope, so they wouldn't clutter the cab of his truck. Everyone who saw the hopper liked it so much, they encouraged him to start manufacturing and selling them. The hoppers are now being sold regionally.

Greenbush farmer has invention booth for the Greenbush wrestling club to use as a fund-raiser. All of the other fun things and farm equipment that Ed and Ronald have made are not for sale, though. Ed explains that most of the things he has made are just for his family's use on the farm.

"He likes to make things," says Irene. "He'll make anything that will make things easier or handier."

Ed's son will have a booth set up at the Pennington County Fair this weekend, and Ed senior will have his truck displayed at the Roseau County Fair next week, so he can show people his product and get their comments and reactions. He is also waiting to see how the hoppers sell in the stores before he expands his market. They have only been in the stores for a few weeks, so he cannot yet gauge how well they are selling. He does have a patent pending and will expand if the demand calls for it.

For now, he is happy selling his invention locally and waiting to see what happens next.

Pictured is one of the molds for the Hood Hopper. Powered plastic is put in the mold, and it is tumbled and heated for 15 minutes while the plastic forms to the sides of the mold. Then, the hopper is slowly cooled by spraying cold water over the mold. The result is a container made of durable plastic, which can withstand extremely high and low temperatures.

Woodcarver's festival set

Eleventh annual International Woodcarver's Festival will take place Saturday and Sunday, August 5 and 6, at Lake Bronson State Park east of the city of Lake Bronson. Show hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

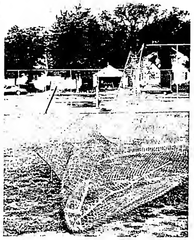
Last year, 35 carvers from six states and Canada took part in the event, and as many or more are expected again this year. Among the featured artists will be Hugh McVarish of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, a master woodcarver who taught woodcarving for 10 years and enjoys all types of carving.

Red River Fiddler's Association will perform from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon, August 6.

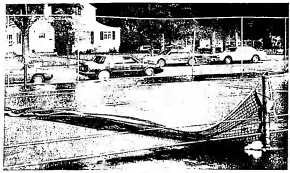
The public is invited to participate in judging for the people's choice carving award. The carvings will be on display in the shelter building at the park both days.

Lake Bronson Lions club also is sponsoring a craft show both days and an art show and museum visit are being offered by the Kittson County Historical Museum and Artists Unlimited in the city of Lake Bronson.

For more information, call 218-754-2200.



Someone drove through the Engelstad park tennis courts Wednesday evening or early Thursday ripping up fencing and tearing down court nets. One person has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident.



Wednesday night someone drove through the tennis court at Engelstad park, destroying fencing, posts, and nets. Pieces of the vehicle which caused the damage were discovered at the scene. The damage loss is expected to be over $2,000.

Thanksgiving celebration

Hallock — After the storm and the clean-up, it's time to be thankful that no one was killed. That's the idea behind the Thanksgiving Celebration being held Sunday, July 23 at the Kittson county fair grounds from 7 to 8 p.m.

The celebration is open to anyone interested in participating and will be held at the midway section of the fairgrounds. Those choosing to attend are reminded to bring something upon which to sit.

Broken water valve causes water loss

Red Lake Falls — The water main replacement project was going smoothly until a temporary valve broke at about 2 a.m. on Wednesday, July 12.

The problem wasn't found until 6:30 a.m. when Mark II builders started work. By the time workers arrived at the scene, the hole they had dug for the water main pipe was full of water. A second valve was turned off and workers began pumping water out of the ditch.

Pumping out the water took until about noon. Water was restored to most of the city by about 9 a.m. However some residents near the leak, didn't have water until Friday.

An "unbearable" mess at the Angle

Baudette — Joanne Duvall, of the Northwest Angle Inlet spoke to the Lake of the Woods county board about a problem at the Angle solid waste transfer station. Mrs. Duvall, wife of the facility's operator and concerned citizen, reported that one or two residents are leaving garbage outside the station gates, or leave the gates unlocked.

The concern is that the garbage attracts bears who make a big mess of the facility. One day Mr. Duvall arrived at the station to find four bears in the garbage truck.

The county decided to send a letter to Angle residents, asking them to keep the gates locked and to be mindful of the facility's hour of operation.

Fighting the problem of Knapweed

Fertile — The Purple Spotted Knapweed is infesting millions of acres of land in the U.S., including some in the Fertile area, creating problems for landowners.

Herbicide control needs to be re-applied for several years because seeds can lay dormant for eight to 10 years. And since the weeds are on a rangeland of limited value, chemical control may not be economically feasible for some.

The USDA is working to reduce these problems by conducting a biological control program that involves importing the weeds' natural enemies, namely insects that feed only on knapweeds. The process takes time to be effective, but it does work.

Roland Gullekson and Wayne Goeken from the Agassiz Learning Center will be monitoring the area and will move the bugs to other places as necessary.

Creamery Picnic Day set July 30 at Old Mill Park

Recreating the creamery picnics of years ago, Old Mill State Park west of Newfolden will host a Creamery Picnic Day Sunday, July 30, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Vehicle permits are required for all vehicles entering the park. Co-sponsors of the event are the Marshall County Historical Society, Argyle Lions Club, Grove Valiants 4-H club, Red River Valley Fiddlers Association, American Dairy Association and friends and volunteers who support the park.

Anyone with a car, pickup, truck or motorcycle of 1970 or older vintage is invited to bring it for display on Auto Memory Lane. There will be reduced price daily vehicle permits for vehicles from 1970 and older.

Schedule of activities for the day includes the following.

9:30 a.m.—Big Pine Trees Trail Walk (one hour) will include viewing of pine trees planted by the Larson family more than a century ago as well as many species of wild flowers and fruiting shrubs now supporting ripe berries.

11 a.m.—Children's Leaf Prints session (one hour) will help children discover the different shapes of various plant leaves and make imprints to take home.

12 noon—Horseshoe tournament will begin (register before noon with the site director). Sand creation contest will begin on the beach with judging by crowd approval at 4 p.m.

12 noon to 5 p.m.—Chuck wagon will be provided by the Argyle Lions club. Grilled meat will be for sale in the beach area while supplies last.

2 p.m.—Virgil Benoit will portray pioneer French settler Antoine Gingras, courtesy of the North Dakota State Historical Society.

2:30 p.m.—Musical performance by the Red River Valley Fiddlers Association.

3 p.m.—Ice cream social will be held while supplies last under sponsorship of the Marshall County American Dairy Association.

4 p.m.—Sand creations judged at the beach.

"I Can Cope" series of classes to begin

"I Can Cope" program, a free, six-session educational series designed to help cancer patients deal with their disease, begins at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls on August 7 and continues from 4 to 6 p.m. each Monday and Thursday evening for three weeks, ending August 24.

Medical Center staff members Evadell Tangquist, RN, patient education coordinator, and Jone Poole, RN, chemotherapy nurse, will be co-facilitators for the sessions.

"I Can Cope" includes presentations and videos on the disease process, daily health problems, nutrition, expressing feelings, living with limitations and locating resources that can help.

Speakers will include nurses, physicians, a dietitian, social worker, occupational therapist and an attorney. The program is open to cancer patients, their families, friends and anyone interested in learning more about the disease.

Tangquist said "I Can Cope" is a proven educational program developed by the American Cancer Society and has been widely endorsed by health professionals. Graduates of the program have felt that they emerged with an improved life outlook, less anxiety and better knowledge of their disease, she said.

The program is co-sponsored by the Pennington county unit of the American Cancer Society and by Northwest Medical Center. Persons wishing to register or learn more about the program may contact Tangquist at 681-4240, extension 446, or Poole at extension 208.

Man hurt in Roseau mishap

Russell Kappes of Greenbush was struck by a car while walking along Highway 310 near the Roseau County Fairgrounds Wednesday evening.

According to a spokesperson for the Minnesota State Patrol, the accident was reported at 10:15 p.m. Kappes was walking on Highway 310 toward his vehicle when struck by a car traveling south and driven by Misty Gislason, Roseau. The spokesperson said there was heavy traffic at the time.

Agassiz refuge opens door to public Sunday

Headquarters office of Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge will be open to the public Sunday, July 23, from 1 to 7 p.m. and a program on endangered species will be presented at 3 p.m. by Gary Tischer, refuge operations specialist.

To provide additional wildlife viewing, weather permitting, the North Gate Road will also be open to auto travel. Two wildlife viewing blinds are available on the east side during the open house or can be reserved for any other day and time by calling the office.

"Anyone wanting to try to get a close-up view of gray wolves from these blinds can check out the wolf howling cassette tape and recorder," Tischer said.

The 1989 edition of the National Wildlife Federation's book titled America's Wildlife Hideaways features Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge as one of the best 50 locations to observe wildlife in the United States.

"Bring your binoculars to take a closer look at wildlife," Tischer suggested. "You can view both juvenile and adult birds and mammals of many species from your vehicle, by walking the quarter-mile long hiking trail, or by climbing the 100-foot tower. These wildlife viewing opportunities are part of the National Watchable Wildlife Program."

Many waterfowl species and songbirds, especially males, are molting at this time of year, making identification more challenging, Tischer noted.

"Let this be your invitation to take the challenge and an excuse for getting out of the house," he said.

Kathy Aune earns Cootie state awards

Kathy Aune

Kathy Aune of Thief River Falls received several state awards at the 61st Grand Scratch (convention) of the Military Order of the Cooties (MOC) and 29th MOC Auxiliary convention July 14-16 at Everett-McClay Post 1296 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Bloomington.

President of the local MOC auxiliary unit, Aune was presented with a President of the Year plaque and certificate and with certificates for special project support and hospital volunteer work.

Also attending from Must Itch Pup Tent 42 of Thief River Falls were Sean Squirrel Bob Burstad and his wife Lois, Seam Squirrel Durlyn Rux and his wife Linda and John Ellison, who was elected Grand Junior Vice Commander.

Cooties are the honor degree of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and include hospital visitation as one of their most important programs.

Tower repair closes park

Lion's park on Nora Street in Thief River Falls will be closed to public use for the next three to four weeks due to water tower repair and repainting.

NWRDC now conducts its business in Warren

Regional development commission maintains its programs in new facilities in new location

Rose Carriere, Aging Program Assistant, shares some ideas and proposals with her fellow staff members Danica Robson, Aging Program Director and NWRDC Executive Director, Leon Heath.

by Elizabeth Reishus
Northern Watch Reporter

How does the Minnesota Department of Transportation know what the people in northern Minnesota want? How do small towns get funds for their senior meals programs? And where can one find a directory of artists? Believe it or not the answer to all these questions can be found under one roof in Warren. The Northwest Regional Development Commission, which recently moved its office to Warren, deals with all of these areas in some way or another. NWRDC Executive Director Leon Heath explains that the NWRDC is an agency which assists local units of government and helps them to use state and federal resources.

The NWRDC was formed in 1969 after a study by the state of Minnesota which divided the state into 11 different regions based on economic structure. It's primary function is to help the local units of government develop and achieve their goals.

The council has five basic program areas which are: arts, aging, economic and community growth and transportation, and in recent years a new flood program has been developed. The arts council states their purpose is, "To promote, develop and encourage artistic growth and excellence of arts organizations and individuals in northwestern Minnesota by awarding funds and conducting programs and services." The agency on aging works to promote and support programs which help preserve the dignity and independence of older Americans. The economic and community development helps with grant writing, distributes loans to businesses which are creating jobs and focuses on other issues facing the region, such as the current housing shortage. The transportation planning works with local people and the Minnesota Department of Trans-portation to determine what is needed from the local stand point and what is feasible from the technical standpoint. The transportation committee also establishes priorities for spending federal money.

Another way NWRDC helps local governing units is by taking on projects for which the local governments may not have enough funding. For example, grant writing has become a complicated process. Heath explains that the complexities are needed to screen the various projects seeking funding. However, in the process the grant writing has become so complex that agencies usually need to hire a professional to deal with grants. Most agencies and local governing bodies cannot afford to hire a part-time or full-time grant writer, so NWRDC has people to help them with the process.

Another example of helping by taking on large projects is the Northwest Minnesota Visitor and Recreation Guide. The guide covers events and activities from St. Vincent to Roosevelt to Lengby to Parley and everything in between. For each community to develop their own visitor guide would be time consuming and expensive. Instead individual communities or counties can use the information they need from the guide.

One of the major projects over the last two years, has been internal, they moved their office. For the last nine years, the office has been located in Thief River Falls where it rented space from Arctco, Inc. However two years ago the NWRDC was notified that Arctco needed the space, so the search began for an alternative office space.

Since the commission is regional, proposals for the new space were accepted from all over the region.

"We talked with lots of people," said Heath.

In fact, the NWRDC received 17 proposals in all. Heath says there was a great deal of interest from the communities and agencies that benefit from the commission. Eventually the choices were narrowed down and Warren was selected. However, NWRDC had to stay in Thief River Falls another year while the new facility was

Port of Entry arrests

Lancaster — Court date was set for July 25 for two men charged with possession of drug paraphernalia.

On July 10 at 5:30 p.m. Kittson County Sheriff's office responded to the Lancaster Port of Entry to investigate a complaint. Michael Edward Donahue, 32, and David Allen Rebeck, 25, both of Minneapolis, were charged with possession of drug paraphernalia, a petty misdemeanor.

Three employees injured in fire

Bemidji — Three Georgia-Pacific Corp. employees and one firefighter were injured in a explosion and fire that occurred at the wood product plant early Thursday, July 13.

According to the plant manager, the supervisor on duty had ordered a production shut down because of the approaching storm. Employees were following procedures for a power outage when the explosion occurred in a tempering oven.

Two of the men were treated and released from the hospital, but the third was admitted in critical condition and listed in stable condition by that night. The injured firefighter was not hospitalized.

According to the Bemidji fire department the fire was probably the result of the power outage which caused a malfunction in the oven or drier.

Salem celebrates 100th anniversary

Oklee — The Salem Lutheran Church of rural Oklee celebrated its 100th anniversary on July 9. Over 300 people joined the celebration, including six former pastors.

Many shared their favorite memories with the parish, including Pastor Saethre, who accepted the job while he was living in England and had never even seen the church.

Other highlights included a performance by the Centennial Choir, reciting the Lord's Prayer in Norwegian and of course, great food.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LeCoursiere

Today let's have some cool, fruity salads that can be made with those fresh fruits available right now.

FRUIT SALAD

8 ounce container whipped topping
1 box instant vanilla pudding
1 large can crushed pineapple with juice

Mix together.

Strawberries, washed and sliced
Bananas
Blueberries
Crushed walnuts
Maraschino cherries

Mix whipped topping, pudding and pineapple.

In pretty bowl, layer strawberries, pudding mixture, bananas, pudding mixture, blueberries, pudding mixture, crushed walnuts. Top with cherries. (Berries can be fresh or frozen.)

Again, try as many fresh fruits as available in this yummy treat:

LIGHT FRUIT SALAD

1 (20 ounce) can pineapple chunks in juice
1 (11 ounce) can mandarin orange sections
2 banana, peeled and sliced
1 cup seedless green grapes
1 cups seedless red grapes
1 cup miniature marshmallows
1/2 cup cashew pieces
1 (8 ounce) carton lemon yogurt

Drain pineapple and oranges.

Combine all ingredients except yogurt and then fold in yogurt last. Chill.

MINTED COTTAGE CHEESE AND FRUIT

1 (16 ounce) container small curd creamed cottage cheese (2 cups)
1 tablespoon chopped fresh mint leaves
Lettuce leaves
1 cup blueberries, raspberries or blackberries
1 large peach or nectarine, sliced, or
1/2 pint medium strawberries (1 cup)
2 medium bananas, sliced
1/4 cup coarsely chopped salted or toasted nuts
Ginger-Honey Dressing

Ginger-Honey Dressing

1/4 cup vegetable oil
1/4 cup lime juice
1/4 cup honey
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger

Mix cottage cheese and mint. Divide lettuce among four salad plates and spoon cottage cheese mixture on each plate.

Arrange fruit over cottage cheese and sprinkle with nuts.

Serve with Ginger-Honey Dressing.

Another light salad that can be made with just about any ingredients you like:

FRESH FRUIT SALAD

1/2 cup blueberries (fresh or frozen)
1 medium nectarine, sliced
1 medium orange, peeled and sliced
1 kiwifruit, peeled and sliced

Poppy Seed Dressing

2 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon frozen limeade concentrate
1 tablespoon oil
1/4 teaspoon grated orange peel
1/8 teaspoon poppy seed
Dash of dry mustard

To make dressing, shake all ingredients in small jar with tight lid. Refrigerate until serving time.

Arrange salad ingredients on 4 individual plates. Serve with dressing.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew...saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Jacquelyn Wold completes six-month deployment

Navy Seaman Jacquelyn C. Wold, daughter of Sharon C. Murphy of Thief River Falls, recently completed a six-month overseas deployment aboard the destroyer tender USS Samuel Gompers which included duty in the Persian Gulf.

Wold is one of 1,448 men and women aboard the ship who completed the 23,000 mile voyage which began in later November.

Wold's ship served as a floating repair facility for forward deployed U.S. Navy surface ships. During the deployment, Wold and fellow crew members used a wide assortment of high-tech skills to repair electronic navigation and communications equipment, micro-computer parts, rebuild gas turbine engines, and install fiber optic cables. Wold's ship also is equipped with machine shops and a foundry for making parts. Machinist mates and machinery repairmen using lathes and boring machines milled parts to one one-thousandth of an inch.

Wold is a 1992 graduate of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

Carolyn Walrath takes part in Teen Achievers Program in St. Cloud

Carolyn Walrath, 14, daughter of Charles and Theresa Walrath of Thief River Falls, is participating in the 1995 Teen Achievers of Minnesota scholarship and leadership program July 21-23 at St. Cloud State University.

The three-day event is designed to recognize and reward excellence in today's teens as well as to develop and enhance social and leadership skills. The young man and woman selected as most outstanding will each be awarded a $2,500 educational savings bond and a trip to San Diego, CA in 1996 where they will receive additional recognition for their achievements.

Each participant will be scored by a panel of judges on scholastic accomplishment, personal development and overall personality. In addition, special awards will be presented for outstanding achievement in the areas of athletics, academics, fine arts, community service and student leadership and award winners for overall excellence in each age division from 13 to 18 will be selected.

Special guest speakers include Guy Doud, former Minnesota and National Teacher of the Year, and Janet Karvonen, award-winning athlete and television sports commentator. ComedySportz performance troupe from Minneapolis will also perform.

Carolyn Walrath

Finals will be Sunday, July 23 at 4:30 p.m. Special guests will include Ginger Waage of Eden Prairie, 1994 Miss Teen of Minnesota and Arnie Gish, LeCenter, 1994 Mr. Minnesota Teen.

Carolyn is being sponsored by American Legion Post 117; Eagles club, Grand Forks Herald; VFW Post 2793; Thomas P. Dimich, DDS; Sisters of St. Benedict; Norwest Bank, and several private sponsors.

Time is short to find homes for students

Foreign exchange students will be arriving in August for three, five or nine-month stays and many host families are still needed, according to Donna Nelson of rural Middle River, community coordinator for the International Education Forum.

Students from more than 30 countries are involved in the program. All speak English, are fully insured, have their own spending money and pay for their own school lunch, Mrs. Nelson said. Contact her for further information at 218-459-3329.

To attend MEA leadership meet in St. Joseph

Several educators from northwestern Minnesota will attend the Minnesota Education Association summer leadership conference July 31 to August 3 at the College of St. Benedict in St. Joseph.

Registered to attend are Deborah Carlson and Deb Perala, Lake of the Woods; Darlene Haave, Susan Moberg, Margaret Nelson, Sharon Nelson and William Sedgeman, Warren-Alvarado-Oslo; and Marlys Knutson, Warroad.

College and University Faculties Come Under Legislative Scrutiny

With the amalgamation of Minnesota's post high school education facilities (with the exception of the free-standing University of Minnesota) into one conglomerate educational warehouse, the Minnesota Legislature has inherited the problem of equalizing faculty work load and compensation. In the process, to its credit, the Legislature wants to get a handle on just what has been and is going on in academia so it can be more accountable to students and taxpayers.

The July 18 issue of Politics in Minnesota, a newsletter on Minnesota politics written by Wy Spano, D. J. Leary and Sarah Janecek, contained an interesting article on Minnesota's higher education system and the Legislature. It is reprinted in its entirety as follows:

Way back when, they used to tell a story at the State Capitol about two freshmen rural legislators facing a University of Minnesota hearing for the first time. The legislators had heard gentle whisperings that suggested the faculty didn't really work that hard. One finally got up the courage to ask at a hearing, "Tell me professor, how many hours do you teach?"

"I teach a 12-hour schedule," came the prompt reply.

"According to the story, the questioner then turned to his colleague and said, "Hell, Harry, that's not a bad day's work."

The story used to be told as a way to demonstrate that legislators from the boonies didn't really understand the sophisticated way of the U of M, that teaching 12 hours a week was a full load.

The laugh has now been turned around. Legislators from the city and the country are asking more and more pointed questions about faculty work loads. And the questions touch more than the University. They impact all of the higher education systems.

Traditionally, the U has had the biggest problem explaining faculty time. Research is supposed to be a major part of every U professor's activity, whatever the field. But legislators believe, perhaps mistakenly, that research doesn't provide direct services to undergrads. And the celebrated case where a professor had full-time jobs at both Minnesota and North Carolina sticks in the minds of legislators as an example of faculty not working hard enough.

The state universities have their own problems. Those institutions set the number of hours faculty have to teach by contract. In truth, what was formerly known as the State University System does everything by contract. Two educators with extensive national experience told us that Minnesota State Universities are number one in the nation in terms of union dominance. An example of where that dominance can lead: Administrators aren't allowed to meet with most employees without a union rep present. In Minnesota a college president can pick up a grievance for having faculty meetings!

Now there's a new set of concerns about cushy contract and lawsuit settlement deals that, lawmakers feel, are entered into without policy guidance and accountable oversight.

Governor Arne Carlson has sensed some of that legislative and taxpayer anger, as evidenced by his public shaming of the University of Minnesota in the matter of University Women's Athletic Director Chris Voelz. The University's Board of Regents may have added to its problems at the Capitol when it sent the governor a none too subtle "keep your nose out of our internal affairs" message on Friday by extending to University President Nils Hasselmo a new two-year contract.

In the higher education bill that passed the 1995 session, lawmakers established a number of new requirements that will have to be looked at more closely before the next series of faculty contract negotiations are completed. Lawmakers called for the higher ed systems to write a report outlining the plans for sabbatical leave for faculty and an indication of the results and benefits such leave provides the taxpayers. They also want a clearer definition of the work week of all faculty members, indicating how much time is spent in the classroom and how much on research. Legislators are calling for a complete reassessment of the layoff policies in higher education.

Finally, the new legislation specifically calls for a change in the next labor contract with the faculty unions in the newly-merged Minnesota State Colleges and Universities so that administrators can meet with faculty without the current restrictions now in force.

Kidney Foundation Can Use A Little Help

Kidney Foundation of Thief River Falls is once again conducting its annual fund campaign to support its work with kidney patients in the northwestern Minnesota area. It could use a little help in that effort.

A number of years ago the Foundation formed on an independent basis because direct assistance to kidney patients wasn't available from state or national organizations. It raised its funds with a community auction that included new and used items donated by business places or individuals.

A few years ago the auction was discontinued for a number of reasons, including the loss of members who had spent a great deal of time arranging for the auction and collecting items. In its place a raffle and request for donations have been instituted. The need for funds continues and response has generally been sufficient to carry on a limited program of support.

At the present time the Foundation provides assistance for seven area people to travel to Grand Forks, ND, for dialysis treatments and other expenses connected with kidney disease. These are direct expenditures which utilize virtually 100 per cent of the donations to help people in this immediate area.

If you or your business or organization has an interest in helping, send a check to Kidney Foundation of Thief River Falls, P.O. Box 222, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. If you would like more information, call Marilyn Winters at 681-7268. She will be glad to explain the organization and its work to you.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed! All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

District WMF holds retreat July 21 to 22

District WMF Retreat of the Northwest Minnesota AFLC is being held July 21-22 at Galilee Bible Camp. Helene McCauley will be the speaker and Bible Study leader.

Registration began Friday evening followed by a potluck salad supper. Sessions on Saturday morning begin at 9 a.m. and end with a noon luncheon.

Galilee bible Camp is located about two miles east of Lake Bronson. The camp is in the state park, but a park sticker isn't required to attend camp if you notify park officials.

For additional information call Marge Olson (218) 523-3913 or Sue Bjorgaard (218) 437-8261.

Sawdust Dayz at Shevlin this weekend

Eighth annual Sawdust Dayz at Shevlin Saturday and Sunday, July 22 and 23, will include the Minnesota State Logging Championships on Sunday.

Events include volleyball and horseshoe tournaments, relay games, parade, bed races, amateur logging competition, nickel pick (youngsters can sift through a pile of sawdust for $200 in nickels), dance and other events.

At the championships Sunday, lumberjacks from across the country will compete in bow saw, standing block chop, springboard chop, Jack 'n' Jill crosscut and other events.

For further information call 218-785-2458.

Full rodeo set July 28-29 in Detroit Lakes

What had been the Guts N' Glory bull ride in Detroit Lakes will become a full six-event PRCA rodeo July 28 and 29 at the Becker county fairgrounds. Performances will be at 7 p.m. both days.

In addition to bareback and saddle bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, barrel racing and bull riding, the rodeo will include funnyman Flint Rasmussen of Havre, MT, announcer Wayne Wise of Loveland, CO, sheep riding, calf scramble and a wild horse race.

Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association members participating in all events will earn points toward the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas, NV, in December.

Kids night will be Friday, July 28, when all children 11 years of age and younger are admitted for $3 and receive a free cowboy hat (while supplies last). Tickets are available in advance from RCC Western Stores, the Detroit Lakes Chamber of Commerce or by calling 1-800-565-3521.

The rodeo is being produced by Jokela ProWest which also produces the TRF Stampede, Hibbing World Classic and Headwaters Rodeo and Bullride in Park Rapids.

Argyle boy in critical condition after ATV accident

Thirteen-year-old David Gene Haugen of Argyle is in critical condition at United Hospital in Grand Forks following an ATV accident Sunday morning in Marshall County.

According to an accident report, Haugen was riding his three-wheeler 1.5 miles east of Argyle when the vehicle rolled over. Haugen hit his head and sustained a severe head injury. The accident was reported at 8:06 a.m. Sunday and Argyle First Responders, the Warren Ambulance and Marshall County deputies all responded. Haugen was taken to United Hospital in Grand Forks where he is listed in critical condition.

Haugen is the son of Merlin and Pauline Haugen of Argyle. The accident is still under investigation.

A delayed steal attempt by Thief River Falls Thieves runner Steve Burslie was turned into an out when Crookston Reds third baseman Wade Demarais applied the tag after receiving the throw from catcher Nate Ellingsen during the first game of Thursday's amateur baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field. The Reds won a 2-0 extra-inning first game before the Thieves romped to a 20-3 win in the nightcap. The Thieves took a 7-4 record into a scheduled Friday doubleheader against Roseau. They finish the 1995 regular season schedule with a 6:30 p.m. doubleheader at Roseau Tuesday and a single 7:30 p.m. nine-inning home game against Grand Forks Gorrell's Wednesday at Irv Wilson Field.

Seniors spark Post 117 wins

Three seniors on the 1995 Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team – Eric Bjorgaard, Chris Vanyo and Adam Henney – all had a hand in a 2-1, 6-0 sweep over East Grand Forks Wednesday in their final appearances at Irv Wilson Field.

The hard-throwing Bjorgaard, whose pitching innings have been limited mostly to short relief appearances because of arm trouble, turned in a route-going two-hit shutout in the second game. Vanyo also had a complete game pitching effort, scattering six hits in the opener that ended when Henney reached base with two out in the bottom of the seventh and eventually scored on a balk. Henney also preserved a 1-1 tie by throwing out a runner at third from left field in the fifth.

Results likely gave Thief River Falls the No. 6 seed over No. 7 East Grand Forks in the seven-team, double-elimination Ninth District tournament in Roseau Aug. 2-5. Post 117 went to 8-20 with the wins. East Grand Forks fell to 11-27.

Thief River Falls picked up just two hits in the opener – fourth inning singles by Trevor Magner and Ryan Bendickson. Magner's one-out drive to left-center scored Chane Keefe, who was hit by a pitch to open the inning.

East Grand Forks tied it with four consecutive two-out singles in the fifth. The RBI went to Casey Crews, the No. 9 hitter, but the inning ended on Henney's throw to the plate to nail Rudy Rivera, who tried to score from second on a single down the line by Luke Fore.

Henney, hitting No. 9 in the Thief River Falls order, wound up being the winning run when his two-out infield ground ball was mis-played for an error. East Grand Forks left-hander Eric Anderson then caught Henney on a pick-off at first, but the runner broke for second on the throw and managed to slide under the tag on a close play that the visitors argued should have been the third out.

Breaks continued to go in Thief River Falls' favor when Henney advanced to third on a pitch in the dirt that created a full count for Vanyo, the lead-off hitter.

The pay-off pitch never arrived. East Grand Forks tried the hidden ball trick at third following a throw on the wild pitch. But Anderson went to the pitching rubber without the ball, creating the balk and allowing Henney to trot home with the winning run.

"If you're going to run the trick play, you better run it right," said Thief River Falls coach Terry Wiseth. "We didn't play particularly well, but we'll take the win."

Bjorgaard struck out seven in Game 2 that featured a two-run fourth inning double by Chris Efta.

"Eric maybe didn't have his best stuff, but he threw hard," noted Wiseth.

Post 117 will close out regular season play Friday with a pair of games at Detroit Lakes.

"We're a better team now than we were at the beginning of the year," explained Wiseth, who looks for Moorhead, Roseau, Fergus Falls, Detroit Lakes, and Crookston to wage a competitive battle for the state tournament-qualifying Ninth District title. Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks trail the field, but Wiseth noted that Post 117 has played Moorhead, Roseau and Crookston on near-even terms this summer and could pull off a surprise or two in post-season play. "We know that if we play defense and pitch well, we can beat some people. We'll steal a run here and there when the situation presents itself."

Like on a balk in the bottom of the seventh.

Crookston pitchers key sweep over TRF Legion

Crookston pitchers Shawn Corben and Chris Bruggeman took the bats out of the hands of the Thief River Falls hitters Monday en route to a 5-0, 14-3 American Legion baseball doubleheader sweep.

A schedule change moved the games from Crookston to Thief River Falls, but left Crookston as the home team. The site mattered little as Corben put together a four-hit shutout in the opener and Bruggeman struck out 13 in a five-inning one-hit nightcap.

Bruggeman helped his own cause with a second-game grand slam home run.

The sweep extended an eight-game winning streak for Crookston and squared the season series between the two teams.

Women's Softball

Best Western Inn Ridgerunners moved atop the Division I standings Wednesday with two wins in the Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League.

The Ridgerunners began the night with a forfeit decision over Sather Law Office, then knocked off previous Division I leader B&E/Terrys 10-1 as Patti Peterson and Shannon Olson both went 3-for-4 and Andy Nelson finished 2-for-4.

Pizza Hut/Amoco 24 also beat B&E/Terrys 5-4 on a 3-for-3 game by Brenda Kasprick and 2-for-3 efforts by Steph Pederson, Jamie Fennite, Arlen Walseth, and Alice Dahl.

The Swingers handled Digi-Key 22-1 and stopped Best Western Inn 14-1. Nikki McMillin was 3-for-4 and Terri George homered in the opener. George, Kerri Walton and Diane Walton were all 3-for-3 in the second game.

Sheila Hanson had a grand slam home run, Colleen Rook was 5-for-5, Lisa Nelson 4-for-5 and Karen Schmitz 3-for-4 as the Musherettes defeated Best Western Inn 21-9.

The Musherettes also beat Digi-Key 21-1 as Rook, Nelson and Dee Thompson all collected four hits, while Hanson and Shannon Wagner both had three. Thompson homered.

TRF A.D. finalists listed

A list of six finalists were named for the position of School District 564 Activities Director in Thief River Falls, a post vacated earlier this summer when Lee Alger stepped down to accept the job of athletic director and community education director in Hudson, Wisconsin.

List of finalists included current Lincoln High School head football coach Jeff Mumm, current University of Minnesota-Crookston head football coach and former Lincoln coach Jim Sims, and Dennis Dinius of Langdon, North Dakota, who coached previously at Marshall County Central in Newfolden.

Others selected for the interview process, which was scheduled to be held Friday, were David Cherry, Ellis, Kansas; Craig Christensen, Sturgis, South Dakota; and James Nunn, Edina.

East Grand Forks catcher Kevin Johnson tagged out Thief River Falls runner Eric Bjorgaard to end a fourth inning run-down after Johnson picked Bjorgaard off third base in the first game of an American Legion baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

TRF VFW splits at EGF

Regular season play ends with a pair of home doubleheaders for the Thief River Falls VFW baseball team as the 16-year-olds host Fergus Falls today (Saturday) at 2 p.m. and take on Perham Monday at 4 p.m. at Irv Wilson Field.

District tournament play will take place July 28-30 at Fergus Falls.

Wednesday, four-run innings spelled the difference for both teams as Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks split a doubleheader. Host East Grand Forks scored four times in the first inning and went on to win Game 1 by a 6-1 margin. Thief River Falls came back to score four runs in the top of the eighth on four walks and a suicide bunt to pull out a 6-2 decision in Game 2.
